

Carroll. After the regular routine of business the afternoon was spent socially, interspersed with the serving of light refreshments to about sixty guests.

Mrs. A. J. Gillette was hostess to the teachers of the Geary school, Mrs. Geo. Smith and Miss Ina Watkins last Wednesday evening. The guests this week. The afternoon was pleasantly spent with cards in which Mrs. Tom Lacey carried off the honors. Luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. M. C. Harris, Mrs. P. E. Snodgrass and Mrs. Hughes. Besides the club members Mrs. G. R. Chrisman, Mrs. M. C. Harris, Mrs. I. T. Nicklin, Mrs. Elizabeth Stone (Portland), Mrs. R. O. Brady (Cres-meeting at the home of Mrs. J. B. Willoughby this afternoon. After the regular business had been dispensed with, the afternoon was spent socially. Mrs. Wm. Preston assisted the hostess in serving lunch. The guests of the club were Mrs. Cloran, Elizabeth Stone (Portland), and Miss Emma Wold.

One of the most enjoyable affairs of the week was the afternoon given by Mrs. W. W. Calkins Friday. The afternoon was devoted to needlework. Mrs. Calkins was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Hard. The dining room was beautifully decorated and the place cards were unique and original. During the luncheon, which was served by Miss Jeanette Calkins and Miss Henrika Hartog, the ladies were entertained with a menu of guesting content. Mrs. Calkins' guests were: Mesdames Bogart, Titus, Snodgrass, Hoffmann, Hard, Griggs, Woodruff, Tracie, Baker (Tillamook), Buoy, Stone (Portland), Tidball and Lischen Miller.

The Alpha Club spent a pleasant afternoon with Mrs. S. P. Sladden last Thursday. The pastime was whist, in which Mrs. Romeo Gilbert secured the highest number of points and was awarded first prize. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess. The invited guests were: Mesdames C. E. Loomis, Romeo Gilbert, W. C. Barbour, S. D. Read, W. F. Osburn, Idaho Campbell and Lulu Tollman.

One of the most delightful meetings of the Thimble Club was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Hampton last Thursday. The afternoon was pleasantly spent with needlework, conversation and the election of officers, after which the hostess served an elaborate luncheon, assisted by Mrs. Hugh Hampton and Mrs. Wm. Branstetter. Mrs. Hampton's guests were Mrs. Nettie, Mrs. Charles Westler, Mrs. Hugh Hampton and Miss Scott (Pennsylvania). The club meets again in two weeks with Mrs. J. W. Kays.

On last Saturday evening the Misses Alice and Bertha Abel pleasantly entertained a few of their friends at their home on West Fourth street. Those who enjoyed their hospitality were Mrs. S. D. Read, Mrs. Barker, Mrs. Thral, the Misses Elma Devlin, Fanny Zeltler, Belle Keeney, Mae Kinsey, Mabel Simmons, Nettie Kress and Fannie Millean.

Bingham-Hendershott
The prettiest wedding of the season occurred Wednesday afternoon when Benjamin Bingham and Miss Ida Hendershott took upon themselves the vows that made them one. The bride, who is a beautiful, charming and popular girl, well-known in Eugene, is a daughter of Mrs. Hannah Hendershott, and the groom, a young business man of Eugene, is the son of Senator and Mrs. I. H. Bingham. The ceremony took place in St. Mary's Episcopal church, the pastor, Rev. P. R. Hammond, officiating. The church, which was filled with about two hundred guests, was beautifully decorated with roses, ferns and palms. Fully five thousand roses must have been culled to grace the occasion. On each side of the centre aisle, leading to the altar, were clusters of white roses at a low, and white ribbon streamers enclosed the aisle. The chancel, altar and windows were banked with roses, which diffused an exquisite fragrance. The whole effect was extremely beautiful. Preceding the entrance of the bridal party a hymn was sung by the choir. Then, to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, the bridal procession moved up the aisle, led by the ushers, Mr. Leland Hurd and Mr. Ho Smith. Then came the dainty little Norma Neely in a white silk gown, all ruffles and lace, bearing the ring on a white satin pillow; then the two flower girls, Bessie Hendershott and Grace Bingham, gowned daintily in white organdie and lace and bearing baskets of LaFrance roses. Then came the bridesmaids, Misses Ella and Emo Hendershott, who wore gowns of palest violet silk organdie with hats to match. They carried arm bouquets of white roses. Next came the maid of honor, Miss Mary Barker, who was lovely in white embroidered organdie, and who carried Bridesmaid roses. Then the bride, on the arm of her brother, Orlo Hendershott, who gave her away. Her gown was an exquisite creation of white messaline silk with lace. Her tulle veil was fastened with orange blossoms, and she carried an arm bouquet of bride roses. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Frederick DeNeffe. During the beautiful and impressive ceremony the strains of "O Promise Me" were softly rendered by Arthur Hendershott and Miss Patterson. After the ceremony the flower girls led the way, strewing roses in the pathway of the bride and groom to the door of the church, where the newly wedded couple entered their carriage and were whisked away to the home of the bride's mother on Madison street, where the reception was held. On the broad veranda the newly-made husband and wife received the congratulations and good wishes of a large concourse of people. In one corner of the veranda, in a bower of vines and LaFrance roses, was the punch bowl, over which Geo. McMorran and Miss Netta Kress presided with their usual grace. In the dining room, which was artistically decorated with red roses and white lilies and carnations, Miss Millean and Miss Belle Keeney, gowned in white, served the guests with dainty refreshments. The two parlors were decorated in pink and white roses. Many guests received, testifying to the love and good will of numerous friends and acquaintances. As the bride ascended the stairs to change her bridal robes for her going-away gown, she threw her bouquet to a laughing bevy of girls. It was caught by Miss Agnes Mathews, a token that she will be the next to assume the nuptial noose. The bride and groom were accompanied to the train by a large number of their friends, where they met with the usual shower of rice. They left for points in British Columbia for a three weeks' wedding

SEATH SKIRTS THAT SHOCKED PARIS.

Three young women wearing the latest creations of a well known Paris dressmaker caused consternation at Longchamps recently by the conspicuous directoire cut of their costumes. A crowd followed them about and murmurs were issued for them to appear before the correctional court for disturbing the peace. These sumptuous were withdrawn, however. The appearance of these costumes marks the return of at all events a section of fashionable Paris to dresses made more or less on the model of those worn by the merveilleuses. The costume fits the figure very closely, and in some cases the skirt is slit up one side.

SNAPSHOT OF HELEN GOULD.

This picture of Miss Helen Gould was taken recently when she was attending an outing with several children near her country home. It probably is the best likeness of her that has been made in recent years. Miss Gould annually contributes many thousands of dollars to charities of various kinds and many more thousands to furthering the influence of the Y. M. C. A. in America and the Philippines.

were favored with vocal and instrumental music by Miss Mary and Alfred Gillette during the evening. Light refreshments were served.

The Thursday Afternoon Whist Club met with Mrs. Lawrence Harris well), Mrs. Charles Hardy, Mrs. Baker (Tillamook), Mrs. L. M. Travis, Mrs. F. L. Chambers, Mrs. C. A. Burden, Mrs. Styles (Boston), and Mrs. J. F. Robinson were invited.

The W. R. P. L. had its regular

(The telephone number of The Guard's society editor is Black 5041.)

This week has been a busy one in Eugene's social world. Perhaps the most brilliant affair was the Bingham-Hendershott wedding last Wednesday. The numerous clubs have shown their hospitality to society matrons the past week, while the high school commencement has attracted its full share of attention. Last Sunday evening Prof. F. S. Dunn delivered the baccalaureate sermon before the graduating class at the Christian church. Tuesday afternoon the class picnic was held on the banks of the McKenzie. Miss Chase, Miss Denmore and Miss Wold acted as chaperones. On Wednesday evening the junior class gave an elaborate banquet at the Theatre Cafe, in honor of the graduating class. The toastmasters of the occasion were Mr. Alderman, Mr. Hug, Robert Kuykendall, Lucia Campbell and Miss Wold. On Thursday evening the senior play, "Match Box," was given. The characters were all well sustained, especially Bertie Ruth, Pearl Sweet and Clara Sweeney. Friday evening the graduating exercises were held in the theatre. This evening the week's festivities will close with the annual alumni party at the armory.

The Wednesday Afternoon Whist Club met with Mrs. J. B. Willoughby Wednesday evening. The evening was largely devoted to whist, after which Mrs. Wm. Preston assisted the hostess in serving refreshments. Mrs. Willoughby's guests were: Mesdames Bristow, Chessman, Young, Williams, Alexander, and Miss Nellie Loomis.

Mrs. Bert Vincent was hostess to the Priscilla Club this week. After several hours of needle work and conversation the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Scherwing and Mrs. Peter, served delicious refreshments. Those invited were Mrs. Ed Hampton, Mrs. J. W. Holmes, Mrs. John Patterson, Mrs. Gross and Mrs. Dunstan.

Mrs. Carroll, Mrs. Miln and Mrs. Hamilton were hostesses to the Ladies Aid Society of the M. E. church church this week at the home of Mrs.

Thinks It Saved His Life.

Leiter M. Nelson, of Naples, Maine, says in a recent letter: "I have used Dr. King's New Discovery for years for coughs and colds, and I think it saved my life. I have found it a reliable remedy for throat and lung troubles, and would not be without a bottle than I would be without food." For nearly forty years New Discovery has been at the head of throat and lung remedies, a preventative of pneumonia and a healer of weak lungs it has no equal. Sold under guarantee at W. A. Kuykendall's drug store, 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

IF YOU KNEW

The merits of the Texas Wonder you would never suffer from kidney, bladder or rheumatic trouble. $1 a bottle (two months' treatment) sold by O. J. Hull, or by mail. Send for testimonials. Dr. E. W. Hall, 2926 Olive street, St. Louis.

Table salt, 50c sack. MOON & TINGLEY.

A Car Load of Gas Ranges Just Arrived!

Will Be Sold and Connected at Cost

We want the women who think a gas Range is a pretty good thing but cannot be used for all cooking purposes to consider this fact:

A Gas Range

will do anything a coal Range will do, and some things better. You can prepare a full course dinner or make a cup of tea or toast in a minute; with no dish or ashes, to bother with.

Call and see the full line of gas Stoves on display at our office, or phone and our representative will call on you.

Remember our prices include all piping necessary. Ranges sold at absolute cost with no idea of profit.

Our... Water Heaters are fully guaranteed; will heat a 30 gallon tank in 30 minutes, enough for a bath in seven minutes.

No Range Connected Free after August 1st

COOK WITH GAS

Lady demonstrator will teach you how to use a Range after it is connected, if desired.

Don't wait until tomorrow but call today and have your Range in use before the rush.

644 Wilamette St.

WILLAMETTE VALLEY CO.

Phone Main 28