SOLDIERS MUST ASK FOR MEDALS

ALL CUBAN AND PHILLIPINE VETERANS ARE ENTITLED TO NEW BRONZE MEDALS.

A great many inquiries have been made by senators and representatives by soldiers who served in the Phillipines, as to the cause of delay in delivering the bronze medals which were authorized by act of June 26, 1901. Investigation at the war department discloses the fact that these medals are ready for distribution, but are sent out only upon the application of the soldier. They are distributed by the Quarter-master General United States Army, and applications addressed to him at Washington will be promptly honored.

The act authorizing the issuance of these medals porvided for striking off such medals of bronze, bearing suitable device, "to each of the several officers and enlisted men, and families of such as may be dead; who, having volunteered and enlisted under the calls of the president for the war with Spain, served beyond the term of their inlistment to help suppress the Phillipine insurrection, and who subsequently received an honorable discharge from the United States army, or who died prior to such discharge."

Those regiments from Oregon, Washington and other western states which served in the Phillipines after the close of the Spanish war are entitled to these medals, and application from individual soldiers, with a statement of service coming within the scope of the law, will bring forth medals from the Quarter-master-General's office.

JONATHAN BOURNE GIVES UP FIGHT

Chicago, June 13.—Finally abandoning all hope of Roosevelt's nomination, Senator Jonathan Bourne will sail for Europe Wednesday. He did not even come to Chicago.

Jonathan Bourne, Oregon's junior senator, has thrown up the sponge, abandoning his second elective term propoganda, forsaken Roosevelt, and on Wednesday will sail for Europe to forget his chagrin in the wonders of the old world. The Chicago convention holds no hope for him, and he is off to recuperate.

Word has been received in Portland from Portland people no win the East, telling the story of the senator's loss of hope and his prospective departure for Europe. So absolutely has any hope of success for the second elective term idea deserted Senator Bourne that he did not journey to Chicago, nor will he before he sets sail on Wednesday.

HARRISBURG BOY HURT IN RUNAWAY

Harrisburg, June 13.—A son of J. Star, residing on the west side of the Willamette, near the city, in a mixup with a bunch grass horse yesterday, was thrown from his buggy. He received a severe wound on the side of his face which rendered him unconscious, and at this writing he is still unable to tell the story of his trouble. The horse, in its wild flight, came to the river at the ferry landing plunged into the water and drowned before any one could reach him.

Everybody in Eugene and Lane county should patronize home industry. Lounges, couches and mattresses are now made in Eugene by expert mattress and couch makers. Every dollar spent in Eugene for this labor in making this product returns to the merchant, farmer and mechanic. If sent to Portland this money is taken out of our vicinity. See made-in-Eugene couches and see that they are made in Eugene. Campbell-Fellman Company have a large stock of these mattresses and couches in stock for your inspection.

Saturday's baseball scores: Portland, 6; Oakland, 7. San Francisco, 2; Los Angeles, 1. Sunday's scores: Portland, 2; Oakland, 2. San Francisco, 5-1; Los Angeles, 1-2. This puts Portland at the top of the percentage column. The standing of the teams now is as follows: Portland, .544; Los Angeles, .535; San Francisco, .470; Oakland, .446.

For ice savers and the only sanitary refrigerators made, the White Frost has no competition. This refrigerator is made of steel, tubular in construction, shelves turn so every dish can be handled without reaching over another dish, does not warp like the wooden kind. Campbell-Fellman Company, the house furnishers, are exclusive agents for these refrigerators.

A CASE OF RAPID PROMOTION.

When Alexis Niederhoff was drafted into the Russian army there was great weeping and wailing on the part of two families, his own and that of his betrothed, Olga Sanin. This was during the reign of Peter the Great, who was at the time going to war, and the young conscript was not likely to return.

"Well," said Alexis as he bade them goodby, "anyway, I will make a soldier of myself. If I am told to march up to certain death I will go. If the officers tell me to do things, no matter how absurd, I will do them. I have no desire to live now that I am separated from home and Olga, and I care not how soon I am killed."

Alexis went off to a barracks to be turned into a soldier. His commanding officer had no need to lecture him as to the importance of obedience, for Alexis' determination to make a military machine of himself only grew stronger with his absence from home. When he had been drilled till he could march by the flank or wheel or double quick as if worked by springs, instead of being sent to the front to be shot he was sent with his regiment to do guard duty at the czar's palace.

One day Alexis was stationed inside the palace with a beat past a door which he was told to guard.

"In there," said his captain, "is his majesty the emperor. Do not permit any one to enter."

"Not any one?"

"That is the order. See that it is obeyed."

The officer had scarcely left when Prince Menschikoff, the czar's favorite minister, came up and made straight for the door of the czar's apartment.

"You can't go in there!" shouted Alexis, placing himself in the minister's way.

"You fool! I am allowed free access to his majesty at all times."

"That makes no difference to me since I have been instructed to let no one pass."

"You impudent hound!" exclaimed Menschikoff. "Ill teach you respect for your betters." And, raising his cane, he brought it down on the soldier's shoulders.

Thwack, thwack, thwack, thwack!

Suddenly the door opened, and there stood the czar. His minister was belaboring his guard, who received the blows bolt upright with his musket at "present."

"What's this?" asked the czar.

"This fellow denies me admittance to your majesty's presence," said Menschikoff.

The czar looked at the soldier, who did not open his mouth, still standing with his musket at "present."

"Well, come in," said the czar. Menschikoff entered, and the two were engaged for an hour upon business of state. When the minister made his exit Alexis had been relieved and another man put in his place.

That evening shortly before the lights were put out at the barracks Alexis received a summons to the palace. He felt sure that the minister had received from the czar permission to inflict upon him some terrible punishment. Indeed, he expected to be reprimanded, then taken out and shot.

"It doesn't matter," he said. "They have insisted on making a soldier of me against my will, and I am a soldier. What is a soldier for but to die?"

When he reached the palace he was taken into a large room, at one end of which he saw Menschikoff and the czar talking together. Peter held in his hand a cane, which he gave to Alexis when he came up and, pointing to the minister, said:

"This man struck you this morning; return the blow with my stick."

Menschikoff was astonished. "Does your majesty mean that? Surely you don't intend that a private soldier shall strike your minister?"

"That would not be right, I admit," said Peter. "I therefore make him a captain."

"But I am an officer in your majesty's household."

"I make him a colonel of my life guards and an officer of my household."

"But I am a general."

"And so is he. I appoint him to that rank. You see I will not permit you to be struck by one of inferior rank."

That ended Menschikoff's protests, for there was nothing more to say. The czar motioned Alexis to begin, and the newly made general laid on the stick till the czar, who was greatly amused, signaled him to desist. Then Alexis was dismissed, and the officer who had brought him was instructed to see that he was lodged for the night at the palace in a manner becoming his station.

The next day Alexis was officially notified of his appointment to the various offices named by the czar. He was most anxious to go home and acquaint Olga with the good news, so he applied for a leave. It was at once granted, and as soon as he could get fitted with a general's uniform he started for home. When Olga saw him coming all bespangled with gold lace she thought that he had been killed in battle and this was his wraith coming to mock her, so she straightway swooned. When she came to her lover was bending over her, looking into her blue eyes with his own of the same heavenly hue.

There was great rejoicing in the families that had been so cast down by the conscription, and when Alexis went back to the capital to fill his various positions he took Olga with him.

How he managed to perform the duties of these positions has not been handed down to us, but we know that he and his wife founded a family that took high rank in Russian affairs.

Summons.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for the County of Lane . .
Edna M. Gardner, plaintiff, vs. Burton Gardner, defendant.
To Burton Gardner, the above named defendant:

In the name of the State of Oregon: You are hereby summoned and required to appear and answer the complaint of the above named plaintiff in the above entitled court, now on file with the clerk of said court, on or before the 11th day of July, 1908, and you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint as hereby required the plaintiff will ask said court for the relief demanded in said complaint so filed with the clerk of said court, to-wit:

For the dissolution of the marriage contract now existing between plaintiff and defendant and for the care and custody of the minor child of plaintiff and defendant, Lyndel Fay Gardner, and for full relief herein.

This summons is served upon you by order of Hon. L. T. Harris, judge of the above entitled court, duly made at chambers in Eugene, Oregon, on the 21st day of May, 1908, requiring the first publication hereof to be made on the 23rd day of May, 1908, and the last publication thereof on the 11th day of July, 1908, and that you appear on or before the 11th day of July, 1908.
