Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood. It need be considered that only and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work. Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmier's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmier's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases, and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of Swamp-Root, by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmier, 215 Broadway, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmier's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

OSTEOPATHS DESERVE CONFIDENCE

Make Certain That Your Doctor is A Real Osteopath, Holding the Diploma of a Reputable Osteopathic College and a License to Practice in Your State, and Then Go Ahead.—Results Prove the Worth of the Treatment.

The sufferer who contemplates taking Osteopathic treatment should begin by making sure that the physician, in whose hands he places his case, is a real Osteopath; for unfortunately, there are rank pretenders who have no knowledge of the science worthy of consideration. In most cases these are men who have never had any training at all worthy of the name. But here and there is also found an old school physician who, without ever having been within the portals of an Osteopathic college at all, pretends to a knowledge of the subject which it has taken the real Osteopath three hard years of schooling and practice to master. It is gratifying to note that this latter is a rare exception, as most good medical men admit ignorance of the subject, and frequently send their patients to qualified Osteopaths when it seems advisable in their judgment to do so. Every patient should, to begin with, make certain that his Osteopath holds the diploma of a reputable Osteopathic college, and a license to practice in your state; and this, having been ascertained, treatment may be accepted with perfect confidence.

There is every reason in the world why the confidence of sufferers should be given to qualified Osteopaths without reserve. Osteopathy is no longer an experiment. It constitutes the regular means of treating disease that is in use by 4,000 physicians, practicing in all states and territories, in Great Britain, Hawaii, China and Japan. The course of training through which an Osteopath now has to pass before receiving his diploma is an arduous and extended one, covering three years' personal attendance with nine months' solid work in each year—a total expenditure of time and attention, fully equal to that required by the best medical colleges. The Osteopath is fully and thoroughly equipped in every study that is involved in healing work, with the single exception of materia medica, which he does not use at all. In anatomy he has a training that is not equalled by any other physician; and his special system of treatment, conforming, as it does, entirely to Nature's laws, simply endeavoring to help Nature with her work, is so simple, rational and manifestly incapable of harm in competent hands, that it should commend itself to all. It can only be added that the system has been recognized by legislative enactment in the great majority of the states of the Union, that it is proving itself anew every day, and that those who endorse it are those who have received the treatment and who know whereof they speak. A man or woman who suffers from bodily ailments has no occasion to despair if an Osteopathic doctor has not been consulted; for Osteopaths not only are scoring great successes with all kinds of curable diseases, but are even recording complete recoveries in cases described by other schools as incurable. Any good Osteopath will tell the patient exactly what he finds and give him a definite idea at once as to whether cure is possible or not.

Note.—The Osteopath mentioned below is thoroughly qualified in every respect.

LAKEVIEW HAS HOPES HARRIMAN WILL BUILD ROAD

Lakeview, Or., June 15.—At last it seems that Harriman's $100,000,000 bond issue will be applied in part toward a long-sought-for result from the considerable outlay of money made through Interior Oregon. A number of men are now doing cross-section work along the survey extending from the Oregon line south into California, and there is indication that grading will begin along the east side of Goose Lake Valley this summer. Between Alturas, in Northern California, and Lakeview in southern Oregon, the survey runs for about 45 miles along Goose Lake, on the eastern side of the valley. For a considerable part of this distance there is but one, good desirable right of way. The valley is very narrow along the lake, and the hills extend down very near to the natural hay or marsh land bordering on the lake. The road that first constructs along the east side will control the best grade into South Central Oregon.

May Mean Gould-Harriman War.
Lake County people rather expect to see a struggle for control of the most desirable right of way along the east side of the lake, and that this will result in early construction of the road is believed. Even though the Harriman interests should construct a short line down the lake, without immediately extending it to the main line in California, the branch line would make possible a connection with the Gould road, and the Lakeview people would reach the outside world without a long stage trip.

F. A. Worthington, of the Harriman offices in Portland, is in Lakeview now checking up at the United States Land office the lands crossed by the right-of-way survey made by Harriman during the past two years. Every indication is that at last Harriman actually contemplates opening this rich section that has been completely bottled for so long.

OBSTINATE ULCERS MAY LEAD TO CANCER

There is no difference, at first, in the appearance of a cancerous and a common ulcer, and for this reason every sore that is obstinate or slow in healing should excite suspicion, for the sore is nothing more than the external evidence of a polluted blood, and if allowed to remain may degenerate into Cancer. Efforts to heal the ulcer by means of salves, plasters and other external remedies always result in failure, because such treatment can have no possible effect on the blood, where the deadly germs and morbid matter form, and are carried through the circulation to the place. No sore or ulcer can exist without a predisposing internal cause, and the open, discharging ulcer or festering old sore will continue to eat deeper into the surrounding flesh as long as a polluted, germ-infected circulation discharges its impurities into it. S. S. S. goes to the fountain-head of the trouble, and drives out the germ-producing poisons and morbid impurities which keep the ulcer open. Then as this rich, purified blood goes to the diseased place the healing begins, all discharge ceases, the inflammation gradually leaves, new tissue and healthy flesh are formed, and soon the sore is permanently cured. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots and herbs of a healing, cleansing nature, and unlike mineral medicines, does not touch the delicate parts of the system. S. S. S. tones up every part of the body. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice desired free.
