GO AHEAD WITH PERMANENT WATER SURVEY

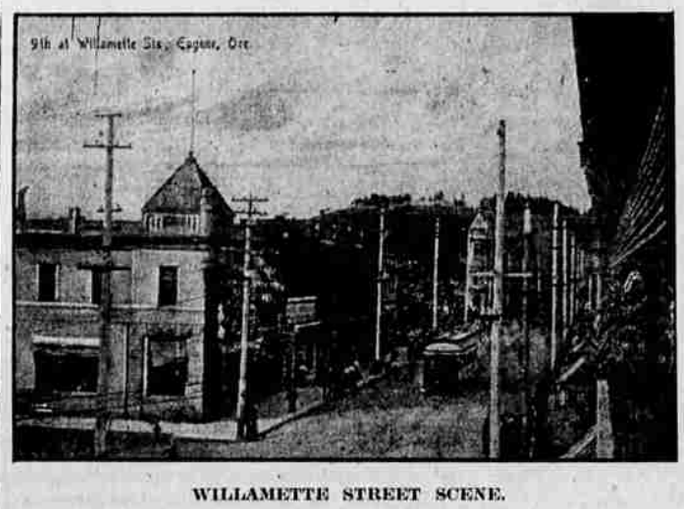
WORK ON EUGENE'S GRAVITY SYSTEM ORDERED BY CITY COUNCIL AT MEETING LAST EVENING — ENGINEER KELSEY'S REPORT ACCEPTED.

At the meeting of the city council in the committee of the whole last evening, Engineer F. C. Kelsey was authorized to go ahead with the permanent survey for the gravity water system from Ritchey creek to Eugene and he and his assistants will at once begin the work. Engineer Kelsey's report on the preliminary survey which was at first not entirely satisfactory to a majority of the councilmen, was fully explained by him last evening, resulting in its adoption and the action mentioned.

McArthur & McClain, the local engineering firm, which has previously been engaged to do a part of the work, will start out early next week.

Engineer Kelsey at the meeting last evening was awarded the full amount of his claim against the city for previous work done, the claim being in the hands of various committees for more than a year. The amount is $2250. It was also ordered that a warrant for $125 in favor of him and one for the same amount in favor of McArthur and McClain be drawn in payment for services in making the recent preliminary survey.

Engineer Kelsey, in his report, estimates the cost of the water system as follows: For laying the pipe line, a little over 23 miles, with 18 inch wire-wound wood pipe, $198-156.00; 20 inch wood pipe, $222,-716. For continuous wood, 18 inch pipe, $228,856; 20 inch pipe $247,-256. This does not include the services of engineer.



WILLAMETTE STREET SCENE.

EUGENE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

ROOSEVELT GIVEN A CURT REFUSAL.

Chicago, June 23.—A special dispatch from Boston to the Tribune says: Despite the appeals of President Roosevelt and Assistant Secretary of State Bacon, Fish and Morgan, the two crew men suspended for violating the rule against removing books from the Harvard reference library, will not be permitted to row in the Yale-Harvard race. President Roosevelt made a personal appeal to President Elliot by telegraph as soon as he heard of the suspension, but he met with a curt refusal from the Harvard executive to make any change in the ruling.

The full correspondence consists of two telegrams, one from the President to President Elliot, and the other an answer from President Elliot. President Roosevelt's telegram read:

"President Elliott, Cambridge —Is it not possible and would it not be more fitting and just to substitute another punishment for Fish and Morgan, if, as stated, they merely took away a book which they were permitted to use only in the library? It seems to us and we feel sure that it is unfair and unnecessary to make others suffer for an offense of this kind for which some other punishment might surely be found.

(Signed) "THEORORE ROOSEVELT, "ROBERT BACON."

President Eliot's reply was as follows:

"To President Roosevelt, White House, Washington—Each man did a dishonorable thing. One violated in his private interest and in a crooked way a rule made in the common interest, while the other gave a false name and did not take subsequent opportunity to give his own. The least possible punishment was putting them on probation but that drops them from the crews. A keen and sure sense of honor being the finest result of a college life, I think the college and graduates should condemn effectively dishonorable conduct. The college should also teach that one must never do scurvy things in the supposed interest or for the pleasure of others. (Signed.) "CHARLES W. ELIOT."

YALE DEFEATS HARVARD NINE.

New Haven, Conn., June 23.—As wild a scene of jubilation and as picturesque a mass of humanity as ever had a setting on a base ball diamond was that which the alumni of Yale University presented as a greeting to Secretary William H. Taft this afternoon, as he sat with the class of '78 in the stand on Yale Field, to see the annual game between the Blue and the Crimson.

His cup of happiness was filled to overflowing, for not only was the crowd a record breaker in his honor, and the classes the noisest ever known in their dances upon the green sward, but Yale whipped her rival by the score of 3 to 0, in a game which was full of better playing than either team has shown this season.
