

MEMBER 54TH CONGRESS U. S. Recommends Pe-ru-na.

Peruna Is A Healthful Tonic And Successful Catarrh Remedy.

HON. W. E. ANDREWS.

Nebraska has furnished to our National Congress some of the brightest minds that have ever adorned that great national legislature. Men of push and fire, of great oratorical and intellectual resources, men who have done much to shape the destinies of the great western section of our country.

Among these modern statesmen of that versatile, American type, is Hon. W. Andrews, of Hastings, Nebraska. Hon. Andrews was formerly Vice President Hastings College, and established an excellent record as a promulgator of public opinion before he became a member of Congress. Speaking of Peruna, he says:

"I cheerfully recommend the preparation, Peruna, as a healthful tonic and a successful remedy for catarrh in its various forms."--Hon. W. E. Andrews.

Thomas Cale, who was elected to Congress from Alaska, is well known to the Pacific slope, where he has resided. His Washington address is 1312 14th street, N. W., Washington, D. C. Congressman Cale writes of Peruna: "I can cheerfully recommend Peruna as a very efficient remedy for coughs and colds."

Some people prefer to take tablets rather than to take medicine in a fluid form. Such people can obtain Peruna tablets, which represent the medicinal ingredients of Peruna. Each tablet is equivalent to one average dose of Peruna.

Hon. C. Slomp, Congressman from Virginia, whose home address is Big Stone Gap, Va., writes: "I can cheerfully say that I have used your valuable remedy, Peruna, with beneficial results, and can unhesitatingly recommend your remedy to my friends as an invigorating tonic and an effective and permanent cure for catarrh."

Mr. Boss Craig, Fork Vale, Tenn., had catarrh of the head for two years and had abandoned all hope of being cured, but to his surprise Peruna cured him sound and well.

EXCURSIONISTS FROM PORTLAND EUGENE'S GUESTS

The need of irrigation in the valley, stating that there is too much water in the winter season and not enough in the dry season to produce the crops that the land is capable of producing should proper drainage and irrigation be employed. Mr. Paine then presented to General Manager O'Brien of the Harrington lines in the Northwest, the huge key, with which, after his death, he opened the improvised lock of the depot, and welcomed the guests to the improvements. Mr. O'Brien told of the visit of the delegates of Eugene business men to his office about a year ago, made for the purpose of asking for a new depot. He complimented them upon the business like manner in which they advocated for the improvements, and, no doubt, had a great deal to do with his immediate promise to build the depot as soon as it could be done. Mr. O'Brien then shouldered the key, which tumbled above his head, and admitted the public to the completed building.

formed on the train coming up from Portland and a song or two appropriate for the occasion had been composed. The first was to the tune of "Sailing, Sailing," and was as follows: Eugene! Eugene! From Portland town are we. We come to pay our homage. To our University-- Eugene! Eugene! Appropriation won. We're glad you say We carried the day. For the pride of Oregon! The other one was to the tune of "Hallelujah," and was as follows: A Lane County drink, we are willing to buy.

What is it they drink in a county "like a day" Hallelujah! We are thirsty! Hallelujah! We are thirsty! Hallelujah! We are ready To drink hereafter.

The "Ban" consisted of C. C. Chapman, W. G. Smith (leader), Howard Williams, A. C. Jackson, and W. J. Masters.

At the University. After the exercises were over, the members were escorted to the University where lunch was served on long tables beneath a wide canopy of canvas erected for the occasion. The members of the ladies' auxiliary of the Commercial Club had charge and were assisted by a large number of young ladies.

Immediately after the arrival of the guests they were seated around the dinner tables and Congressman W. C. Hawley addressed them expressing his pleasure at the improvement of Eugene and the University. The Vice-marshal chair favored the dinner with several select songs of their own composing after which the hungry visitors began to consume the first course of their dinner, continuing eating for an hour.

Wittenberg Talks. H. Wittenberg, a member of the school board in Portland said that he believed the University should receive twice as much as it will under the new law, and that Portland would vote for such an appropriation. Tom Richardson followed, telling how they had to put obstacles in the way of the people of Portland to keep more from coming on the excursion. If this had not been done, five thousand would have come to Eugene, he said.

Chamberlain Explains. Governor Chamberlain then made an explanation of how he came to veto the University bill through doing what he considered his simple duty. Moreover, he said he considered it a fortunate happening for the school, for now it undoubtedly was on a sound basis before the people.

State Senator Beach criticized the governor for his stand, saying that it was the only mistake he had ever made, and that for fear that he would know it, he wished to tell him so. He expressed the reasons why the state should by all means maintain such an institution, and said that an attempt would be made in the future to double the present appropriation.

Recent Friendly thanked Portland for its help in the recent crisis, and was followed by State Superintendent Ackerman, who pointed out that the only thorough aid to the public school system must come through the University from the top to the bottom.

C. N. McArthur, headed the committee to show the visitors the grounds. Nearly 200 people sat down at the tables. By the time
