

Work Is Now In Full Operation

We are going to make this week a still greater sale

After starting on our new stairway we find we are going to lose one-fourth of our shoe space, therefore we have got to move all our goods, as the interior will all be changed to a modern store. This remodeling will necessarily cause a little inconvenience to our customers, but we are prepared to handle the large crowds that are taking advantage of this sale. Come every day and watch us grow in business as well as improvements. Ask for what you want and cannot see, as we are unable to make a display owing to loss of space.

TEACHERS END WESTERN OREGON'S BIG CONVENTION

MOST SUCCESSFUL MEETING EVER HELD—TEACHERS LIKE THE PROGRAM—CUBBERLY SPEAKS AGAIN.

NELSON, OF UTAH, SAYS THAT SCHOOLS MUST BE MADE CARE FOR CLASS PROBLEM—ACKERMAN TELLS OF PROSPECTS IN OREGON—OTHER ADDRESSES.

The teachers' convention closed its annual session at four o'clock with an address by Albert B. Hart, of Harvard University, on the subject, "Application of American Biography to Teaching, as Illustrated by the Life of Abraham Lincoln." The convention has undoubtedly been the most successful ever held. As well as enjoying themselves, the teachers have constantly remarked at the practicalness of the discussions, and of the departmental work. For the latter, the University buildings have been of the most use.

This morning A. C. Nelson, state superintendent of public instruction of Utah, spoke on the subject, "Democracy in Education." He came to the conclusion that only through the schools can the great class problems, which seem to be arising in the United States, be cured. In the public schools all children come in contact with each other and have the same chance. And, therefore, because a child learns the feeling and ideas that govern his schoolmates, he is much better fitted to become a good citizen, than when taught by a private tutor.

Mr. Nelson also thought that it was a good sign when a child likes recess better than school hours, for it is in the recess period that the boy and girl learn to like his and her comrades and to know them. "If your boy comes home with his clothes soiled," he said, "it is a sign that he is becoming a true democrat."

Professor Cubberly of Stanford followed with an address on the vital subject of "Apportionment of School Funds." The conclusion had been reached in previous lectures that some form of a state tax is better than one in which a district or township is used as a unit. This morning he criticized the manner of apportionment by the Census method. He considered that the money should be given to districts according to their needs. The basis for the attack was made plain when he showed that in one district in Oregon, only $9 was received to pay one teacher, while in towns and cities often $150 for one teacher is received.

Professor Cubberly maintained that in every district, however few the pupils, the teacher should be equally as good. He said that every American child under the principles of our government, had the right to this privilege.

But in our country districts the case is far from such a state, for in outlying districts teachers sometimes are employed scarcely worthy of the name, though they may be of the hire, it is so small.

This afternoon, after an address by Effie B. McFadden of the San Francisco State Normal on "World Knowledge in Education," Superintendent Ackerman spoke on the theme, "The Educational Retrospects and Prospects." He discussed the situation in Oregon, what the teachers, the school districts, and children need. While Oregon is well up among the states in point of literacy, her school system, he showed, was susceptible to improvement.

Some of the teachers will stay for the University summer school, others will go to Monmouth, while still others will go on vacations to their homes, or to summer employment.

Superintendent R. F. Robinson, man and his wife, leave for their home in Portland tonight. The superintendent is the retiring president this year. For twenty-three years he has attended meetings of the association in Oregon, and is considered one of the strong leaders for education in the state.

CROW WANTS PRETTIEST WOMAN IN COUNTRY

FAMOUS FAIRMING DISTRICT WILL CELEBRATE FOURTH OF JULY—BEAN ORATOR.

Crow, the center of one of the best farming districts in Lane County, will celebrate the Fourth of July in a manner hardly second to that of Eugene.

In a proclamation issued yesterday, the good people of Crow command all loyal citizens of Lane County, to make ready for the best time of their lives at their picnic grounds.

The orator of the day will be Hon. L. E. Bean of Eugene, who will deliver an especially prepared address to fit the local surroundings. The president of the day is Eli Perkins; the marshal—though Crow really has little use for an official of this kind—John Holland, and the reader, Eugene Holland.

In the way of sports there will be foot races, a baseball game between teams that would put the Campbell-Fellman aggregation to shame, jumping and other athletic events.

Choice will also be made of the ugliest man present and of the prettiest woman. There will also be an unusual assortment of plug uglies.

KAPPA SIGMA WILL BUILD FRATERNITY HOME

The Alpha Club, a new University of Oregon organization of boys, has leased the present Kappa Sigma fraternity house, at the corner of East Thirteenth and High streets, for the next year, and the Kappas expect to build a fine chapter home on their property at the corner of Alder and East Eleventh streets, diagonal with the new U. O. University building. The situation for a fraternity house is perhaps the best in Eugene. The house will be near the University, and also is close to the mill race, which is popular for canoeing.

RAILS BEING LAID AT JUDKINS POINT

Rails are being laid upon the Eugene-Springfield trolley line beyond the railroad track. The roadbed around Judkins point is finished, the ties laid and most of the rails down. L. N. Roney also has the long trestle across the bottom almost completed.

R. B. WRAY WILL PUT IN AUTO GARAGE

DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little liver pills, are sold by all druggists.

Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup is the one that children like so well to take, as it tastes like maple sugar. It acts gently, yet freely, on the bowels and thereby it drives the cold out of the system. It is sold by all druggists.
