AN INDEPENDENT PAPER. Member of Associated Press.

FRIDAY, JULY 3, 1908.

POSTED BOND ISSUE FOR SIBSLAW HARBOR.

The bonding of Lane county in order to procure funds for the improvement of Siuslaw harbor...

This Gringo idea of barring Americans from employment on Mexican railroads, where they now fill the most responsible executive positions...

Someone has presented Chairman Tom Taggart with a Rocky Mountain burro for the Democratic mascot.

The postal receipts in Eugene have increased at the rate of 35 per cent a quarter, and $75,000 worth of building permits are issued monthly.

AND HIS METHODS.

The success of Governor Charles Hughes of New York in passing anti-race-track bills...

Before the new "sheath" gown makes its appearance in our midst, it may be well to remark that men who do not "rubber" cannot be shocked.

In making J. Pierpont Morgan a doctor of laws, Yale announced that he is a direct descendant of Rev. James Pierpont, one of its founders.

Who knows? Perhaps the government of Panama will feel so grateful that it will reciprocate by sending its entire standing army over to see that we have a fair Presidential campaign.

A rice mill trust is the latest formed by the Louisiana mills, with a modest capital, for a trust of $2,500,000.

It's mighty dangerous to swindle a Texas bank. One of them had a man followed 8,000 miles and caught, for getting some of its coin on a forged draft.

That call from Kansas for 25,000 outside harvest-hands may be confidently accepted as a mighty blast of triumph from General Prosperity's personal bugler.

The Mexican revolutionists are pulling off their stunt at the wrong time. Newspapers of this country are too much absorbed in the big political conventions to pay a great deal of attention to Diaz' troubles.

Residents of sections in which it is alleged no Presidential fight is to be made will be excusable for loudly protesting—what right has any campaign management to deprive them of the excitement?

Francis Heney seems to have dropped the prosecution of the Oregon Land fraud cases in good time to save his reputation.

Democrats who are now saying that Bryan has no show to win...

train a large number of wasps to make a business of it. He has invented a curious little compartment into which the wasps must learn to put the wood pulp they gather so carefully every day.

Automobiles have not driven all the horses to the boneyard. There are nearly twenty million horses in this country and their estimated value is almost two billion dollars, according to figures compiled by an exchange.

We recently read an article on the passing of the hard times, says the Oregon Tradesman. It was evident that the writer was in doubt about it himself.

soon be in a position to sympathize with republicans who talked the same way about Taft before the Chicago convention.

Inasmuch as he had to take more than his own share of the other sort when living, we trust that the late Grover Cleveland knows of the many good words said of him since his death.

Foraker says Taft is all right, personally, but that his policies are the worst ever. Evidently the old man isn't ready to climb on to the band wagon at this stage of the game.

Tom Taggart says the Denver platform will be conservative, but there are people who doubt whether Tom has any accurate information on the subject.

After all a real sane Fourth of July celebration, will be the craziest thing that ever happened in this country.

The most important question of the hour: Is it going to rain tomorrow?

Remember that if you over-celebrate a little tomorrow there will be Sunday to rest up in.

Harry Thaw is at least crazy enough to think himself sane.

THE BRIDEGROOM. The groom was attired in the conventional black—News Item.

Same old story—black, conventional black.

Entire paragraphs are lit up with descriptions of the wedding decorations, the gowns of bride and bridesmaids, even to the bouquets the maids are to carry.

You see the groom is a "mere man." For days in advance and after the wedding the society columns tell of the bride's trousseau, the way her hair is dressed, lingerie, veil, et cetera, but who gives a single thought to the groom's bridal regalia?

The groom's hair is combed just as he combs it every day. The collar he wears will be of the same style he is accustomed to wear.

And thus attired he is led like a sheep to the slaughter, and, like a lamb before his slaugter, he is dumb.

MRS. RICHARD McCREERY. There are few women in New York's leading social set more handsome than Mrs. Richard McCreery, who formerly was Lady Grey-Egerton.

It is a far cry from the day when the stone age man wooed and won his mate with a conventional knobby club.

For, you know, the wedding ring is a survival of the day when the bride was actually OWNED—when the ring, instead of being around the finger, was put around her neck or around her waist for the convenience of her OWNER.

The hucy days of absolute lordship are over. The shoe is now on the other foot. And here is where every Benedict makes his mistake.

Why should we wonder at the sequel?

On the wedding day nobody pays any particular attention to him. He is a sort of necessary evil. The show could not well proceed without him. He is not well received without him. But the spot light is on him as he stands on the altar.

FORM ONE MORE HABIT YOU HAVE probably not yet formed enough "habits". It is likely that you would find the "ad-answering habit" a dividend-paying one—and one that would never lure you far away from the best thrift-rod ever devised. A habit is usually formed through yielding to natural inclination. The ad-answering habit will have to be cultivated—perhaps against present inclination, and through an effort of will. You are not in the habit of saying "impossible," are you?
