AN INDEPENDENT PAPER. Member of Associated Press. MONDAY, JULY 6, 1908. THOROUGHNESS OF WORK ESSENTIAL TO SUCCESS.

A California newspaper prints a sermon in a recent issue that is worth reading by all and especially the young. Whether or not the article is original, it matters not, the truth is there just the same. It is on the subject of work-making, a habit of doing things right.

"Habits are the links which we are forging day by day in the chain of character. It therefore behooves us to see to it that the welds are made carefully. Not as slovenly apprentices are wont to do, with the seams left open ready when the strain comes, to snap asunder, but without blemish, as the master mechanic welds.

Carefulness as to detail, and painstaking thoroughness in attending to the commonplace affairs of life, are commendable traits in all walks, but nowhere count for more than in the formation of character. It may seem a trivial matter to have your watch set with railroad time, when you wish to travel, but it may make all the difference of catching your train or losing it.

England isn't worrying over the spending of $50,000,000 for warships by Brazil—she has the contracts to build 'em.

The unprincipled mechanic will sometimes smear over a weak spot in his chain by filling his weld with grease, and thereby hide the defect for a moment; but when the great ship tugs at her anchor on the swelling tide, there is no hiding the weak link then, and just so surely as it exists it will cause a calamity.

gene, the parade being especially creditable. It was simply an evidence of what a town may do when everybody helps some. To build up a city we must pull together.

A busy leonoclast declares there is no more truth in the Daisy Ross flag story than in the later Barbara Fritche yarn. Oh, what's the use? Even if they were illusions, they were beautiful enough to be let alone.

Hon. Adlai E. Stevenson, axeman of the first Cleveland administration and vice-president during the second, just to show that he isn't a has-been is a candidate for the democratic nomination for governor of Illinois.

Few National conventions or candidates have succeeded in naming in advance the paramount issue of a campaign—public sentiment has usually made it after the campaign was well under way.

When it comes to naming the bad men of the day, lawyers who, for a price, map out evasions of the law which enable "malefactors of great wealth" to keep on malefacting with impunity, should not be overlooked.

Texas seems to be more active in trying to collect the $6,000,000 in fines imposed by its courts upon the Standard Oil Co., than the Federal government is going after that $29,000,000 fine.

Temporary Chairman Bell of the Democratic National Convention ought to be able to make a ringing speech. And what is more this particular Bell is said to possess a silver tongue.

Chirp up, ye lovers of political excitement, Chairman New predicts there will be more of it in this campaign than in any since 1896, and his guess is apt to be right as another's.

Uncle Sam will shortly open bids for 2,000,000 pounds of dynamite. Nobody need fear being blown up, however,—it's for use on the Panama Canal.

Judging from the enormous showing of cash on hand in recent bank statements, the old stocking isn't as popular a depository as it was last winter.

Poets may sing of the glory and joys of other days, but there will always be men with whom pay day will continue to hold its own as the best of all.

From present indications nobody need be surprised to see some of the Roosevelt messages to Congress distributed as Bryan campaign literature.

Forty-four different people competed for prizes offered by the Cherry Fair at The Dalles, and there were 651 boxes of cherries on the tables.

That Taft should go to the Hot Springs for a rest at least shows that he hasn't the usual candidate's fear of getting in hot water.

The benevolent print paper trust continues to pulp wood, letting the newspapers do the talking and pay the bills.

Now, that they are actually curing lepers, hope is revived that a cure may yet be found for the campaign liar.

GASOLINE WOOD SAW W. G. White is prepared to saw your wood on short notice. Phone Black 4351. Residence, 514 West Sixth street.

Roosters: "Ah, that looks like something to eat."

Hent: "I'm going to have some of that or I'll know why."

MRS. JAMES MONROE MILLER.

Mrs. Miller, wife of the Kansas representative, is one of the most popular and progressive women in the life of Washington. Mrs. Miller is a native of Pennsylvania, but was educated at the Kansas State university and for several years was engaged in the woman's club movement in the west.

LIGHTS OF HOME. Pilot, how far from home? Not far, not far tonight; A flight of spray, a seabird's flight, A flight of tossing foam, And then the lights of home.

And yet again how far? Seems not the way so brief? Those lights beyond the rolling reef Were lights of moon and star, Far, far, none knows how far!

Pilot, how far from home? The great stars pass away Before him as a flight of spray, Moon as a flight of foam! I see the lights at home, Alfred Noyes in the Cornhill Magazine.

FORM ONE MORE HABIT YOU HAVE probably not yet formed enough "habit" to be likely that you would find the "ad-answering habit" a dividend-paying one—and one that would never lure you far away from the best thrift-wood ever devised. A habit is usually formed through yielding to natural inclination. The ad-answering habit will have to be cultivated—perhaps against present inclination, and through an effort of will. You are not in the habit of saying "impossible," are you?
