MORE ROOMS FOR GIRLS AT STATE UNIVERSITY

THREE NEW HOUSES WILL BE COMPLETED BY NEXT SEPTEMBER, WITH ROOMS FOR SIXTY OR SEVENTY GIRL STUDENTS—DATE OF RHODES SCHOLARSHIP EXAMINATION CHANGED

Girls at the University of Oregon will be well housed next year. At least three new houses, accommodating between 60 and 70 girls, will be ready for occupancy in September. The Mary Spiller house, named for the first woman connected with the University, is now being completed and comfortably furnished. It will have rooms for 20 to 25 girls, and be under the same general control as the men's dormitory. It is beautifully located on the highest part of the campus, and gives promise of being the most pleasant home.

The Kiosche Tillamum Club will have a handsome new home by the opening of the University. The foundation has been completed and carpenters are preparing to rush the building as fast as possible. It will accommodate between 20 and 25 girls. The Zeta Iota Phi sorority is having a new house built on the corner of Thirteenth and High streets, which will have room enough for 20 girls. The plans call for a very handsome building.

Rooms for rent seem much more plentiful than usual, probably for the reason that the touch of hard times has made many more people willing to rent. Those, together with the new girls' houses and the old ones already established, will make it comparatively easy for the University to find good homes for the large number of girls that will enter in September.

EXAMINATIONS FOR RHODES SCHOLARSHIPS

The examinations for the Rhodes scholarships will hereafter be held in the autumn instead of in January, as heretofore. The change has been made for the reason that the new date will allow the successful candidate much more time to select and arrange for the college he wishes to enter at Oxford. Unless selections are made quite early, candidates are often compelled to accept second choice of colleges. The next Rhodes examination will be held in the fall of 1926, probably at the University of Oregon. Oregon will have two scholars at Oxford next year, Edward Winans, of Willamette University, who was appointed in 1927, and Wistar Johnson, of the University of Oregon, appointed this year.

ORPHEUM THEATRE CLOSED TILL SEPT. 1

The Orpheum theatre will remain dark until the first day of September when the Empire Stock Company, which has been playing at this popular house for the past nine weeks, will appear here again in an entirely new repertoire of plays, and remain during the entire fall and winter. The company went to Springfield this morning and will play there tonight and tomorrow night. On Wednesday and Thursday nights they will play at Coburg and from there will go on down the valley, playing at different points until September. The company have made many friends during their stay here, and theatre-goers will be glad to learn that they are to be back to stay during the winter.

NEAR BEER IS BEING SOLD IN EUGENE

Some Oregon hop growers hope that the sale of "Near Beer" will stimulate the brewing industry and tend to raise the price of hops. While many hop growers attacked prohibition on the ground that it would hurt their business, the breweries in the East and some in the West seem to be catering to the tastes of the beer-drinking public by the production of "Maltona," "Baryette," "Cincinnati," "Hopana," and other brands of liquor with less than one per cent alcohol in their composition. As a result, some expect that the production of "Near Beer" will surpass, as the palates of the public are cultivated, that of beer.

The breweries which are adapting themselves to the dry districts are sending out liberal advertisements of their new brands. At first the sale will probably be light, but as such drinks as wine and whiskey are forbidden in a large portion of Oregon, it seems not unlikely that a steady market will be built up for "Near Beer" drinks.

Most of the local old beer drinkers claim that the taste of the new assortments are flat. The price in Eugene last week, it is said, was ten cents a glass, and it may be the price made them flat rather than the beverage.

SHOTS STRIKE WITHIN TEN FEET OF PEOPLE

CARELESS SHOTS AT DUCKS RESULT, FORTUNATELY, ONLY IN OATHS—DUCKS ESCAPE A HUNDRED SHOTS UNSCATHED.

Careless shots at Judkins' Point yesterday afternoon came so close to a number of people that they felt they were having a narrow escape from being wounded. Several bullets struck within ten or fifteen feet of two individuals, and other shots approached so close to other people that they vigorously protested. A band of ducks was in the river all afternoon and the shots, perhaps a hundred, were fired at the birds.

At one time three boys on the bar across from Judkins' Point were shooting at the fowls, the bullets splashing and striking in the embankment between the race and the river, where four people were sitting. From the track some other persons were also banging at the ducks, almost in line between them and the boys on the bar. Remonstrances were answered with profane language. But the men on the track having the guns maintained their position and were still firing at supper time. The boys, however, desisted when they saw where their shots were going.

So far as has been discovered, no ducks were killed. The band consisted of about 20 mallards, who were kept busy feeding up and down the stream, so bewildered that they did not know which way to turn.
