ON DECREES FOR GOOD ROADS

Good roads seems to have become a subject of conversation when a group of citizens get together, says the Chamber of Commerce news letter.

Every day new buildings are begun in Eugene, but there is no indication of a boom. The city is destined to double in population within three years, and the present activity is only a sound, healthy growth.

Senator Tom Platt, who lives in New York state, and represents the express companies in the senate, does not like the Statement No. 1 feature of the Oregon primary law.

They conducted a very successful automobile race over in France the other day. Two men were killed and several more were severely injured.

They are to open bids for Albany's postoffice site on July 16. Then, if things move along as lively as they have in Eugene's case, construction work may actually commence in four or five years.

Abe Ruef is out on bail and all the loose money in San Francisco is being weighted down and constantly watched, and at that they are not over-confident of keeping it out of Abe's clutches.

Don't blame the poor newspaper men for the fool stuff wired from Denver—they were there to fill space and were on to their job all right.

Just to show its confidence in the industrial outlook, the steel trust has paid $3,000,000 for an independent steel car wheel plant.

Paradoxical as it may sound, it is a fact that the big noise of the Denver convention was at Lincoln, some hundred miles away.

With Billy Hearst and Tom Watson both opposing him this year Bryan ought to make a stronger run than ever before.

and rolls up on another. This record is drawn by means of a pencil attached to the hammer of the machine. From the results to be obtained from the tests made with this machine the forest service hopes to be able to devise more accurate and reliable methods for calculating the stresses which timbers used in bridges and other structures subject to repetitive loading have to stand.

A writer suggests more practical education for our boys and girls. He declares that every girl should be taught to make baby clothes, and the boys some useful trade. He is quite right. And the practice of the present day is all in that direction.

The Japanese protest that the open-door policy is in vogue in Manchuria, but all the other nations do not see it in that light. Perhaps the doors in Manchuria are open—to the Japanese, but they seem to be securely closed to the other fellows.

Considerable space is being given in newspapers and periodicals to guessing what man will have 500 years hence, but most men would a heap sight rather know whether they will have the coin to take up that note next month.

Right here it seems proper to say that there is nothing in the platforms to justify a man sneaking off to a cool place and leaving his wife to tackle all the disagreeable things.

"G. O. P. Hatched Buried Deep," says a newspaper headline. In somebody's skull, we wonder?

DR. and Mrs. R. A. Jayne have returned home from a month's stay at Hood River, where the doctor has been looking after his land interests and the harvesting of his crop of strawberries.

The Free Methodist people are arranging for their annual campmeeting, which will be held at the usual place in the big grove in West Springfield, July 22, and will continue over two Sundays.

Mrs. Joe Doran was quite seriously hurt last Saturday evening while in Eugene attending the celebration. We understand that the heat of the day and the over-exertion brought on a fainting spell, and as she fell she struck the pavement in such a manner as to injure her quite severely.

How Eugene ever expects to have a baseball team and hold the management up to such an unreasonable price for the use of the grounds is a mystery. Those who own the ball park only ask 20 per cent of the receipts of all games.

Something about an old sweetheart—Some dream about an old flame—Feller named O'Reilly wrote it; don't just remember th' name; Heard it last night at th' lecture; Girl that knew how to write; Had it committed to memory—knew how to bring it out right.

Something about an old sweetheart—I don't remember it all—But it was still when she spoke it—wasn't a sound in th' hall; I don't go much on recit'n', but when she spoke it, you see, I couldn't help listenin' to it; she seemed to talk right at me.

Something about an old sweetheart—An' when I looked at th' stranger, I didn't see, His cheek was wet, an' a tear rolled down on th' side nex' to me.

Something about an old sweetheart—don't remember th' words—But it brought memories to me; Brought back in th' spring an' th' June-time—thoughts that were misty—an' dim—An' I looked over an' wondered what it was bringin' to him.

Something about an old sweetheart—An' when he thought I wasn't lookin' at him, I saw him take out his kerchief, look in 'bout sort o' sly.

Something about an old sweetheart—He didn't seem like a stranger—you know how sympathetic is—Something about an old sweetheart, mebbe some kindred o' his.

Something about an old sweetheart—An' when I looked at th' stranger, I didn't see, His cheek was wet, an' a tear rolled down on th' side nex' to me.

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable. Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, uric acid, catarrh of the bladder and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for every thing, but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work and in private practice, and has proved so successful, in every case by a special arrangement, has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble.

Klamath Falls has imposed a $3 street tax on all males between 21 and 50. The open season for buck deer will begin July 15 and extends to Nov. 1. The open season for does is Sept. 1 to Nov. 1. In Coos and Curry counties female deer cannot be killed at any time.

MACHINE FOR TESTING WOOD

Builders and contractors engaged in carrying out various kinds of building work will find much of interest in the machine designed by the University of Washington to help them answer the question that comes up very often: "Is the strength of wood affected by repeated shocks?" At the present time no satisfactory answer has been given.
