PROHIS GATHER TO NAME LEADER FOR PRESIDENCY

Columbus, O., July 14.—Prohibitionists are beginning to arrive for the national convention to be held Thursday at Memorial Hall. Headquarters for the gathering were opened today at Neil House.

At various hotels headquarters have been reserved for good-sized delegations from Minnesota, Dakota, Michigan, oMntana, Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas and Iowa. The delegations from New England and the East are expected to be of large proportions, and the South will be better represented than at any of the previous conventions of the party.

The national convention will be called to order at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning by Charles R. Jones, chairman of the national committee. Conspicious figures in the gathering will be such old-time Prohibition leaders as Dr. Samuel Dickie of Albion College, Rev. S. C. Swallow of Pennsylvania, Oliver W. Stewart of Chicago, A. G. Wolfenbarger of Lincoln, Neb., and Felix T. McWhirter of Indianapolis.

The list of presidential possibilities is being added to daily. Among those whose names are being prominently mentioned for the Presidential nomination are Seaborn Wright of G groeiaerd.Fer mtadtd aonddidt of Georgia, Frederick Wheeler of California, Joseph P. Tracey of Michigan, Dr. J. B. Cranfill of Texas, Alfred Manierre of New York, and Dr. W. B. Pelmore, editor of the St. Louis Christian Advocate.

The selection of a Vice-Presidential nominee will depend largely upon what section of the country the Presidential choice comes from. Among the candidates are Judge Samuel A. Artman of Indiana, J. B. Lewis, a member of the Massachusetts legislature and Professor A. S. Watkins of the Ohio Northern University.

The chief business of the convention, aside from the nomination of a ticket, will be the adoption of a platform. It is said that the platform this year will have little to say on any question other than that of the liquor traffic. In the course of the convention proceedings there will be reports and dishcussion of the present wave of prohibition spreading over the country by leading members of the party.

FIRST VICTORY IS IRISH-AMERICAN

London, July 13.—The first heat of the 1500-meter run in the Olympic games was won by J. Sullivan, of the Irish-American Athletic Club, of New York. Lightbody, of the Chicago Athletic Club, was second. Meadows, of Canada, was third. Sullivan's time was 4:08 2-5.

The outcome of the first heat was no surprise to the spectators and competing teams, as it was predicted that the Americans would have no difficulty in winning the event. This race has been conceded to the American sprinters without question by every one who had watched the work of the various contestants.

Melville Sheppard, of the Irish-American team of New York, won the second heat in 4:05, establishing a new record two-fifths of a second better than Lightbody's at the Olympic games at St. Louis. J. P. Halstead, of the New York Athletic Club, finished second, and Butterfield, of England, finished third.

N. F. Hallows, of England, won the third heat. Laughi, of Italy, finished second. Reilly, of the Irish-American Club, of New York, failed to finish.

Although it was generally conceded that the Americans would carry off the honors in the 1000-meter event, England refused to give up hope after entering stars of the magnitude of H. A. Wilson, who won the trial race at the stadium, J. E. Deakin, southern county cross-country champion, and A. J. Robinson, the national and international cross-country champion.

Friends of G. Butterfield, the mile champion, were deeply disappointed in the showing he made in failing to finish better than third in the first heat.

Sweden also counted upon a place in this event, Kistl and Hallistrom being the favorite entries.

Halstead, who finished second in the second heat of the 1500-meter event, won the American tryout in 5:01 1-5. He ran under the colors of Cornell at that time.

TABACCO TAGS BRING FINE RESULTS

Tobacco Company is Redeeming Tags From Many Brands.

According to reports from local dealers in tobacco more people are saving tobacco tags than ever before in the history of giving presents in exchange for tobacco tags. This tremendous increase in tag saving is due to the action of the American Tobacco Company in offering a remarkable list of valuable presents in return for tags from various popular tobaccos.

Such brands as Master Workman, J. T., Horse Shoe, Granger Twist, Standard Navy, Sailor's Pride, Old Statesman, and about a dozen others others, bear tags which can be exchanged for presents. An idea of what can be accomplished by so far-reaching a co-operative system is gathered from such sample offers as the giving of an English Steel Razor for only 50 tags.

Reports in the tobacco trade indicate that dealers throughout the country are laying in stocks of presents in order to be able to meet the rising boom in tobacco tag saving. In places where the dealers are not supplied with presents, the American Tobacco Company is redeeming by mail—tag savers [illegible]

LOGANBERRIES MAY BE DRIED AND SHIPPED

The problem of what to do with the loganberries, the vine of which so many have been planted in this vicinity as well as all over Western Oregon, may be solved soon, for an effort is being made at Salem to dry the berry and ship it to Eastern markets. The loganberry is perhaps the most prolific of all fruits of a similar nature, and owing to the great quantities planted the problem of saving the product is one of consequence to the state.

The raspberries dried last year by the growers near Salem brought the growers about 22 to 23 cents, and it is hoped that the loganberries will do as well. However, the whole matter is in a very unsettled state, and farmers are warned not to be too optimistic. Owing to the large amount of apricots, peaches and other products of this nature on the market, the price this year will be low.

It now seems likely that drying will come into general use. W. H. Claypool, who lives near Salem, has erected a dryer and has been experimenting with the fruit, and it appears to be a success. Some of the berries are perfect in form, which cannot be said of raspberries after they are dried. Mr. Claypool reports that the berries dry out about 75 per cent.

TRIAL MARRIAGE, GEORGIA STYLE

Atlanta, Ga., July 13.—Drop-stitch hose, V-shaped lingerie, cosmetics, artificial teeth, puffs, rats, and padding are the weighty matters which are being discussed by the committee on ways and means of the Georgia legislature today.

Representative George Glenn, of the Whitfield district, is responsible for the problem, having introduced a bill to prevent the sad disillusionment of husbands "the day after."

According to the provisions of Glenn's measure, any marriage which has resulted from artificial attractions offered by the bride shall be declared null and void.
