CITY NEWS

Excavation for the two-story brick addition to the Smith block began today.

A bridge crew arrived here from Albany last night and will work on the railroad in this vicinity for some time.

Two more carloads of logs for the Eugene Lumber Company arrived down from the Wendling branch last night.

Elmer Paine has taken a position in the Eugene Loan and Savings Bank. He has just returned from a trip to San Francisco.

Architect Hunzicker is drawing plans for a neat bungalow to be built by Misses Nettie and Emma Chase on North Pearl street.

The last stand on the new Bible University building was laid yesterday. Since Contractor Nash has had charge of the work it has progressed rapidly.

The W. C. T. U. of East Eugene will meet at the home of Mrs. Paxton, on Garden avenue, tomorrow afternoon. A full attendance is desired, as there is special business.

The Ladies' Aid of Fairmount will give an ice cream social at the home of Mrs. L. Luduke on Villard avenue on Friday evening, July 17, for the benefit of the Fairmount church.

Conductor L. W. Baker, of the street car line, is taking a 30-days' layoff. He is color sergeant of the Fourth regiment, O. N. G., and is a member of the rifle team of the Cottage Grove company. He will attend the rifle shoot at Salem and the encampment at American Lake.

Twelve or fifteen hobos were given lodging in the city jail last night and released this forenoon by Chief of Police Farrington. The chief forgot that they were there until about the middle of the forenoon and they were all pretty hungry when turned loose.

The work of driving piles for the trestle of the electric line toward Springfield was resumed today after a few days' layoff on account of a delay in the arrival of some timbers. The piles are now being driven in the road near the old blacksmith shop this side of Springfield.

The program for the Grand will be found in another column. Last night was prize night, and ticket No. 2254—held by Miss Meta Goldsmith—won the 27 pieces of silverware. Hendershot's orchestra furnished the music. One of Nye's delivery teams ran away this morning and spilled quite an assortment of groceries and dry goods out into the street. They started at West Fifth and Washington streets, and landed near the flour mill. The wagon was not damaged.

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

Too many women can't wear a prettier gown and a full purse at the same time.

A stitch in time often prevents a domestic insurrection.

If a miracle should happen some people would feel impelled to lie about it.

Actors are invariably superstitious. They all love to see the ghost walk.

If supporting husbands were fashionable the men would all have the time of their lives.

The man who makes you ridiculous scores twice by making you mad also.

By anticipating a thing you have a double dose of whatever emotion it evokes.

There are people who have a genius for getting into trouble and backing out.

Handicapped Sport.
"He said he was going out to see the elephant."
"Don't worry. He hasn't got money enough to see a mouse."

Stiff Competition.
At thousands lost in Chinese floods
The reader will may shiver.
If it be so, the Ohio
Will be a jealous river.

PERT PARAGRAPHS.
The man who succeeds has to be a hard hitter and a poor quitter.

Some people try so hard to seem natural that they often succeed in giving a good imitation of somebody else.

As a rule, we are the most vain of that of which we have the least.

A misfit occupation is apt to raise corns and bunions on one's disposition and give chilblains to one's associates.

In the struggle to avoid the commonplace many of us achieve only the eccentric.

Most of us seek advice in order to know what not to do.

The man who is short on funds is too often long on hot air and loud talk.

If our mirror showed us ourselves as others know us we would be likely to smash it.

The opinions of our friends are prized as apples of gold—when they coincide with our own.

A thief may be vain, but he does not desire to attract attention.

Buy a package of "Will Grow" fertilizer for your roses or garden. Price 25c. Chambers Hardware Co.
