DUNN-WILKINS BUILDING TO BE THREE STORIES... HAVE CHANGED THEIR PLANS AND WILL HAVE PRESSED BRICK BLOCK INSTEAD OF TWO-STORY REINFORCED CONCRETE—BEGIN WORK ON THE STRUCTURE SOON

F. E. Dunn and F. M. Wilkins, who intend to erect a business block on their properties on West Eighth street, Mr. Dunn having only a few days ago bought 53 feet frontage from Mr. Wilkins between Olive street and the alley west of there, have changed their plans and decided, instead of a two-story concrete building, to erect a three-story brick building with pressed brick front. This will put the cost up to something like $40,000. Architect John Hunzicker has been engaged to draw the plans and furnish the specifications for the building. The work of moving the old wooden buildings off the lot will probably be commenced next week. Plumber Gaby, who occupies the building next to the alley, will move into the building across the street, now occupied by Otto's candy factory. The other tenants have either secured new locations or have them in view. Mr. Dunn this afternoon stated that he thought that work on the new structure would begin inside of two weeks.

GOOD BASEBALL GAME PROMISED FOR SUNDAY... On Sunday afternoon at Recreation Park the Campbell-Fellman Company-Halsey team in their first game together. The Eugene aggregation has been materially strengthened and a good contest is looked for. The game begins at 3 o'clock. The Chicago ladies' baseball team will be here soon to play the Campbell-Fellman team.

HONOLULU WELCOMES ADMIRAL SPERRY'S FLEET... Honolulu, July 16.—The Atlantic battleship fleet arrived here at noon today, completing another leg in its world's cruise. Magnificent beyond anything ever seen in these waters was the arrival, as one powerful vessel after another rose out of the Eastern horizon and came within range of the vision of thousands of spectators from the whole Hawaiian group of islands, who thronged Diamond head and the adjoining heights. Upon the first notification of the sighting of the fleet excursion steamers hurried out of the harbor and as the fleet rounded Diamond Head and came into view of the city their approach was met by a cosmopolitan crowd of men, women and children of all the races that go to make up Honolulu's population. Nearly all carried American flags and from the house tops of the city floated besides the Stars and Stripes the flags of almost every other nation of the earth, Chinese and Japanese flags predominating. Just at noon the Connecticut hoisted at the entrance of the harbor, and the other vessels then took their positions. This afternoon Rear-Admiral Sperry and Governor Frear exchanged official visits. During the entire run to Honolulu the fleet experienced pleasant weather and smooth seas. For two hours daily except Sunday the fleet had tactical evolutions and at the same time the routine drills were carried on. No noteworthy event occurred during the voyage. The Nebraska, which was left behind when the fleet sailed, on account of the scarlet fever cases among the crew, overtook the fleet yesterday.

The flues of the building were being tried out before being put to use, and in one of them were some boards which had been left there. They caught fire and created quite a blaze. A line of hose was laid, but the water was not turned on.

POOR MAN FEELS MANY UNEMPLOYED... New York, July 16.—One hundred men a day are fed free by John Morgan, himself a poor working man, at 102 Christopher street, and so quietly that not even residents of the neighborhood have known what was going on. Every morning at 7 o'clock scores of hungry men out of employment appear in groups of eight or ten, and for a full hour they come and go, crowding the small room to its full capacity. Every man helps himself to soup and bread and coffee without stint, and is at liberty to obtain his breakfast and dinner there for a reasonable time, until he shall have a chance to get work. Mr. Morgan has been carrying on the work on a small scale for the last two or three years, but the demands on him have increased so much that his accommodations are taxed to their full capacity. He has no money, and has found an assistant in his work in his daughter, Calvina, who helps him pay the rent, while he collects food for his proteges as best he can. The expense of renting suitable accommodations is divided between them, and for their provisions they largely depend upon the bounty of the bakers, butchers and grocers, among whom Mr. Morgan makes his rounds every morning at 5 o'clock.

THE MENTAL BOOST... 'Tis well to have philosophy. It helps you on your way. To smooth the places rugged. And make the work like play. You turn to it for comfort. No matter what the loss. By means of it give trouble A good big double cross. It helps you in the evening To put your cares away. And view with some complacence The bills you cannot pay. For when the bill collector Talks to you like a Turk You shed the bills like water If you can make it work. Defiance to the toothache. Quite placidly it bids. And chronic indigestion Of terror partly rids. It helps a man downhearted His batch of blues to shake. And makes him still be cheerful Although his coxins may ache. For hearts that have been broken, For bruises of the thumb, For pains and disappointments Philosophy helps some, And ever it stands ready. The only one safe bet. The finest and the cheapest Relief a man may get.

Willing to Help... "They were very polite, if they did own a big auto." "Saluted you as they passed?" "No. But they ran over a chicken and turned back to see about it." "I suppose they offered to pay for it." "No; not exactly. They said as it would be any more use to us they thought he might like to cook it for them." One Way or Another... "I think we will capitalize the mine for $1,000,000." "But the expert says it doesn't pay out." "Then we must capitalize it for $2,000,000 to pay us for the disappointment." Putting on style is often contemporaneous with putting off collectors. The woman who says that there is really nothing to be said takes about three hours to say it in. But as a general proposition we are never satisfied until we get what is coming to us, and then we are thoroughly disgruntled. Be great, and let who will be successful. The tormenting thing about the worst is that it is always coming and never over.

CECIL SWEET

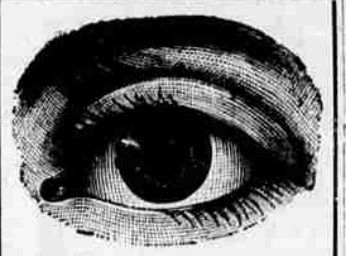

(Oregon State Journal.) Cecil Z. Sweet died at his home at Point Terrace, Lane county, Oregon, Thursday, July 9, 1908. He had lived there with his two bachelor brothers—Wallace and Marion—for many years. He had been afflicted with cancer for some time and his brother Wallace had him in Eugene for treatment several weeks nearly a year ago. He was born about 54 years ago on the donation claim that now bounds Eugene on the east, then owned by his father and mother, Zara and Mirrah Sweet, afterward sold to Thomas Juddkins, H. R. Kincaid and Mrs. Bristol. The writer of this dug the holes and set out the fruit trees for Zara Sweet on that land late in the fall of 1853 or early in the spring of 1854, about the time Cecil was born. "Old Zara and Maria Sweet" did not assume much style but were generous and good neighbors. My father and mother and their children settled on the land adjoining on the south side of the Zara Sweet donation claim. They had no money to buy provisions and only two or three head of horses and cows. Zara Sweet was very obliging and allowed the writer of this, then a 17-year-old boy, to dig potatoes on shares, and the family lived all winter on potatoes, some of which were partly frozen, and one 50-lb. sack of flour that we bought at a mill on the California river a few miles above where Brownsville now is. Zara Sweet was a very large, tall man, and Maria Sweet was extremely small and short, one of the smallest women in the neighborhood. When Cecil Sweet was born our mother, Nancy Kincaid, was there and dressed the baby. She is now 92 years old and in good health.
