

THE EUGENE DAILY GUARD. PUBLISHED EVERY DAY OF THE WEEK...

conceded that Eugene is the coming home city of the state. Many prominent business and professional men of other towns have announced their intention of eventually coming here to live.

Man is so constituted that he always "views with alarm" the "dangerous tendencies" of the other party, and with "pride" the patriotism of his own.

"Why are all candidates for office not treated as gentlemen?" asks an editor who scents abuse ahead. Without undertaking to answer for all of them, it may be said that it probably because some of them are not gentlemen.

Every day there are fewer idle freight cars reported and consequently more railroad men at work. There will be another busy era inaugurated when the country's big crop begins to move in a few weeks more.

Isn't it rather creditable to him as a whole that a man who has been a practical politician as long as Mr. Sherman should find that the hardest known knocks are being given to the style of whiskers he affects?

Mr. Bryan wants the newspapers to ask their subscribers for campaign funds. Most of them, we are afraid, have their hands full hustling funds for the insatiable paper trust.

Albany seems to have two booster crowds. One of them is trying to boost the town and the other is trying to boost Booster Dasset out of his job.

They gave Candidate Kern a hot welcome in Indianapolis, even if Fairbanks did make the principal speech.

When Albany gets her fine new cement block depot furnished, it might be properly labeled, "Made in Eugene."

Eugene seems only trying to keep up with the growth of her newspapers.

HARRISBURG NOTES FROM THE BULLETIN

B. S. Norwood was down from Eugene the first part of the week, looking after the shipment of a carload of beef cattle to the market.

G. E. Kitchen, who recently sold out his personal property out on the farm he had rented near Rowland, and moved to Eugene and engaged in the livery business, was here the latter part of the week, having come down with a load of telephone poles for the company.

The river has become very low and since the log drive passed this city there is hardly enough water left for the boys to swim in—that is, when they all get in. On these warm afternoons the river is so full of boys that it resembles a Southern alligator pond.

Three linemen for the Pacific Telephone Company came down from Eugene Friday last and worked until Monday evening, doing some repairing on the toll line near here. It is the intention of the company to re-build the entire line from Portland to Eugene this summer, and put on two more copper loops, so that more business can be handled without so much delay as is now occasioned by a rush of business.

E. L. Bashford, who conducts a flour mill in Roseburg, was here the latter part of last week, looking after business matters. He has in the past purchased a large amount of his wheat in this section, and intends doing so in the future, and perhaps on a larger scale than in the past. Mr. Bashford has just recently moved his family from Roseburg to Vancouver, Wash., where he has built a 250-barrel flour mill, which will be ready for operation about the first of the year. He is a thorough business man and has been very successful in the milling business.—Bulletin.

THE REMEDY THAT DOES.

"Dr. King's New Discovery is the remedy that does the healing others promise, but fail to perform," says Mrs. E. R. Pierson, of Auburn Centre, Pa. "It is curing me of throat and lung trouble of long standing, that other treatments relieved only temporarily. New Discovery is doing me so much good that I feel confident its continued use for a reasonable length of time will restore me to perfect health." This renowned cough and cold remedy and throat and lung healer is sold at W. A. Kuykendall's drug store, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Heart to Heart Talks. By EDWIN A. NYE. Copyright, 1908, by Edwin A. Nye.

TWO DAYS IN BED. (An Actual Experience.) "No," said grandma; "it's only a little malarial—a couple of grains of quinine every two hours and a day or two in bed. No use to send for a doctor."

You are deathly sick, and that thump, thump, thump. In your head takes every bit of gnaw out of your backbone. You are like the fellow who was senesic—first you are afraid you will die, and then afraid you won't.

"His fever is pretty high," says grandma. Bing! Bang! A rush of swirling waters! A jingle of spurs and the rush of a charge! Egypt! Why, Little Egypt, Eternal Egypt, you did that stunt at the World's fair. That hideous south sea islander keeps pounding on his hollow tree. Will no one on the Midway stop him? Mr. Chairman, this, sir, is an outrage. —

That quilt? It's old as the hills. It must have belonged to you in a previous existence. That wall paper? There's philosophy in that wall paper, Horatio. The little woman selected the pattern. Come to think of it, SHE bought nearly all the laces and penates within range of your vision. SHE saved the money out of her slender allowance and bought them.

How the hours drag! It is time for introspection. You begin to see things rightly. Life resolves itself into the real, the simple, the elemental things. It is hard on your conscience. You have sometimes forgotten some very plain obligations. For instance: Well, there's the little woman. Do you realize how much of HER is in you? If you have been successful, SHE made it possible. If you have failed, SHE was faithful. Have you always been to the little woman what you ought to be? And the girl? She often calls you "dear old dad." That means something. And the boy? Think you can't you see how he really loves you — he, the big bear of a fellow, who likes to romp with you on the floor?

"Yes, I'm better. I think I will get up for breakfast." Your stomach is sweet and wholesome after its forty-eight hour rest. Ah, there was more to that morsel requirement of regular fast days than your moderns have ever been willing to admit! The quinine has chased the devils out of your brain. When you go down to breakfast grandpa says in that stern old-fashioned way he used when you were the boy and which conceals a heap of fondness, "Well, sir, you up?" And the boy makes noisy fun at your appearance in the dressing gown. But the little woman at the other end of the table sees nothing. She does not SAY things. SHE DOES THEM!

COMELY YOUNG WOMAN ALLEGED HORSETHIEF Canyon City, Or., July 23.—Miss Ada Pierce was arrested at this city yesterday by Sheriff Richardson, of Harney county, charged with horse-stealing. The woman is supposed to have a male accomplice. She is young and pretty. The man is now being sought by the authorities.

DELICIOUS BANANA CREAM. This recipe is highly recommended by one of our correspondents; try it for dessert tomorrow. Peel five large bananas, rub smooth with five teaspoonsful of sugar. Add one teaspoon sweet cream beaten to a stiff froth, then add one 10c package of Lemon JELL-O dissolved in 1 1/2 teaspoons of boiling water. Pour into mold and when cold garnish with candied cherries. Serve with whipped cream, or a good pudding sauce. JELL-O is sold by all grocers at 10c per package.

HERE'S AN EXAMPLE OF GOOD HORSE SENSE See how quietly he stands while being shod. He knows he is having a good job done. We do all kinds of horse shoeing and our charges are reasonable always. How can a horse do a good day's work poorly shod? Let us fix yours up now.
