LIGHTNING KILLS MEN IN NATIONAL GUARD CAMP

Gettysburg, July 24.—An all-night search throughout Camp Hayes, where the National Guard has been encamped for a week, and which last night was visited by a terrific electrical and wind storm, shows that three soldiers were struck dead by lightning and nearly half a hundred other persons injured. It was probably the wildest night which that historic battlefield has experienced since July, 1863. The dead were members of the Second Brigade, composed of regiments from the Western part of the state. The cots of the hospital tents are filled with injured, some of whom are women and children who had been visiting the camp.

General's Tent Wrecked.
The tent occupied by Governor Stuart was blown down, as were a number of others. Several friends were sitting with Governor Stuart when his tent collapsed, but the party managed to hold the canvas and all escaped injury.

The camp is flooded and telegraphic service is practically cut off. The entire camp is panic-stricken. The darkness was impenetrable and the men ran wildly about through rivers of water seeking the injured.

Every tent in Battery B was blown down, but no one in the battery was hurt. The regiment guard tent of the Tenth regiment was struck by lightning and 40 men of Company C were badly injured.

Field Hospital Full.
The field hospital is full and men are lying about the camp on the ground waiting for aid.

The Young Men's Christian Association tent, which was filled with women and children who had taken refuge there during the storm, was razed, but so far as known no one was seriously injured.

The colonel of the Tenth regiment has turned his quarters into a hospital.

FAIRBANKS MAKES SPEECH AT QUEBEC
the annals of Quebec.
The eyes of the western world are upon this historic city. The celebration of the centenary of Champlain's founding of Quebec is altogether admirable both in the comprehensiveness of its conception and in the excellence of its execution, and is an event which awakens interest not only in the Dominion of Canada but in the United States also. From this point as a base intrepid explorers blazed the pathway of civilization through trackless forests and explored lakes and rivers in territory which is now within the jurisdiction of the United States. Names associated with the early history of Quebec are landmarks in our geography and are indelibly impressed upon our civilization.

Three hundred years is but a brief period in the history of England or France, but it is all the history of Quebec and all of Anglo-Saxon America. Here has been written an interesting story. Here have been witnessed the victories and defeats of war and the blessed triumphs of peace. The battleships of three great nations rest yonder upon the bosom of the St. Lawrence. The representatives of those powers assembled here are recalling past differences but only to emphasize the present prevalence of a spirit of genuine friendship between them.

It is with unusual pleasure I bring greetings from the president and the people of the United States who rejoice with you in the progress you have made in the manifold ways which make for the strength and honor of a great people. We are not indifferent to your welfare nor are you indifferent to ours. The blood of a common ancestry is in our veins. We have much in common. We glory in many of the same traditions and we have the same jurisdiction. Our standards of civilization are alike. Here, side by side, owing allegiance to different sovereignties, we are, in God's Providence, to work out our destiny. We wish you that contentment which comes from the cultivation of the arts of peaceful industry under those political institutions which are the guaranty of justice and liberty among men.

The United States and Canada have but fairly entered upon their careers. Each has vast areas either sparsely settled or unoccupied, where many will make their homes in the future. Many millions will be added to our population and to yours. We have each made much advance in the scale of civilization and are gratified with the progress we have made. Back of us lies a brief but honorable history and before us stretch limitless opportunities. We confidently believe that we are each destined to play a large and worthy part in the progress of the human race upon the western continent. We have no rivalries except in the ways of peace. We neither covet the other's territory. We covet only each other's neighborly esteem. We rest upon a common frontier more than five thousand miles in length. It is crossed and recrossed by instrumentalities of commerce which tend to strengthen our neighborly ties. There are no fortifications upon our frontier and no battleships upon the waters which divide us and we believe and fervently hope that there will never be need of any defensive preparation between us.

As we witness this majestic celebration in which the representatives of different nations participate and witness the manifestations of genuine fraternal spirit among them, we are impressed with the thought that there is no rational reason why nations should resort to war. May we not, on this theatre of past conflicts, surrounded now by the impres-righteousness prevail. Let nations by every honorable means which enlightened statesmanship may suggest avoid an appeal to that court where might alone turns the balance.

We have no need to fear that the relations between the United States and Great Britain will ever again be disturbed. We have faith to believe that our flags which grace this historic occasion and which mingle together and salute each other upon the Plains of Abraham will never confront each other in conflict upon either land or sea.

I beg again to thank your Royal Highness for the gracious welcome and hospitality which you tender to me as the representative of the United States and to wish for your country and your people a continuance of the blessings of peace, progress and prosperity."

Holding that a notary public is a state office, and that his duties and functions are not confined to any particular district or section, Attorney-General Crawford contends that a notary public can officiate any place within the state during his two-year term of appointment. The opinion is given in the case of a notary public who removed from Glendale to Portland.

TWENTY-FIVE MEN LOSE LIVES IN A TUNNEL

Berne, Switzerland, July 24.—A frightful accident occurred this morning in the Leotenberg tunnel in the Bernese Alps, which resulted in the death of 25 workmen. Without warning the drills pierced the walls of an unknown subterranean river or lake and the wall gave way with a crash, a torrent of water and mud filling the tunnel. All the workmen were drowned. It is believed that the men tapped the Kender river, which flows above the tunnel.

"E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, Ill.—Gentlemen—In 1897 I had a disease of the stomach and bowels. In the spring of 1902 I bought a bottle of Kodol and the benefit I received all the gold in Georgia could not buy. May you live long and prosper. Yours very truly, C. N. Cornell, Roding, Ga., Aug. 27, 1906." Sold by all druggists.

Blair Street Addition

The streets have just been nicely graded and the sale of lots is brisk. Many people are buying the very choicest residence lots at lower prices than will ever again be offered in Eugene. People are waking up to the unusual advantages of BLAIR STREET ADDITION.

IT IS THE TALK OF THE TOWN

Do you realize what an investment in this addition will do for you? How can it avoid advancing in value with these lots lying right against the built up district, and where the city is certain to get its greatest growth? Let one of the agents named below take you out there. You don't need to buy if you don't want to, but we think you will want to after you see these fine lots and know about the easy terms--you make your own terms--you may have. Better not wait; the other fellow is getting busy and it's time you acted, before all are sold. There are ONLY TWENTY LOTS and TWO ACRE TRACTS LEFT.
