The General Demand

of the Well-Informed of the World has always been for a simple, pleasant and efficient liquid laxative remedy of known value; a laxative which physicians could sanction for family use because its component parts are known to them to be wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, acceptable to the system and gentle, yet prompt, in action.

In supplying that demand with its excellent combination of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, the California Fig Syrup Co. proceeds along ethical lines and relies on the merits of the laxative for its remarkable success.

That is one of many reasons why Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is given the preference by the Well-Informed. To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine—manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only, and for sale by all leading druggists. Price fifty cents per bottle.

CONDITION OF GREEN FRUIT MARKET

Portland, Or., July 31.—Oregon Crawford peaches, from the Ashland and Dalles districts, will be in the market in about 10 days or two weeks, according to local dealers, and while there is no danger of the market slumping, the chances are that this favorite fruit will sell at comparatively low prices. It is too early yet to say what these prices will be.

The peach crop in Southern Oregon and around The Dalles is generally a heavy one this year, and the fruit was never of better quality. For some time Alexanders and Hale's Early have been coming in fairly freely from both districts and in competition with Crawfords from California these have been selling at 60 to 85 cents a box generally. Today, with the supply large, the peach market was a trifle weaker, and Oregon peaches were quoted at 40 to 75 cents. The best California Crawfords are now selling at 60 to 75 cents, and they are quite active. In the South, because of a strong Eastern demand, they are quoted slightly higher than last week's prices, and the shipping season is drawing toward the end. When Oregon Crawfords appear there will be no demand here for California.

Of other fruits cherries are about the most active, in the local market, and the price trend is likely to be upward from this time on. Royal Anna, Black Republicans and Bings are about gone, only small lots remaining here and there, while the supply of Lamberts is still moderately large. There is a strong demand for fancy Lamberts, both locally and in the East and they sell readily at 7 to 10 cents a pound.

Apples are in fair demand, but there is no marked activity in the trade. Good quality Oregon peaches are going at 75 cents to $1.25 a box, while California peaches are held at $1.00 to $1.50 generally.

Plums drag, as they always do at this time of the year. The supply is large and they are still coming in freely, but there is only a limited demand, even for the best and at low prices. For the most part they go at 40 to 75 cents a crate. Apricots have practically disappeared. Small lots of California peaches in the market, held at $1.50 to $2.00 a box, move quite readily, but the season for active sale of this fruit has not yet opened.

Prune Market Better

Of the Eastern prune market the New York Commercial of July 23 says:

"Market is very firm on California prunes for shipment from the Coast out of the new crop in October, with a 1 1/2c premium quoted on 30s and 1c premium quoted on 40s over a 4c four-size bag basis on Santa Clara stock. On outside prunes the offerings are quoted on a 3 1/2c four-size bag basis in most quarters, with a stiff premium on large sizes. It is now regarded as certain that the crop will be one of the smallest on record, and, so far as the sizes go, the offerings will command a stiff premium all along the line.

"Oregon prunes are held on a some what higher basis, but there is little business noted for local account in futures. The question of contract is cutting a good deal of figure in Oregon prunes for October shipments based on the packer's form of contract. Spot prunes are very firmly held, and the market is without selling pressure in any quarter.

Little Demand For Chickens.

The week opened with a weak chicken market and the situation showed no change today. Receipts yesterday and today fortunately were light, otherwise prices would have been sharply cut. As it is, last week's quotations were shaded slightly today in order to move the small lots that came in. Hens are in best demand at 13 to 13 1/2c but fryers and broilers move slowly at 18 to 19 cents. There is practically no call for other poultry.

The egg market was generally considered weak, with quotations on the street ranging from 23 to 24 cents for fancy candied Oregon stock.

Livestock Market.

The livestock market was in good shape yesterday with prices on the best offerings holding steady all through the day. Some poor stock, however, is still coming along, and on this, of course, the full quotations cannot be realized, but there is a good sale for anything that will grade as choice.

The following prices were current on live stock in the local market yesterday:

Cattle—Box steers, $3.50 @ 3.85;

GEORGIA "DRYS" HOLD BIG CELEBRATION

Atlanta, Ga., July 30.—The first anniversary of the passage of the prohibition law by the Georgia legislature was celebrated today by the W. C. T. U. and other temperance and prohibition organizations throughout the state. The law has been in operation seven months, but public opinion is still at variance as to its results on the moral and business interests of the State.

The Prohibition forces declare that the effect of the law has been of a most beneficial character, notwithstanding the fact that it has been found impossible so far to enforce it to the letter. The anti-Prohibitionists, on the other hand, assert that Prohibition has seriously injured the business interests of the State without giving any material benefits in return. They declare that the measure has resulted in the increased corruption among public officials and that there is as much liquor consumed in Georgia now as ever there was under the old order of things.

The only point which it seems cannot be disputed successfully is that the amount of crime, particularly in the larger cities, has been considerably lessened since the Prohibition law went into operation last January. This argument in behalf of the law is supported by the police and courts records at Atlanta and other cities.
