BIG LEGAL FIGHT OVER MILLIONAIRE'S ESTATE

New York, July 30.—What promises to be one of the most bitterly contested will fights that New York has seen in many years was begun today when the will of Benjamin Hart, the American who died in Paris last May, leaving an estate valued at several million dollars came up for probate in the Surrogate's Court. Before the case is settled there will probably be unfolded a tale of free love and an alleged "affinity" that will make exceedingly interesting reading.

Benjamin Hart amassed a fortune during the civil war as a clothing peddler, and increased it greatly by judicious investments in New York real estate. Thirty years ago he took up his residence in Paris, and five years later adopted an Italian child, Gabrielle Josephine Lucchesi, who afterwards came to be known as Isabel Hart. Later she married a French diplomat, Jean Gullemin. Some years later, Hart set up an establishment for a woman named Gabrielle Juliette Antoinette de Ble, who benefits largely under the present will.

Hart's friendship for this woman offended Mme. Gullemin, and it was said that in consequence he disinherited her. In the will, however, the testator says he amply provided for her at marriage. He left her two art objects, which bequest he revoked in a codicil. So she gets nothing.

To make the situation more complex, last February a Mrs. Wright, who said she lived at 21 Perry street, of this city, proclaimed that she was the wife of Hart, whom she said she married in London, twenty-seven years ago. They lived together three years before separating. From that time she said Hart gave her a monthly allowance. She, as well as the adopted daughter, will contest the will. The third contestant is said to be Mme. de Ble.

The beneficiaries named in the will, all of them being relatives, are Mary P. H. Jones of South Orange, N. J., a niece; Benjamin Hart of San Francisco, a nephew; Frances Broadhead of Chicago, a niece; Imogene V. Hart of South Orange, and Michael Hart of New York City.

In a codicil, the testator directed that the annuity of $16,000, which in my second codicil I did bequeath to G. J. A. de Ble, shall be paid to her free of all possible taxes, assessments, commissions or deductions.

In another codicil he bequeathed "to Gabrielle Juliette Antoinette de Ble my house and land at 29 Rue de Galliec, Paris, together with all personal property and affects in said house, except articles especially bequeathed." He also directed that $25,000 be paid to Mme. de Ble, free from all taxes, immediately after his death. The residuary estate is to be created in a trust, the income from which is to be paid to his nephew, Michael Hart.

Donald Harper, a lawyer from Paris is here to look after the interests of Mme. Gullemin, Hart's adopted daughter in the coming will contest. It will be claimed that Hart has always given his adopted daughter to understand that she would inherit the bulk of his millions and that they were always the aged millionaire met Mme. de Ble. One of the grounds for contesting the will will be that Mme. de Ble exercised undue influence over him.

EXECUTION OF 'FRISCO GAS PIPE THUGS

San Francisco, Cal., July 30.—In San Quentin in prison tomorrow morning Louis Dabner and John Siemsen will be executed for the murder of M. Munakata, a Japanese banker in this city. Dabner and Siemsen were known as the "gaspipe thugs," and for several months their daring criminal exploits kept the police of San Francisco in an uproar and attracted the attention of the entire country. They engaged in a series of bold robberies, which were usually accompanied by deeds of violence. In addition to the killing of M. Munakata they were known to have committed at least two other murders. Appeals for a commutation of the death sentence on the ground of the youth of the condemned men were refused by Governor Gillette.

FAMOUS BATTLE GROUND CAMP MEETING OPENS

Lafayette, Ind., July 30.—The thirty-fourth annual session of the famous battle ground camp-meeting, under the auspices of the Northwest Indiana M. E. Conference, opened today under conditions that promise one of the most successful assemblies in the history of the organization. The crowd of visitors on hand is already of such proportions as to tax the hotel and cottage accommodations at the grounds. A ten days' programme has been arranged. It is out of the ordinary in one respect, in that no professional evangelists will take part. The speakers will be confined entirely to prominent divines and laymen of the Northwest Indiana Conference.

GARDEN HOME ADDITION

IS SITUATED close to the city limits on the Southwest---only a short distance beyond the Fair Grounds. It adjoins the large tract purchased by J. O. Storey, president of the Portland, Eugene & Eastern R. R., which indicates that it will be in close proximity to the electric road system in the near future. It is bounded by a county road on two sides, and lies beautifully, sloping gently to the northwest, which gives it perfect drainage.

TRACTS ARE FROM 2 1/2 TO 5 ACRES

Have been platted and are now offered for sale at very reasonable prices for cash, or upon easy terms---monthly installments if the purchaser desires. Property situated as close in as this will double in value within two years, and for the home builder and investor these tracts will prove a snap. The owners of bought the property at prices far below its value, and are thereby enabled to place it on the market at prices below what is asked for surrounding property in larger tracts and some of it even less desirable.
