Before slobbering on the Cubns for pulling off a fairly orderly election, it might be just as well to wait until they duplicate the stunt out of range of Uncle Sam's guns, and with something more than municipal offices to be filled.

While opponents of "white coffin nails" may applaud Judge Broderick, of Ohio, for saying "the cigarette habit is sufficient cause for divorce in my court," it seems pertinent to ask if Ohio judges have authority to make laws?

The czar of Russia is the highest priced hired man in the world though his country is rated poor—he gets $500,000 a week, with a payday every two weeks. We'd like to "sub" for him a week or two, bombs or o bombs.

Most anybody can cheerfully discuss "hard times" theoretically, but it is only the genuine philosopher who can be personally "hard up" without doing what rhymes with the last two syllables of discussing.

Find out what a man wants to do, then advise him to do it, and he will credit you with the wisdom of Solomon. But the rule will not work with a woman—she would cease wanting to do it if advised to.

"Automobile heart" is the very newest swell disease. According to its discoverer—or inventor—it attacks only those whose machines cost $5000 or more. That lets us out, by a few cents.

That man is prone to hope for miracles in his behalf is proven by the number of presidential tickets in the field which could not win without several miracles.

This year's growth in Eugene is only preliminary to the real building boom that will be in full swing next year. We've just begun to grow.

Kansas has become a heavy buyer of fountain pens since one of its courts decided that affidavits to obtain liquor must be signed in ink.

In a couple of years Mr. Harriman should be able to go out to his Klamath county resort via Eugene—over the Oregon Eastern.

"What is to be the most all-embracing word of the campaign?" asks an inquisitive subscriber. Expenses, as usual. Next!

Good water and plenty of it should be the slogan of every real booster for Eugene.

MARY AND THE LAMB.

Mary had a little lamb,
Its fleece was white as snow:
It strayed away one summer day
Where lambs should never go.

Then Mary sat her down
And tears streamed from her eyes;
She never found the lamb because
She did not advertise.
And Mary had a brother John
Who kept the village store;
He sat down and smoked his pipe
And watched the open door.

And as the people passed along
And did not stop to buy;
John still sat down and smoked his pipe,
And blinked his sleepy eye.
And so the sheriff closed him out,
But still he lingered near;
And Mary came to drop
A sympathizing tear.

"How is it sister that
These other merchants here
Sell all their goods and Thrive from year to year?"

Remembering her own bad luck,
The little maid replies,
"These other fellows get there, John,
Because they advertise."

COTTAGE GROVE NOTES

Mrs. J. F. Johnson and little son, of Eugene, are visiting Mr. Johnson for a few days at Creswell, where the latter is doing a job of painting.

F. J. Hard, manager of the Vesuvius and other mines in the Bohemia district, gave this office a fraternal call this morning. Before becoming a "bloated mine owner" Mr. Hard was a modest newspaper man, and the interior of a print shop still has attractions for him. He is as energetic as a miner as he used to be when chasing the festive item, and that's going some.

Baker, the Cottage Grove baseball pitcher, signed with the Chicago Ladies' baseball Club after the game yesterday and left with the female aggregation this morning at 6:30 for Medford. His salary is $3 a day and expenses. It is hoped Baker will put a little ginger in the game, for the girls have suffered defeat all along the trail from Chicago, in spite of "Birdie," the female coacher, with the sawmill voice.—Western Oregon.

NEWS FROM LABOR WORLD

The Bartenders' Union at Pittsburg is reorganizing.

Cigar makers at Mayaguez, Porto Rico, have formed a union.

The International Typographical Union will hold its convention in Boston next week.

The Photo Engravers' Union of North America has recently adopted a union label.

The International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen will meet in convention at Detroit next week.

The car men of Wheeling, W. Va., have received an increase in wages of one-half and one cent on the hour.

The Trade Unionists at Walla Walla, Wash., have placed the president of the Trades Council as a candidate for street commissioner.

The insurance agents of Wheeling, W. Va., are considering the proposition or organizing a labor union for their self protection in the near future.

The Negro Firemen in Pittsburg, Pa., will be organized and enrolled in the ranks of the International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen, in a short time.

The new national Federation of Weavers held its first convention at Fall River, Mass., with 28 unions represented. The United Textile Workers' Union, from which the Weavers' Union has withdrawn, is opposing the effort.

In connection with the effort to reduce the number of accidents in mines, for which money was appropriated by Congress, plans have been made by Secretary of the Interior Garfield, to open in Pittsburg, Pa., the first experimental station.

Out of 7,248 cases settled by voluntary conciliation and arbitration boards in Great Britian during the past ten years only 42, or about one per cent were preceded by stoppage of work by strikes and disturbances were extremely rare.

The Soo railroad has placed an order with the Minnesota state free employment bureau for 7,000 men. They are wanted as harvest hands in Minnesota and North Dakota, and the wages offered run from $2 to $4 a day with board. Under the order several hundred men have already been placed.

As an expression of appreciation for the faithful service and courtesy to the traveling public, checks amounting to a total of $175,000 were mailed to 1,153 conductors and 2,617 porters by the Pullman company. In each case the check was equivalent to one month's pay, an average of $46.40.

The West Virginia State Federation of Labor continues to grow bigger and stronger every week. President Welch is confident that by the time the next state covention, the State Federation, reorganized at Huntington last February, will contain all the labor unions in the Mountain State.

The prospect of smooth working in the labor world in Sweden is anything but bright, and a great deal of trouble is expected during the summer. The most threatening feature is the conflict between the dock-workers' organization and the ship-owners, which is bound to involve all kinds of workers.

Miss Hazel McDanald of Chicago, who some time ago advocated the establishment of home for aged and indigent postoffice clerks, has been elected a delegate to the convention of the National Federation of Postoffice Clerks, which will open at Louisville, Ky., on September 7. She will have an opportunity to submit her plan to the convention.

THIS IS MY 53D BIRTHDAY

Samuel Benedict Christy

Samuel Benedict Christy, professor of mining and metallurgy, and a recognized authority on mining matters, was born in San Francisco, Cal., August 8, 1855. He was graduated from the University of California as Ph.B. in 1874, and received the degree of Sc. D. from Columbia University in 1902. He is professor of mining and metallurgy in the University of California. He was vice president of the American Institute of Mining Engineers in 1891 and 1893, and from 1907 to 1909, is a member of the Institute of Mining and Metallurgy of London, the Society of Mining, gy and Chemistry of South Metallurgy and Chemistry of South Africa, the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education, and the California Mining Association. He is the author of numerous papers on the mining and metallurgy of gold, silver, quicksilver, etc., and on engineering education, and he is the inventor of processes for treating gold ores.

THIS IS MY 81ST BIRTHDAY

William Morris Stewart

William Morris Stewart, one of the leading men of the state of Nevada, which he represented several terms in the United States senate, was born in Lyons, N. Y., August 9, 1827. He spent his youth in Ohio and, when quite young, became a teacher in that state. With his savings he hoped to obtain a classical education. He entered Yale, but when the gold fever broke out he discontinued his studies and went to Nevada county, California, where he prospected for gold. He was not successful, however, and soon deserted the gold camp to devote himself to the practice of law. After he had been admitted to practice in 1852, he entered the field of politics and was elected district attorney. He made considerable money out of the Comstock lode litigation in 1860, by which time he was a citizen of Nevada. He helped to make the territory a state and in 1864 was elected United States senator for the first time. He was sent to the United States senate four times, the last time in 1893. In the course of his career he has gained and lost several fortunes. When he left the senate in 1905 he was financially embarrassed, but since then he has made another fortune in mining enterprises. While in Washington, D. C., Senator Stewart was highly popular and was known throughout the city as "Old Santa Claus," owing to the fact that he wears a long white beard, which gives him a patriarchal appearance.

SOUTHERN COTTON MILL CURTAILMENT BEGINS.

Spartanburg, S. C., Aug. 8.—Several of the largest cotton mills in the Spartanburg district suspended operations today, some of them closing for two weeks, and others for a longer period. Most of the mills have decided to give their operatives free house rent during the shut-down, and one of the largest companies will a low half-pay time in addition. This is the second closing of the mill since the depression began last fall.

It Is Not Advertising Which Survives; But the Things Which Are Advertised : :

THE "cleverest advertisement" you ever wrote may be quite forgotten now, even by the best friends it made for you. It may survive only in the bigger store it helped create.

But it is just as certain that the bigger store of the future is to grow out of the advertising of the present as it is that the store as it now stands is the result, in large measure, of your "forgotten" advertisements.

You have preserved the results of advertising. You must create new results through new advertising.
