find ample food for reflection in Lincoln's words: "You can fool part of the people at the time, and all the people part of the time, but you can't fool all the people at the time."

Yesterday The Guard placed an order, through Mr. A. Collins, representing the Mergenthaler company, for a model 4 Linotype machine.

The Oregon Electric Railway Co. again announces its intention of coming to Eugene, via Corvallis and the West Side.

Mr. Bryan's speech of acceptance, printed in today's Guard, has the merit of brevity and directness.

We take it that the editor of a well-known trade publication intended to combine a stroke of business and wit when he said: "The business interests of this country, for honesty and integrity, are, as compared with the average mouthing politician, as daylight to darkness."

Bostonians are allowed to make love in the public parks until 10 o'clock in the evening; after that time those caught at it are arrested and fined.

Chicago has at least one very liberal man. He rewarded a post-office driver who found and returned to him a lost check for $50,000 by presenting him with the enormous sum of $2.

Sam Gompers is displaying the courage of his convictions. The harder they knock him the harder he roots for Bryan. He is talking Bryan to the organized labor of Ohio just now.

Perhaps the politician who recently said, "Human nature is playing its part in the political game this year," can point out a campaign year in which it did not, though we doubt it.

Mr. Bryan's leading question, "Shall the people rule?" is pertinent, though not more so than, "Who are the people?"

At least those Iowa politicians might have waited until the state's "grand old man" was recently buried before they started to scamp for his shoes.

Accepting their own words, Mr. Bryan represents hope and Mr. Taft confidence. And each of them thinks he has good reasons for his attitude.

The more surprises state primary elections give the professional politicians the more popular they are likely to become with the average man.

Somehow the man with a bare spot on the top of his head never seems to enjoy the bald-head cracks of the newspaper near-humorist. Wonder why?

Let no man dare to call the Missouri Democrats cattle because they have voted, in primary, to nominate a Cowherd for governor.

1521—Cortez retook the City of Mexico. 1687—Prince Charles of Loraine defeated the Turks at Mahoz, Lower Hungary. 1762—King George IV of England born. Died June 26, 1820.

1812—General Brock arrived at Amherstburg to oppose the invasion of General Hull. 1849—Albert Gallatin, secretary of the treasury in the cabinet of President Jefferson, died at Astoria, Long Island. Born in Switzerland January 29, 1761.

1851—Litchfield, Conn., celebrated its 200th anniversary. 1891—James Russell Lowell died. Born February 22, 1819. 1898—Protocol signed ending hostilities between United States and Spain.

1907—Opening of international Esperanto congress at Cambridge, England. THIS IS MY 63RD BIRTHDAY Charles W. Bartlett.

Charles W. Bartlett, for a number of years one of the Democratic leaders in Massachusetts and an independent candidate for governor of that state in 1907, was born in Boston, August 12, 1845.

There is nothing like having a boss to blame it on.

Most of us hate like sin to pay a bill, but we just have to do it occasionally.

When it is a girl's work every boost is a slip.

It is hard to make both ends meet sometimes, but not nearly so hard as to make one end meet.

The girls all forget it is leap year when the soda fountain blossoms.

Lots of women would just do as they please if they only knew what to do.

Holdup men don't care a rap who make the laws as long as they can break them.

When a man writes a letter to his affinity he would better let his wife blue pencil it and save court scandal.

When a man gets put out of patience he is generally put into a temper.

Some people feel so big that they are invariably astonished that so many people can get into the same room with them.

If you don't lose sleep, you won't gain worry.

She Likes Good Things. Mrs. Chas. E. Smith, of West Franklin, Maine, says: "I like good things and have adopted Dr. King's New Life Pills as our family laxative medicine, because they are good and do their work without making a fuss about it."

Advertisements, Like Clocks, Should Keep Running

A store's advertisements tell the people what is "doing" at that store—what is new, what is inviting, why today is a good time to visit the store. People look for the ads to tell them these things just as naturally as they would look at a clock to tell the time.

Sometimes a clock does not run—sometimes a store's ad does not run. A "run-down" clock or ad are about equally unsatisfactory, unserviceable, misleading.

Curious thing about it is that a merchant who would think it absurd to have a run-down or out-of-repair clock will, sometimes, deliberately let his ad stop running. It's not wise nor good business, nor defensible on any known grounds—but it is sometimes done.
