CITY NEWS

Registrar Tiffany, of the University, is expected to return the last of the week.

Another carload of white pressed brick for the I. O. O. F. block arrived from Newberg this morning.

Frank E. Blair, of Fall Creek, today filed with the county clerk his commission as notary public.

I. T. Nicklin is rearranging the interior of his store at East Ninth and Oak streets, making it more convenient.

Slight showers fell today and they were indeed welcome, but a heavier rain would have been better appreciated.

The Campbell-Fellman Company have received their new dynamo and will start up their light plant in a short time.

The heating plant at the University is being overhauled and new brick work put in. No additional boiler will be added this year.

A fine new delivery wagon for William Johnson, local distributor for the Grand Union Tea Company, arrived from Portland this morning.

A. R. Black left Eugene this morning for Waldo Lake. He expects his surveyors, who have been in the field for over a month, to return to Eugene some time this week.

The tennis court at the University is being torn up today, and will be moved to the lower edge of the campus, near the Twelfth street entrance.

The Davies hall on East Ninth street will be divided into lodging rooms by C. S. Frank, the owner, and they will be leased by Mr. and Mrs. E. Hill, who will conduct a lodging house. The work will be completed by September 1.

John Burns, of Coburg, was fined $10 and costs in the justice court today for assault and battery upon F. Deffenbacher, he having pleaded guilty.

The window frames on the second story of the new I. O. O. F. block are being placed in position and the building is beginning to assume proportions.

The homestead contest case of Elizabeth S. Day vs. Earl Parsons, involving 160 acres in section 14, township 19, south of range 6 west, has been withdrawn by the contestant.

At the Eugene theatre tonight, "On the Frontier," a story of the West, will be presented by a clever company. Their band concert on the street at noon was enjoyed by a large crowd.

Captain Briggs, the superintendent of the University campus, expects to begin construction of the new lawns in the western part of the campus as soon as rain enough falls to soften the earth.

J. W. Bailey, state food commissioner, arrived in Eugene last night from Portland and left this morning for Thurston, where he attended and addressed a meeting of dairymen during the day.

Fishing up the McKenzie is reported to be very poor. On the Willamette anglers claim that catches are small. Some believe, however, that with September more trout will be taken, as the season is generally late.

Six or seven hobos were jailed last night and this morning were turned over to the Booth-Kelly Company and sent to Wendling to work on the new logging railroad. On every train to Wendling nowadays there are a number of men going to work on the road.

One Lane county farmer said today that the wheat threshing was showing the crop to be light. He believed that all the fields in Lane county could not bring a higher average than fifteen bushels to the acre. Oats he thought were light, the heads not all being filled.

An outing party consisting of Dr. Shaw, Dan Tarpley, Harry Rands, A. C. Oberton, Wm. Sutherland and wife, R. Churchill and wife, all of Portland, Fred Ware and wife, of Chehalis, Wash., and Frank Ware, of Salem, are here and will leave for the upper McKenzie tomorrow.

The temporary class building for the University which will be erected on the recently purchased lots, will consist of five rooms on the lower floor and three on the upper. There will be no basement. Steward L. H. Johnson says work on it will begin about September 1. The blue prints will probably be finished this week.

R. H. Bernhardt, Paul Bernhardt, Harry Bernhardt and Harry Savage, of Acme, arrived here this morning. They started from Mapleton yesterday morning at 7 o'clock in a wagon and arrived in Eugene at 6 o'clock this morning, having traveled all night. R. H. Bernhardt brought three wildcat scalps, he soon having killed them some time ago, the beasts having killed 15 lambs on their ranch previous to that.

Colonel E. Hofer, editor and proprietor of the Salem Capital Journal, is in the city on business for a day. He states that Salem is making strides forward as she never has before, and from now on he thinks the capital city will keep up with Eugene in this regard. He says the Warren Construction Company is employing a thousand men in the street paving operations there and the work will probably be kept up for another year or more.

F. A. Rankin has just built a cement walk in front of his residence on Olive street. Attorney S. P. Ness and S. M. Yoran have built walks on either side of him, and A. W. Haskell is preparing to build in front of his residence, making a solid block of walk of that material. On the opposite side of the street J. Pironi has built a cent walk and A. N. Striker and Mrs. Rachel Sanders will build soon. On the walk further north J. R. Campbell and W. L. McFarland have been ordered to replace their wooden walks with cement.

The Campbell-Fellman Company, the big housefurnishers, have another page advertisement in today's Guard which is alive with special inducements to careful buyers. This firm gives sales regularly and lives up strictly to every advertisement they put out, and by this method have built up the largest housefurnishing business in the state outside of Portland. They took hold of the present business 18 months ago and have more than doubled the stock carried by their predecessor, now having a floor space of nearly 30,000 square feet. The firm are now manufacturing couches, mattresses and davenports, being able to make a better article for less money than they have had to ship in.

The reinforced centre Vudor hammock is the one to buy. They are wider, longer and stronger than the ordinary kind.

DAUGHTER OF WILL STILES DROWNED

The remains of Thelma, the three-year-old daughter of Will Stiles and wife, who was drowned in the Willamette river at Portland Monday evening, arrived in Eugene on this afternoon's train and will be buried in the I. O. O. F. cemetery tomorrow. The funeral service will be held at Gordon's undertaking parlors at 10 a. m., to be conducted by Rev. Brooks.

The little girl was playing around a houseboat in the river when she was missed by her mother. A search revealed her body in the bottom of the river. She had fallen overboard while at play. Mr. and Mrs. Stiles formerly resided in Eugene, Mr. Stiles being a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Stiles.

STREETS FOR RENT IN JUNCTION CITY

Junction City, Or., Aug. 11.—A controversy over the fencing up of the streets and alleys was brought to a close last night in the city council. City Attorney McKendall represented the citizens who favored fencing in the streets. Mayor Houston represented the city. A vote was taken on a motion to keep the streets and alleys closed, the city to receive a rent of $1 a year for each street and alley fenced in. The vote was 4 to 2 in favor of the proposition.

BOTH MACHINES WIN IN CALIFORNIA

San Francisco, Aug. 11.—At 11 o'clock tonight returns from the Republican and Democratic primaries, which were held throughout the state today, were incomplete, but the figures indicate that the regular organization or machine in both parties had won the victory. There was no contest in the Independence league, Socialist and Union Labor parties. In San Francisco the Lincoln-Roosevelt league carried but four of the seventeen districts, and one of these is in doubt. On the Democratic side Bell, or the opposition ticket, had carried only six districts.
