Man Separated From His Wife

Who Is Responsible?

We refer to a man who lives here and keeps his family in Portland because he cannot find a house for them in Eugene. This is bad for him and bad for Eugene. The real estate men tell us they cannot supply half the demand for houses. We will furnish the Lumber, Lath and Shingles if some one will get busy and build a few more houses to rent.

HAD LOADED RIFLE SHELLS IN SHAM BATTLE
REPORTED THAT BALL CARTRIDGES WERE FOUND AMONG MEMBERS OF ONE COMPANY IN FOURTH REGIMENT AT AMERICAN LAKE DURING PROGRESS OF FIGHT.

The following sensational story appeared in the Portland Journal of yesterday and will be of interest to Eugene people on account of the fact that this city sent over 100 men to the encampment at American Lake.

La Fayette, Or., Aug. 13.—Returning soldiers from American Lake are today discussing the sensational discoveries made just prior to the sham battles and which the commanding officers expressed from publication—the finding of loaded cartridges on the firing line.
That several men were not killed in the sham battles was reported in the papers and dailies. Several steel bullets were fired in the two days' engagements. In one company of the Fourth Oregon Infantry alone were found several loaded clips which were confiscated and handed in to the captain. One of the regular army lieutenants, while kneeling on the firing line, heard several bullets sing over his head and made the remark that he wished his men were also armed with loaded cartridges.
Almost any National Guardsman in the engagement will admit that some loaded cartridges were used and without doubt many more would have been had not every precaution been taken. Many of the men were found to have shells in their hats. These were all gathered in. Had the word been given it is believed the men would have engaged in a regular pitched battle. The report was circulated among the soldiers that several men were struck and others emphatically declare they heard the sing of steel.

Chief soldiers suffered no accidents and no blame can be laid to the officers as they used every precaution in the two days' maneuvers, but with the thousands of men engaged and the amount of ammunition apportioned for target shooting it is obvious that loaded ammunition would creep in. It is not presumed that there was any intention of killing.

YEOMEN HOMESTEAD ORGANIZED LAST NIGHT
EXPECTED THAT CHARTER LIST WILL NUMBER OVER ONE HUNDRED MEMBERS—PROGRAM RENDERED

A new homestead of the Brotherhood of American Yeomen was instituted in the A. O. U. W. hall last night by H. A. Miller, coast manager of the order. It is expected that the charter list will number over 100 by next Monday evening, at which time the election of officers will take place.
Before the institution ceremonies took place a public entertainment was given with the following program: Piano solo, Miss Wood; vocal trio, the Misses Gilbert, pantomime, Miss Stinguland; address on Yeomanry, Coast Manager H. A. Miller. Refreshments were served by a committee composed of Susan D. Hill, Mrs. Charles Gulliford and Miss Grace Woodward. A very enjoyable evening was spent by all present. The new organization starts out with very bright prospects of success.

THREE MILES OF EAGLES IN LINE AT SEATTLE

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 11.—Eleven thousand Eagles and numerous floats formed a parade three miles in length—the first division being dismissed at the reviewing stand before the second had started on the march, made one of the spectacular features of the tenth convention of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, now in session here. The parade formed and started on time at 11 o'clock this forenoon. In spite of lowering clouds and threatening rain, thousands turned out early to witness the procession. The Eagles, with many banners and handsomely decorated floats and marching clubs in unique uniforms, were headed by their famous fire and drum corps, and "yay, yea," was yelled from thousands of throats.

The unique floats in the parade consisted of a huge eagle's nest by Seattle aerie No. 1 and Spokane Falls by the Spokane aerie, Mrs. Thos. Moore, surrounded by 60 children, represented the mother aerie. The Bremerton aerie had a large float representing the battleship Nebraska. Several lone delegations from Eastern aeries appeared gorgeously decorated and carrying the banner of their aerie. The lone delegates were lustily cheered by the crowd along the route.
There was no session of the grand aerie today, adjournment being taken last night to Friday morning, when the officers will be elected and the city chosen for the next meeting place.
