

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it. It is heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It corrects inability to hold urine and stinging pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

TEN YEARS OF EFFORT IN BLACK BUTTE MINES

In the foothills of the Calapoos mountains on the coast fork of the Willamette river, 16 miles south of Cottage Grove, a great mine has been carved out of the hills. It has taken 10 long years of faithfully devoted work, and a pile of the yellow metal, to do it, but a great industry has been established which will give lucrative employment to men and sustenance for their families, probably for many years after the man who has pioneered it has been gathered to his fathers. Against all odds, discouragements and difficulties, of which there have been plenty, as in all work of this kind, the development of the mine has gone steadily forward. Not a day since the property, nearly 10 years ago, came into the hands of one of its present owners, William B. Dennis, formerly of Spokane, Wash., has work ceased. Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been paid out for labor and supplies in the southern end of Lane county. The valley between Cottage Grove and Black Butte is one of the most prosperous and up-to-date farming sections of Lane county. Every farmer and farmer's son has had a job of work when he wanted it. Two telephone lines, free rural mail delivery, express, and one of the best wagon roads in the state, are the direct results of Mr. Dennis' enterprise. Cottage Grove, Eugene and even Shoe String Valley have all come in for a share of the benefits. Hundreds of thousands of tons of ore are blocked out, ready to be winnowed for the smelter. The great smelter is completed and in operation, and the stream of Hoid silver has begun to flow into the markets of the world. The first carload was shipped last week to New York. The mines are at the head of the Coast Fork valley. Black Butte mountain, densely fir-tree-clad from its base to its summit, rises majestically to a height of 2,750 feet above sea level. Quoting from the report of an eminent geologist: "In a sense it may be said that the whole mountain is one huge lode." The vein is 400 feet wide, and has been proved for over two miles in length. Other parallel and intersecting veins have been proven and developed on the 2,000 acres comprising the Black Butte property. Over five miles of tunnels, raises, shafts and winzes have been driven, and yet all this vast amount of work is only as a few want-holes in comparison to the enormous size of the ore bodies. Of course, it is to be expected, so great a mass of ore is naturally low-grade as to mineral values, and the owners have developed it on a low-grade basis. Nevertheless, the mine produces some of the richest quick-silver ore found in any part of the world. Nearby Timber Holdings. In addition to the value of the mine, large timber holdings have been acquired which alone will be worth a handsome sum in a few years. Also partially developed is a water power system which is capable of supplying not only all the requirements of the mine, but also sufficient power for electric transportation from Eugene to Oakland. The mine, reduction plant and village of Black Butte, are now lighted by electricity generated by a Leffel turbine operated by this power. The smelter, or reduction plant as it is called, has a capacity of 80 tons per 24-hour day. But this is said to be only a beginning. Additional furnaces are to be erected, in the near future, for 300 or 400 tons per day. The quantity of ore exposed more than justifies it. The type of plant to be used will be the "Dennis Roasting Furnace," an invention of the manager of the mine. As a place of residence Black Butte has all the charms of a summer mountain resort, lovely climate, beautiful scenery, splendid roads, nearly painted cottages, and the finest mountain water. Laborers and their families have all the conveniences and comforts of town life, and much more, and are fortunate to find such favorable conditions of living.—Oregon Journal.

GARDEN HOME ADDITION

IS SITUATED close to the city limits on the Southwest---only a short distance beyond the Fair Grounds. It adjoins the large tract purchased by J. C. Storey, president of the Portland, Eugene & Eastern R. R., which indicates that it will be in close proximity to the electric road system in the near future. It is bounded by a county road on two sides, and lies beautifully, sloping gently to the northwest, which gives it perfect drainage.
