

JUDGE PARKER OPENS CAMPAIGN IN OREGON

ALTON B. PARKER, FROM HIS LATEST PHOTOGRAPH.

Portland, Aug. 19.—Charging that the protective tariff is the instrument by which competition is destroyed and that the Republican party is the foster parent of trusts, Judge Alton Brooks Parker, ex-chief justice of the appellate court of New York, last night won the plaudits of an enormous audience that filled the Helig Theatre to overflowing.

It was the opening meeting by the Democrats of the presidential campaign in Oregon. Delaney Nichols, ex-District attorney of New York, and Congressman Theodore A. Bell, of California, also addressed the meeting, of which W. H. Holmes, of Salem, was chairman.

Bryan's Name Loudly Cheered

The mere mention of Bryan's name had the same effect that would result from the waving of a college pennant before an assembly of alumni, and the same demonstration greeted the declaration of Judge Parker in advocacy of some legislation that would prohibit corporations from contributing in any form to for the presidency that is worthy of the confidence of every manly man, and that we have a candidate for vice president equally worthy, we would need have no fear of the result. But behind our presidential nominee we need a Democratic address to back up his policies. With one hour of our legislative body so organized, a Republican senate would not dare stand up against the mandate of the people for clean legislation.

STREETS WILL BE ILLUMINATED THURSDAY

SLASHING FIRE SPREADS OVER THIRTY ACRES

A fire near Elmira yesterday burned over twenty-five or thirty acres of field land, slightly touching some green timber, destroying a half mile of fence and threatening the buildings of Dan Rude's place for some time. By hard work it was extinguished before doing further damage. The blaze originated from a slashing burning, and before the conflagration was conquered men were called from every portion of the neighborhood. The damage is probably $200.

PANTHER KILLED NEAR LORANE LAST TUESDAY

(Special Correspondence.) Cottage Grove, Aug. 19.—A man by the name of Blaine A. Addison, with several others, including Leslie Seward, who is visiting from Chicago, killed a large panther Tuesday morning about a mile from Lorane. The big cat had killed a good-sized goat and had dragged it for nearly a quarter of a mile down the road. They easily followed him when he discovered he had climbed a tree, where he was quickly shot.

LEE WILLARD IN "A POOR RELATION" TONIGHT

A large audience promises to welcome Lee Willard tonight at the Eugene theatre. Mr. Willard is presenting this season only one play, "A Poor Relation," a beautiful comedy-drama, by Edw. E. Kildler. Arthur A. Greene, dramatic critic for the Oregonian, in reviewing Mr. Willard's performance of "The County Squire" last season at the Marquam Grand, Portland, writes as follows: "We have long been looking for a successor to Sol Smith Russell, and I believe he has arrived in the person of Lee Willard."

Why James Lee Got Well. Everybody in Zanesville, O., knows Mrs. Mary Lee, of rural route 8. She writes: "My husband, James Lee, firmly believes he owes his life to the use of Dr. King's New Discovery. His lungs were so severely affected that consumption seemed inevitable, when a friend recommended New Discovery. We tried it, and its use has restored him to perfect health." Dr. King's New Discovery is the King of throat and lung remedies. For coughs and colds it has no equal. The first dose gives relief. Try it. Sold under guarantee at Kuykendall's drug store, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

AT THE GRAND. The program at the Grand will be found in another column and is one of the best of the season. Plenty of comedy with just enough drama to make it interesting. Two performances each evening.

CHAFIN NOTIFIED OF NOMINATION

tion civilization. They were the representatives of two dominant political parties, Whig and Democratic, which for about 50 years opposed the bringing of any great new question into the political arena.

"We are now approaching the close of another 50 years where two dominant parties, Republican and Democratic, have allied themselves with the most gigantic crime that ever cursed the world, and by their attitude make known to the American people that they do not propose to permit them to have a chance even though the majority may favor it, to destroy the liquor traffic and add another amendment to the constitution, which would mark the highest achievement of civilization in the world's history.

"Twenty-seven presidential campaigns have been more or less fiercely fought to gain control of the national government. Most of them have been battles over fictitious issues which had little or nothing to do with the administrations which followed. In not more than six instances would a line of American history have been changed if the defeated candidate had been elected instead of the successful one. This party strife over false issues for the sake of obtaining office has made moral cowards of many of our public men, and transformed some of our chief executives into mere pawns upon the party chess board; for no man lives in history and in the hearts of the people who does not stand for the highest moral sentiment of his day.

"The makers of the federal constitution wisely decided that once in four years the people should have the opportunity, through the election of a president and house of representatives, to record the advance made in morals and adopt new and necessary methods of government. If one or more political parties are to be kept in power, twenty-five or fifty years, each succeeding administration carrying out the policy of the past, and refusing to enact into law the progress attained, then such party or parties have violated the very spirit of the constitution, and turned our Democracy into despotism, making the political boss dictator.

"We are dangerously near that condition of things in the pending presidential campaign. The attempt made by the Republican and Democratic parties to create a fictitious issue is the most farcical in our history, in the face of the fact that during the past four years the question of prohibition of the liquor traffic has attracted wider attention of the press and the people than all other public issues combined.

"Abraham Lincoln said of intemperance: "The demon of intemperance ever seems to have delighted in sucking the blood of genius and generosity. When one of us can but call to mind some dear relative, more promising in youth than all his fellows, who has fallen a sacrifice to his rapacity? He ever seems to have gone forth, like the Egyptian angel of death, commissioned to slay if not the first, the fairest born of every family. Shall he now be arrested in his desolating career? In that arrest all can give aid that will; and who shall be excused that can and will not? Far around as human breath has ever blown, he keeps our fathers, our brothers, our sons, and our friends prostrate in the chains of moral death. To all the living everywhere we cry, Come! sound the moral resurrection trump, that these may rise and stand up an exceedingly great army—come from the four winds. Oh, breathe, and breathe upon these slain, that they may live."

"Mr. Chairman, the platform adopted by the national convention of the prohibition party over which you presided is so plain and comprehensive that no voter need read it a second time to understand exactly what it means. I have studied the platform of all other political parties. Ours gives the voter the only opportunity he will have this year to cast his ballot against the liquor traffic, and for other reforms being earnestly demanded by the people.

"The lofty ideals of the twentieth century statesmanship call for a United States senate born of an intelligent people's conscience, instead of mocking statues surrounding the pedestals of concentrated wealth, the equalization of public burdens by a system that will compel the rich to pay their proper proportion of the costs of government. A graduated income and inheritance tax will be a long step in this direction.

"The development of the trusts has changed entirely all the old theories of a protective tariff and free trade, and the people demand legislation in their interest upon this important matter, which can be best worked out by a permanent tariff commission. We are the only party that strikes a blow at the social evil, so closely allied to the liquor traffic, and propose the only practical method of stamping out polygamy throughout the nation by a uniform marriage and divorce law.

"While not a line of history will be changed by the election of a Republican or a Democrat, the triumph of the prohibition party and the plugging of its platform in the constitution and upon the statute book will write the loneliest, brightest, predest and most beneficent chapter of history that has marked the progress of civilization since governments were instituted among men."
