now four and one-half times what it was in 1850, nearly twice what it was in 1890, and 48 per cent greater than it was in 1900. The effects on industry of this rise and inflation will be striking. As soon as merchants, builders and speculators become aware of the fact that prices have again begun to rise rapidly, there will be a scramble to buy materials, goods and supplies. Consequently, within the next three months, and regardless of the presidential election, we may expect to see a remarkable revival in business. Possibly by next year we shall have as many orders as we had in 1906, and our producing and distributing facilities will then be taxed to their utmost capacity.

CHAS. FROHMAN HEADS OF NEW THEATRICAL SYNDICATE. A. L. ERLANGER

A. L. Erlanger and Charles Frohman are the principal movers in the plan to combine nearly all the successful theaters in the United States under one syndicate. The purpose of the scheme is to prevent the building of more theaters until the theatrical business becomes more profitable and to eliminate from the booking lists those playhouses which are not now profitable. Klaw and Erlanger now control through minor syndicates the vast majority of the theaters, but many of these have not returned profits in the last few years.

cannot hope to get a big haul out of the Hals brothers case, as they did out of the Thaw case—the family hasn't the money.

"Get busy" is the slogan at the headquarters of both the great parties, and the people are living right up to it—in everything but national politics.

As the Boston Herald sees 'em, "Trusts are of three kinds—good, bad and indifferent." Our education may have been neglected, but if a trust is a monopoly, as we have been taught to believe, it is necessarily bad—for everybody, except its owners.

Eugene has many visitors within her gates today and we trust that all our citizens will unite in extending to them every possible courtesy. Hospitality, hearty and genuine, is a virtue that should be cultivated by individual and community alike.

A dago barber, doing business in Johnstown, Pa., solved the problem of how to deal with a Black Hand blackmail, by killing the one who demanded $600 of him. A few solvings of that brand and there would be no Black Hand.

Phrases are as contagious as diseases. Fashion is now demanding a square deal in female figures, with all curves eliminated. But for all that, it is the "one best bet" that the girl with curves and dimples will not lack attention.

Well, suppose William Nelson Cromwell did make a $50,000 campaign contribution? He could afford it, if he got the $2,000,000 fee out of the transfer of the Panama Canal, he was credited with getting, couldn't he?

A paragrapher mistakingly speaks of "young men who realize that they are a little shy on brains." There "ain't no sich." When nature fails to give brains, it gives so much "gall" that the victim never realizes the lack.

Maybe it's a wise move on the part of the Methodist preachers of Nebraska to demand pledges from all republican candidates for congress on the speakership question, but many will have to "be shown."

Perhaps after all the baseball penchants have been won the politicians will be able to work up a little more enthusiasm. Meanwhile they might try running in a little canned enthusiasm to fill up.

The republicans of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Iowa seem to be in the worst jangle of years, and if Mr. Bryan is defeated it will not be the result of republican harmony and united action.

Hope should always be cultivated. Without it this old world would be a mighty dreary place. However, it is just as well to keep in mind that it takes some to carry an election.

Anyway, no town in Oregon, outside of Portland, can show better and cleaner streets, more fine residences, well-kept lawns and substantial business blocks than Eugene.

They are holding men beauty shows in Europe. We'd be willing to head a subscription to send several local competitors, if they will agree not to come back.

More practical evidence that advertising pays is being furnished by Calver Powers, the much tried Real-estate man, who is making good as a Chattanooga attraction.

Remember the name—Don't—and take no others.

Advertisements, Like Clocks, Should Keep Running

A store's advertisements tell the people what is "doing" at that store—what is new, what is inviting, why today is a good time to visit the store. People look for the ads to tell them these things just as naturally as they would look at a clock to tell the time. Sometimes a clock does not run—sometimes a store's ads does not run. A "run-down" clock or ad are about equally unsatisfactory, unserviceable, misleading. Curious thing about it is that a merchant who would think it absurd to have a run-down or out-of-repair clock will, sometimes, deliberately let his ad stop running. It's not wise, nor good business, nor defensible on any known grounds—but it is sometimes done.

FOR SALE, EXCHANGE OR LEASE

Having concluded to retire from the lumber business I offer for sale, lease or will exchange for Eugene or Portland income property, my sawmill, sawmill site, booms, lumber sheds, office, planers, dry kilns and all tools connected with the business. Mill located at river bridge in the centre of Eugene city, east and west, and only three blocks from the S. P. R. R. This is a fine opportunity for some one to go into the lumber business, as there is always a big local demand for all slashwood, sawdust, shavings, mill lumber, as well as the better grades of lumber. Logs are cheap, labor cheap, lumber high. A good millman can make this property pay for itself in two years, and if he will operate day and night in one year. Greatest opportunity in this part of Oregon for a mill man; best located mill in the state. Capacity, 20,000 feet in ten hours. When you have this mill you are at the market. Planer and dry kiln—everything needed to make lots of lumber and lots of money. Give this your early attention if interested in a lumber proposition. I am sure you cannot beat it in the state. The quicker you act the surer you are of making your fortune, for this is a chance in a lifetime. M. S. BARKER, 333 Pearl street, Eugene, Or.
