FIFTEEN YEARS OF KEEN SUFFERING

Rheumatism Developed Burning, Painful Sores on Legs—Tortured Day and Night—Tried All Kinds of Remedies to No Avail—Wife Had Debility and Pains in Back.

BOTH USED CUTICURA AND ARE WELL AGAIN

"My husband had been a great sufferer with rheumatism for nearly fifteen years. At first it was in his back, but after a while it was in the neck and finally running down his spine. He was unable to do his work, and his wife was unable to do hers. There were no words to tell all the discomfort and great suffering he had to endure night and day. He used every kind of remedy and three physicians treated him, but after the other, without any good result whatever. One day I happened to read about Cuticura Remedy. I asked him if he would not try it. He said he would. He used it for a few days, and the next day I ordered $10.00 worth of Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Resolvent. He began to use them without confidence but after three weeks all the sores were dried up. The burning fire stopped, and the pains became bearable. After three months he was quite well. Two years later the pains and sores came back after he had been working hard and had taken cold. But as soon as he used Cuticura again it cured him. Two years ago I used Cuticura Pills for general debility. They did me a great deal of good and made me well. Three months since I had pains in my back and Cuticura took them away, too. I can prove this testimony at any time. Mrs. V. Y. Albert, Upper Frenchville, Me., July 21, 1907."

A Single Treatment

Consisting of a warm bath with Cuticura Soap, a gentle application of Cuticura Ointment, and a mild dose of Cuticura Resolvent or Pills, is often sufficient to afford instant relief, permit rest and sleep, and point to a speedy cure of itching, disfiguring sores, rashes, itches, irritations, and inflammations of the skin and scalp, from infancy to age, when all else fails.

UNIVERSAL INTEREST IN NEW YORK PRIMARIES

New York, Sept. 8.—The presidential campaign was a secondary consideration with the politicians of Greater New York today. The attention of everyone, from the district leader to the ordinary voter, was engrossed in the assembly district primaries. Results of great importance are expected from the primaries. In fact, the future of some of the party leaders is at stake.

The republican primaries are expected to indicate to a certain extent the strength of Governor Hughes in his fight for renomination at the Saratoga convention next week. Herbert Parsons and some of his lieutenants have arranged a test vote on the governor in several of the districts. Separate tickets have been put up in these districts, and enrolled republicans invited to express their preference for or against the renomination of the governor.

The republican situation as affected by the primaries is interesting, but so far as the general public is concerned it is entirely overshadowed by the issues at stake in the democratic primaries at the other end of the Brooklyn bridge. The long-standing fight between "Boss" Murphy of Tammany Hall and Senator Patrick McCarron, the democratic leader in Brooklyn, for the control of the democracy of Kings county reaches its climax in the primaries today. It is a fight, and a fight to a finish, for the victor will be the undisputed leader in Brooklyn for a long time to come.

Ever since Murphy came into power he has nursed an ambition to make the democracy of Kings county a tail to his Tammany Hall kite. With Brooklyn added to his domain he felt that Tammany Hall could pretty nearly dictate to the democratic party of New York state and would likewise be a most influential factor in the control of the party throughout the nation. At the time that Murphy conceived this plan the situation in Kings county appeared on the surface to be highly favorable to a realization of his ambitions. Some of the leaders who had been most powerful in the control of the democratic party in Brooklyn had died. The influence of others had been seriously undermined. To the consummate politician of the Murphy calibre it looked to be rather an easy matter to gain control.

But just when the Tiger's hordes were ready to cross the bridge "Horatio" Patrick McCarron appeared to repel the leoprous invasion. McCarron had been more or less active in Brooklyn politics for some years, gradually working up to the top without getting in the limelight any more than he could help. His friends described him as a "slick" politician. Murphy found him to be not only a "slick" politician but a hard fighter as well. Every move of Tammany to gain control in Brooklyn has been fought by McCarron tooth and nail. In the primaries, in the conventions and in the courts he has carried on the fight in a manner that has won admiration even from those who were not in sympathy with him. It is believed that today's primaries will prove the turning-point of the battle.

Senator McCarron predicts that he will sweep everything before him in the primaries. "I'll win in the end," he says, "or tear the house down." "Boss" Murphy, following his rule, is awaiting the result in silence.

FIRST CAMPAIGN GUNS TO SOUND IN PEORIA

Chicago, Sept. 8.—William J. Bryan conferred today with the Democratic national committee and the members of the various sub-committees in regard to the final plans for the presidential campaign. The situation was canvassed thoroughly, the results up to date reviewed, and plans discussed to make the future work as effective as possible.

Mr. Bryan is going to Peoria tomorrow to attend the Democratic state convention. The convention is intended to be more than a state affair. With the presidential and vice-presidential candidates on hand, together with a number of other party leaders of eminence, the convention will mark a "real" initiation of the Democratic national campaign. The leaders have made plans for a tremendous demonstration. Bryan and others, the adherents of the Roger Sullivan faction and the big element of the old-line Democracy in Illinois will all take part.

Mr. Bryan and Mr. Kern will deliver speeches in which they will strike at the thought which is to be the central idea of the Democratic campaign. The third speaker will be Adlai E. Stevenson, who will formally open his campaign for the governorship.

CONNECTICUT REPUBLICANS MEET IN CONVENTION

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 8.—Practically all of the delegates have arrived in the city for the Republican state convention, which is to nominate state officers, a congressman-at-large and seven presidential electors. The convention meets for organization this evening, but the nominations will not be made until tomorrow.

The results of the primaries indicate that Congressman George K. Lilley leads in the race for the gubernatorial nomination. Congressman Lilley is working hard for the nomination, and if he wins he will consider it tantamount to a vindication of his course in Washington in trying to investigate the submarine boat contracts.

Lieutenant-Governor Everett J. Lake, Lilley's principal opponent, admits he has only a chance of victory lies in extraordinary work among the delegates committed to his opponent's candidacy. The report of the anti-maritime investigating committee is being circulated freely by the faction opposing Lilley and he is being charged with having brought his accusations in order to make political capital as a reformer.

PARTY CONVENTIONS IN OLD MISSOURI

Jefferson City, Mo., Sept. 8.—No city in Missouri, except on the occasion of a national convention, ever entertained so many politicians at one time as fell to the lot of Jefferson City today. And on no previous occasion in the history of the state was there ever held a gathering that represented five separate and distinct political parties.

The meeting of the various parties at the same time is due to the provisions of the state primary law, which went into effect the first of the month. The law provides that all of the parties having state tickets in the field must hold conventions on the same date and at the same place to ratify the results of the primary, organize the state committees and prepare platforms. These platforms must be promulgated within 24 hours after the meeting of the conventions.

The conventions in session here today represent the Democratic, Republican, Prohibitionist, Socialist and Independence parties. Chief interest naturally centers in the meetings of the Democrats and Republicans. These two conventions have attracted many delegates and visitors, while the meetings of the three minor parties are comparatively small.

Aside from the selection of chairmen of the state committees the business of the several conventions is purely of a routine character. Indications point to the re-election of Harry M. Rubey and W. S. Dieke, the present heads of the Democratic and republican state committees, respectively.

Democrats of Montana

Anacostia, Mont., Sept. 8.—The Democratic state convention met in Anacostia today and was called to order by D. G. Browne, of Fort Benton, chairman of the state executive committee. The convention will adopt a platform and name candidates for the state offices to be filled at the November election.

Congressman to Be Tried

Fremont, O., Sept. 8.—The case of Congressman J. F. Laning, under indictment charging him with embezzlement and larceny, was called for trial here today, having been brought here on a change of venue from Newark. The charges against Representative Laning grew out of the failure of the Ohio Trust Company, of which he was vice president.

S. P. TIE PRESERVING PLANT AT WORK

Cottage Grove, Sept. 7.—On Thursday of last week the big tie-preserving plant of the Southern Pacific railroad company steamed up at the Latham siding, one mile south of this city, for the usual fall and winter run. This will result in the various sawmills hereabouts finding ready sale for all of their railroad ties. In fact the Brown Lumber Company and several other local sawmill companies are already billing out two and three carloads of ties per day from their yards to the tie plant, which gives employment to a large number of men and maintains a good-sized payroll. All this will assist in stimulating business in this city and the various lumber camps tributary.

It does not seem to make any difference what the symptoms may be, if the trouble exists in the kidneys Doan's Kidney Pills will cure it.
