SPLENDID RESULTS IN FRUIT GROWING BY MR. SHAFER

CRESWELL STOCK RAISER SET ASIDE A PART OF HIS RANCH FOR PEACHES AND CHERRIES AND IS GLAD HE DID IT—RECLAIMED AN OLD PRUNE ORCHARD

(Special Correspondence.)
Creswell, Sept. 9.—On Tuesday, September 8, by invitation of our esteemed neighbor and friend, T. A. Shafer, a number of citizens of Creswell, including the writer, C. J. Fuller, Dr. L. D. Scarborough, Judge G. S. Miller and J. L. Clark, took a ride out to the fine home of Mr. Shafer, located two miles southeast of town. The object Mr. Shafer had in view was to show what can be done in the way of raising fruit, and reclaiming old orchards by thorough cultivation and proper care. Through Mr. Shafer does not claim to be a fruit man, but a stockman, from choice, the results of his work in the fruit line were a surprise to the whole party. We gathered from his peach trees that have only been set out two years, some of the finest Crawford peaches it has ever been our fortune to sample, and we saw new growth on the peach trees over six feet long and three-quarters of an inch in thickness, and the trees were all rugged and healthy, the ground perfectly clean and by cultivation kept moist. He has ten acres of cherry and peach orchard set in alternate rows, with the Bing, Royal Ann and Centennial cherries and the Crawford and other standard varieties of peaches. Also ten acres more of cherries set out this season, all making a fine, healthy growth. While looking over the young orchard Dr. Scarborough made him the following offer: That if he would set out the balance of the 60 acres which he intends to set out in cherries and tend it for two years, he, the doctor, would bind himself in writing to purchase the sixty acres at $12,000, or $200 per acre, but Mr. Shafer laughingly replied: "I want to get the benefit of this orchard myself." He next took us to look at an old prune orchard that I advised him two years ago to grub out. Here is where the reclaiming comes in. The old prune orchard that two years ago was grown up to fern and other weeds, and the trees looking hardly fit for firewood, was as clean as a well-kept garden and loaded with fruit to breaking. Mr. Scarborough, who is an authority on prunes, estimated that the crop on the 290 trees at 700 bushels, worth 30 to 35 cents per bushel, green. It has been largely through the influence of Dr. Scarborough that Mr. Shafer is trying the fruit business, and of course he is highly pleased to see such evidence of success. Now, the point we wish to make is this: We have in this part of Oregon hundreds, yes thousands of acres of just such land that can be bought for from $25 to $100 per acre that with intelligent care and cultivation can be made in five years to be worth $200 to $500 per acre, but we are greatly in need of Shafers and Scarboroughs to take hold of it and handle it. In hopes that more of our farmers who are raising such fine crops of corn and goat weed may be induced to try fruit in a practical, commonsense way, I advise them to make a visit to the fine and hospitable home of T. A. Shafer, and also to take a look through the orchards of Dr. Scarborough. It will pay.

NELSON BESTS GANS IN HARD BATTLE

Round 7—Nelson rushed Gans, who landed terrific right to stomach and left to jaw. Nelson landed short arm blows to body and followed with left uppercut to jaw. Gans staggered him with right left to jaw and left to same place. Gans' round.
Round 8—Nelson shot two lefts to mouth, starting blood. Gans blocked, Nelson doing all the work. Gans then landed two right uppercuts to jaw. At close quarters, Gans busy blocking, when Gans sounded. Nelson's round.
Round 9—Dane rushed in and Gans backed away, landing two uppercuts to face. In close fighting the Dane landed on jaw with left. Nelson's right hands were rather low, causing crowd to yell its disfavor. Nelson got in two rights and left to stomach. Nelson's round.
Round 10—Gans landed left to jaw and after clinch Nelson landed right swing to stomach and beat a tattoo on stomach with short arm rights and lefts. Gans landed two uppercuts and Nelson swung elbow, catching Gans on point of jaw. Crowd hooted Nelson, who was cautioned by referee. Round even.
Round 11—Nelson rushes Gans and has him on defensive most of the time. Gans landed several times in rallies, but failed to do any damage. Gans clinches frequently and is bleeding freely.
Round 14—Gans landed straight left to jaw. At close quarters Nelson did much execution with uppercuts. Both cautioned to break by referee. Gans landed hard rights to stomach, following with lefts to the same place, but could not follow his advantage. Gans' round.
Round 15—Gans landed right and left to jaw, and then shook Nelson with two rights to same place, but the Dane never gave colored man a chance to rest. Gans landed terrific right to Nelson's jaw as round ended. Even round.
Round 16—Nelson landed left to face. Gans landed left hook to jaw. Gans swung terrific right to jaw, but Nelson forced him to ropes, landing several lefts to body. Gans staggered Nelson with two rights to jaw. Round very fast.
Round 17—At close quarters, Gans uppercutting with right to face. Gans landed several times on Nelson's jaw and body. Gans' round.
Round 18—Nelson rushed, landing two lefts to head, forcing Gans to ropes, landing right and left to jaw and body. Nelson nearly closed Gans' right eye with right to face. Round all Nelson.
Gans Knocked Out
Round 21—Nelson worked into a clinch and Gans put left to body. Nelson sent rights and lefts to jaw and staggered his man with a rain of blows to body and head. Gans tried to cover up, but Nelson was merciless and rushed him to ropes, landing at will on a practically defenseless man. Gans drooped to mat more from weakness than from force of blows. He tried to get up from the count but was too late. As official time-keeper shouted ten Gans rose, but Referee Eddy Smith motioned him away and declared Nelson the winner.

S.S.S. CONTAINS NO MERCURY

Medicines containing Mercury are often given to persons suffering with Contagious Blood Poison, and so powerful is the action of this drug that it frequently removes the symptoms in a short while, and shuts the disease up in the system to do greater damage to the delicate internal members. When, however, the treatment is left off, the disease always returns, and the patient finds that his health has been injured by this powerful mineral, and he is often left with weak stomach, disturbed digestion, mercurial rheumatism, etc. The action of S. S. S. is entirely different. It contains no Mercury, nor any other harmful drug, but is made entirely of healing, cleansing roots and herbs. It cures Contagious Blood Poison by removing the virus from the blood. It searches out every particle of the poison and does not leave the least trace for future outbreaks. S. S. S., in addition to curing the disease, builds up and strengthens every part of the body. Its fine tonic effects tone up the stomach and digestion, improve the appetite and regulate the entire system. Home treatment book containing valuable information about the different stages of the disease and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write.

SAM HARSTOCK AND THE BURGLARS

Sam Harstock had a little peculiar experience with the burglar element Sunday evening. Strange as it may seem, he went home at 9:30 and seeing the side window up, it naturally excited his suspicion. His first thought was of a revolver in the front room and quickly opening the door he secured the weapon. The burglar, evidently anticipating a warm reception, made a hasty exit through the window, landing in a box of pears, scattering them all over the porch. His partner was standing at the corner of the house, and hearing the confusion evidently thought the devil was to pay, and in his mad rush for the front gate he came in contact with a dry goods box that landed him on the ground. While Sam stood ready for business he was unable to get a shot. He says he was amply repaid for peeping up the pears by seeing the boys run.—Corvallis Gazette.

and introduced into Idaho, reported the wheat is a fake.

Wilson said: "The Alaska wheat yields but 25 bushels to the acre. The grain is badly mixed, and of an inferior quality. The recent analysis showed the so-called Alaska wheat contains but little more than 9 per cent of protein. All soft white winter wheat contains on an average of 16 per cent."

A Paying Investment

Mr. John White, of 28 Highland avenue, Houlton, Me., says: "I have been troubled with a cough every winter and spring. Last winter I tried many advertised remedies, but the cough continued until I bought a 50-cent bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery. Before that was half gone the cough was all gone. This winter the same happy result has followed; a few doses once more banished the annual cough. I am now convinced that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best of all cough and lung remedies." Sold under guarantee at W. A. Kuykendall's drug store, 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.
