

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a Home of Swamp-Root pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

CHANLER PROSPECTIVE DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 14.—The feeling of hope and confidence with which the democrats of New York have entered the campaign this year is reflected in the spirit of enthusiasm that pervades Rochester today on the eve of the state convention which is to name candidates for governor and other state officers to be voted for at the November election. The city already is filling with delegates and visitors to the convention, the unusually large number of early arrivals affording evidence in itself of the interest and importance that attaches to the gathering this year. The indications are that the convention will be one of the largest in point of attendance that the democratic party has ever held in New York.

The local arrangements for the entertainment of the convention are of the most perfect and elaborate character. When the convention was given to Rochester the chamber of commerce took up the work of arranging the successful accomplishment of its work is to be seen on all sides today. The downtown section of the city is tastefully decorated. The chief feature of the decorative scheme consists of a number of handsome arches spanning Main street at the principal street intersections. Business houses on both sides of the street are gayly decorated with flags and bunting. Pictures of Bryan and Kern are also prominent.

The announcement that Mr. Bryan will address the convention Wednesday naturally has had the effect of greatly increasing the public interest in the gathering. The presidential candidate will be accompanied to the city by National Chairman Mack and a number of other democratic leaders of widest prominence. The railroads and interurban lines will run excursions into the city on that day and large numbers of visitors are expected from all parts of the state.

So far as the work of the convention itself is concerned the interest centers almost wholly in the contest for the head of the ticket. When the convention is called to order, according to all present indications, the delegates will be as much in the air so far as the gubernatorial candidate is concerned as they have been for weeks past. True, the names of several of those who have been mentioned from time to time, such as Aiton B. Parker and David B. Hill, have been eliminated from the list, but in the minds of all those who were well informed as to the situation none of these men has been seriously considered for re-nomination.

Leaders of the various factions may get together within the next twenty-four hours and agree upon the man to head the ticket. Preliminary conferences to this end are already on and it is possible that the gubernatorial nominee may be definitely decided upon before tomorrow night. Lieutenant Governor Lewis Stuyvesant Chanler continues to be the most prominent in the field of prospective candidates for the governorship, that is so far as outward signs go. He will be strongly supported by the up-state delegates. His friends declare that on the first ballot he will at least have 32 votes from the up-country districts, which is a large margin of advantage in a convention numbering 400 delegates. The name of W. C. Ely, of Buffalo, president of the International Traction company, continues to receive prominent mention. Many of the conservative democrats are inclined to look upon Mr. Ely's candidacy with considerable favor. Martin W. Littleton, Bird S. Coler, and Mayor Adam of Buffalo also remain among the possibilities.

LITTLE INTEREST IN ARKANSAS ELECTION

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 14.—Arkansas is holding its biennial state election today for state and county officers and members of the legislature. Comparatively little interest is manifested in the election, owing to the certainty of success for all of the democratic candidates. The republican vote of Arkansas never has amounted to more than 35 per cent of the total. This year the democrats expect to poll a larger vote than ever before. This expectation is based on the popularity of George W. Donaghey, the candidate for governor, and also on the fact that the democratic vote in the primary last March was the largest ever recorded in this state. The republican state ticket is headed by John I. Worthington for governor. Several of the minor parties have tickets in the field but this is not expected to effect the results materially. The state election, owing to the local issues and existing conditions, is regarded as of little or no real value as an aid in forecasting the general results of the presidential contest next November.

NEW YORK REPUBLICANS WILL MEET AT SARATOGA

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 14.—Doubt as to the renomination of Governor Charles E. Hughes faded away with the assembling of the state convention here today. The organization of the convention is to be effected at the initial session this evening and the nomination of a state ticket and the adoption of a platform will be proceeded with tomorrow. Ellihu Root, secretary of state, will be temporary chairman, and Joseph H. Choate, former ambassador to England, permanent chairman of the convention. While other candidates probably will be supported by their own localities, there is little evidence of any organized opposition to the renomination of Governor Hughes. Mr. Fassett, Mr. Barnes, Mr. Hendricks, and their friends, it is said, may persist in their antagonism to the governor's nomination, but the prevailing opinion is that they will be overwhelmed in the convention, especially since it became known that State Chairman Woodruff and Herbert Parsons the New York County republican leader who was one of the most aggressive of the Hughes opponents, have come to Saratoga prepared to "obey the will of their constituents" and support the candidacy of the governor for renomination.
