controlled a majority of the United States senators was true. Lawson was on the inside and knew unquestionably what he was talking about.

The Wright aeroplane may be a mighty big success, but just the same we would much rather take our chances on a long journey in a common old lumbering railway coach than via the modern flying machine.

Oxygen is to take the place of whisky and brandy, according to word that comes from a London scientist. That suits the thirsty fellows here in Eugene.

The people residing in that part of town are very much disappointed at the delay in placing an arc light at Fifteenth and Willamette streets.

Referring to the man who committed suicide the other day, because he could not get his life insured, the Stockton Record says the fellow reminds him of an editor it knows, who cussed everything black and blue one Sunday because the paper was late and kept him from church.

SUSLAW WANTS PLANK ROAD BUILT

The Eugene Weekly... At the August session of the county court at Eugene, a petition was presented asking that a plank road be built from Mapleton to Italy. The petition bore the signatures of several hundred voters and taxpayers residing in different parts of the county. Nearly everybody in this end of the county signed the paper as well as many in Eugene and Cottage Grove. It was endorsed by the Eugene Commercial club and Mr. Hartog, the manager of that organization appeared before the court in behalf of the petition. The matter was taken under consideration of the court but so far as we can learn, no further action has been taken on the proposition. The people of the whole Suslaw valley are very anxious to have the road built and the project has the endorsement of the leading commercial organizations of the county. It would be a great benefit both to Eugene and to the people of this section and help develop a large portion of Lane county. In petitioning the court to have the road planked the people in this part of the county feel that they are not asking for any more than they are justly entitled to receive. A good road from Eugene to the coast is greatly needed and would help to keep at home in the county many dollars that are now spent in making trips to other parts of the state. Considering the cost of a plank road as compared with crushed rock, the difficulty of getting suitable material, durability, and how much easier and better the plank road is to haul over, our people are very strongly in favor of the latter and are anxious that the court take decisive action toward securing plank from some source and have the road built without unnecessary delay.

HAINES BROTHERS ARE VISITING IN IDAHO

W. W. Haines, of Eugene, and J. A. Haines, of Curry county, Oregon, are visiting with them on the latter, J. L. Haines, of Star. These gentlemen passed through this section 57 years ago on their way across the plains to the coast, and this is their first visit to Boise since that time. They settled in Southern Oregon in 1851 and have been residents of that section continuously, taking an active interest in the affairs of their adopted state and are closely identified with its early history. Notwithstanding the fact that they have reached the age of 81 years, being twin brothers, they are still active and in the best of health, and look as though they were good for 20 years more of active work.
