This woman says that after months of suffering Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made her as well as ever.

Maude E. Forgie, of Leesburg, Va., writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I want other suffering women to know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. For months I suffered from feminine ills so that I thought I could not live. I wrote you, and after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and using the treatment you prescribed I felt like a new woman. I am now strong, and well as ever, and thank you for the good you have done me."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

ROOSEVELT ROASTS HASKELL AND ATTACKS BRYAN

Washington, Sept. 23.—President Roosevelt tonight wrote a letter to W. J. Bryan, replying to the latter's telegram in defense of Governor Haskell. He not only adheres to his former statement, but adds further charges, showing Mr. Haskell's friendship to the Standard Oil Company. He then contrasts Bryan's action with Taft's refusal to indorse Senator Foraker, and concludes by declaring Mr. Bryan's policy for dealing with the trusts impracticable, as his railroad and monetary policies. The letter reads:

"Dear Sir—In your telegram you speak of so much of the charge against Governor Haskell as dealt with his relations, while in Ohio, with the Standard Oil Company. You omit the charge as to his relations with the Standard Oil Company interests, as shown by his actions while governor of Oklahoma, this very summer, this action being in part taken while he was at Denver, where, as you state, he was by your wish made chairman of the committee which drafted the platform upon which you are now standing. In my statement I purposely made no specific allusion to the Ohio matter, and shall at this time make none, in spite of its significance, and in spite of the further fact that Governor Haskell's close relations with the Standard Oil interests while he was in Ohio was a matter of common notoriety.

"In Oklahoma it is a matter of court record. By this court record it appears that the attorney-general of the state, elected by the people, obtained an injunction to prevent the Prairie Oil & Gas Company from building a pipe line, and that Governor Haskell found this out while he was at Denver, as appears by the representations for the dissolution of the injunction made in his name in behalf of the state before a court of superior jurisdiction to that which issued the injunction. In this the governor states that the acting governor, in his absence, had asked that the hearing be postponed until he, the governor, might return and have an opportunity to investigate the controversy.

"The governor set forth in his petition that he is the sole authority to determine such matters, and that the attorney-general and the judge of the lower court had no right in the case, and that the action of the judge of the lower court represented an encroachment by the judiciary.'

Blocked Law Enforcement

"The attorney-general opposed the dissolution of the injunction, stating that the Prairie Oil & Gas Company was a foreign corporation, which had not accepted the provisions of the constitution applicable to such corporations, and that without authority of law it was employing a great force of men and teams to dig up, across and into various highways of the state for the purpose of laying its pipelines. The governor prevailed, the injunction was suspended and the pipe line was permitted to continue its work, to use the words of the attorney-general, without any color of law. I call your attention to the fact that the question was not whether the judge erred or whether the injunction was proper. The point is that the governor was alert to take out of the hands of the attorney-general what the attorney-general felt was his sworn duty, and prevent an alleged instance of breaking the laws by this particular great corporation.

Standard Admits Control

"As far as I have seen, Governor Haskell has not even attempted anything which can be called a defense of his action. It thus appears that his action was as inexcusable as it was wanton, except on the theory that, in defiance of the attorney-general of the state, and at all hazards, he intended for some reason of his own to protect the interests of a great corporation against the law. It has been suggested on his behalf that, after all, he did not favor the Standard Oil Company, but merely the Prairie Oil Company. This claim is disposed of by the testimony of the Standard Oil Company itself, taken in the latter part of 1907, in the suit now pending before the United States court at St. Louis, against the Standard Oil Company. In this testimony the Standard Oil Company, upon being required by the government to put in a list of all companies in which it held stock or in which its subsidiary companies held stock, reported among the others the Prairie Oil & Gas Company, total capital $10,000,000, of which the National Transit Company's share was $9,959,500, and furthermore, it appears that the National Transit Company had a capital stock of $25,455,200, of which the Standard Oil Company owned $25,451,650. In other words the Prairie Oil & Gas Company was owned, all except $500, by the National Transit Company, and the National Transit Company, all except about $3,500, by the Standard Oil Company.

Taft Forms Vivid Contrast

"Now contrast your actions in this case of Governor Haskell with Mr. Taft's action as regards Senator Foraker, as set forth in his letter of July 20, 1907, which I quoted in my statement. It was a matter of common notoriety about Senator Foraker, as it has long been a matter of common notoriety about Governor Haskell, that he was the defender and supporter of certain great corporate interests, and therefore hostile to the policies for which the administration has stood. There was no such convincing proof against Senator Foraker at that time, however, as there was against Governor Haskell when, as you say, he was with your approval made treasurer of the campaign committee.

"But Mr. Taft refused to be made a party to the continuation of Senator Foraker, even though it was represented that only thus could he advance his own interests, showing by actual deeds that his words were true when he said:

"'I do not care for the presidency if it has to come by compromise with any one on a matter of principle.'

"With hundred-fold clearer evidence before you as to the connection of Governor Haskell with the Standard Oil Company than Mr. Taft then had as to the connection of Senator Foraker with any corporation, you nevertheless have secured Governor Haskell as chairman of the committee to write the platform on which you stand and put him in as treasurer of your campaign committee."

MR. TAFT TALKS TO RAILROAD MEN

Chicago, Sept. 23.—William H. Taft, Republican candidate for president, delivered the first regular speech of his present campaign tour of the Middle West when, in this city tonight, he addressed a large audience of railroad men, assembled to hear his views on the injunction question and other labor problems. The meeting was under union auspices and Mr. Taft spoke by special invitation of the railroad labor organizations.

Mr. Taft's address was prepared with special reference to the character of his audience, and was a brief but comprehensive exposition of his own views on the labor question and of the accomplishments of the Republican party for the betterment of the condition of the workingmen.

Talks on Injunctions.

Mr. Taft met the injunction issue fairly and squarely and gave a logical explanation of his decisions in injunction cases while on the bench. He said that there was nothing in his record to apologize for and declared that in every instance he had merely done his plain duty as a judge and every decision, he said, had been based on ample precedent.

He called particular attention to the fact that, while he was not the father of the injunction in industrial cases, as had been charged, he was the first to uphold from the bench the right of workingmen to strike in a body.

In closing he appealed to the railroad men to endorse the ont party that favored fair treatment of the railroads in respect to rate-making.

A GOOD STOMACH

Means Good Health, Cheerfulness, Ambition, Persistency and Success

Relief is not cure; opium will stop the most excruciating pain, but it won't cure the disease.

And it's just the same with alleged dyspepsia cures which contain pepsin. The pepsin will help to digest the food, but the stomach is left in worse condition than it was before.

You don't want pepsin to digest your food; you want the natural juices of your stomach to digest your food. If you have dyspepsia or any stomach trouble, you want to make your stomach so strong that it will digest its own food.

You can make your stomach so strong that you can eat what you want and all you want any time you want it, without distress.

Mi-o-na will cure your dyspepsia or any other stomach trouble by building up the flabby walls and making the stomach so strong that it will digest food without artificial aid.

In other words, Mi-o-na will cure dyspepsia by removing the cause.

The Red Cross Drug Company is the agent for Mi-o-na in Eugene, and they say to every resident of Eugene whose stomach is weak, who has indigestion or dyspepsia, that Mi-o-na is guaranteed to cure or money back.

The price is only 50 cents a box. One box is all you need to prove that you are on the right road to health and happiness.

"I can't say enough for Mi-o-na tablets. They have done more for me in one week than all the doctors have for the two years I have been under their care, and I will do all I can to recommend it to my friends. You can also use my name in your ad if you like, for Mi-o-na is better than gold to me. I am like a new man, and am able to work once more for the first time in over a year."—W. A. A Paying Investment

Mr. John White, of 38 Highland avenue, Houlton, Me., says: "Have been troubled with a cough every winter and spring. Last winter I tried many advertised remedies, but the cough continued until I bought a 50-cent bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery. Before that was half gone the cough was all gone. This winter the same happy result has followed: a few doses once more banished the annual cough. I am now convinced that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best of all cough and lung remedies."
