OREGON SQUAD HAS MADE GOOD BEGINNING

O. A. C. REPORTED BEHIND IN PRACTICE — QUARTERBACK'S POSITION IS IN DOUBT—DEBATE GOSSIP AND OTHER NEWS

The University football team has made a good beginning in practice, and reports from Corvallis show that Oregon is ahead of the Aggies in their work. O. A. C. players reported rather late, the result being that the squad there has not much more than formed during the last week.

Idaho, however, seems to have the start of all the colleges in the Northwest. "Jerry" Nissen, the great halfback, is helping Middleton with his team. The "Miners" hope to beat Oregon this year, and as the same comes early in the Oregon schedule such a contingency is quite possible. In case Idaho beats the local college, they will count upon Oregon winning from O. A. C., and thus in all probability giving the coveted Northwest

City boy is out of athletics—possibly forever. He has been having great trouble with his leg, during the last year, and he will get out of athletics for a year upon the prediction of Eastern authorities that he is doing well. He will be able to equal, if not excel, his former records. Dan was raised in a blacksmith shop, where during vacations he used to help his father out—now he is going back to do it again. He will spend at least a couple of months in the shop.

Kelly stepped off No. 2 yesterday and spied a friend at the depot. His greeting was a rapid fire of questions as to the whereabouts of half a dozen old friends. When the Baker City boy found the fair was in session he was almost persuaded to stop, but decided to go on to Baker and return to Pendleton before the celebration is over. He will spend several days then, visiting on a ranch in the neighborhood.

BOSTONIAN MINSTREL MAIDS ARE COMING

What should prove to be one of the greatest novelties of the season will be the Minstrel Maids at the Eugene theatre October 2. To witness an old-time minstrel performance, given entirely by young ladies, is indeed a novelty. This company is composed of twenty young ladies, who are endowed with beauty, wit and vocal talent. They will give an old-time minstrel first part, introducing all the latest hits, with Mrs. Jaquet Casad, the famous lady baton twirler, as a feature. The costumes championship to them. The Idaho game comes on October 31 at Moscow.

Michel or Latourette. Among the contests for places that of quarterback seems to be the most interesting. The two chief contestants are Michel, from California, and Latourette, the Oregon City lad. Both are clever and experienced. Michel weighs about 165 pounds and is built much on the style of "Chuck" Taylor. He is quick and active. Latourette is not so heavy, nor quite so strong, judging from his appearance, but he handles himself well at all times and gives indications of being a good dodger.

The final outcome of the rivalry will depend upon the headwork of the players. The position of quarterback has more chances to lose a game than any other and the choice is very important.

Debate Gossip. A news story is printed in the Pacific Wave, the University of Washington daily publication, which says that the move of cutting down the three-men teams of the Tri-State Debating League to two-men teams is being discussed by Idaho and Washington. Idaho, the article reads, is likely to withdraw unless the revision is attended to, for the expense of sending three men with the small crowds that greet the foreign contestants in Eugene, Seattle and Moscow is such that they must break from the organization.

Local debaters do not credit the article, for they feel that Idaho is in no such a position, since she has been more successful in victory than either Oregon or Washington, which would make her the last to withdraw.

Ivan B. Rhodes, the popular Y. M. C. A. speaker, will address the University organization in Deady hall tonight at 7 o'clock. His subject will probably be "Good Advice to the Freshmen."

Merle Chessman has been elected manager of the Glee Club in place of Harold Clifford, who did not return to college.

Steps were taken toward the formation of a University band last night.

Charles Erskine has returned to college.

BACK TO SMITHY FOR DAN KELLY

OLYMPIC HERO IS UNCHANGED BY PLAUBITS OF NATION—GOING BACK TO HELP FATHER IN THE BLACKSMITH SHOP AT BAKER CITY

Unspurred by his hobnobbing with the great, unchanged by the laurels he has won, just as unassuming, just as glad to meet a friend, Dan J. Kelly, Eastern Oregon's representative among the world-beating trio of athletes from this state, passed through Pendleton last evening, says the East Oregonian. After having been congratulated, praised and fawned by lovers of sport from President Roosevelt and the representatives in British streets, the newsboys on Portland's streets, after royal entertainment by the local athletic association of the Portland States from Eugene, he is in Portland. Dan Kelly is going back to Baker City—his blacksmith shop. For the present the feet of Kelly worn in the first part are said to be quite elaborate. The second part consists of a laughing musical comedy entitled "Harrigan's Holiday," in which the young ladies will assume the male roles, and are said to bring forth rounds of laughter with their clever work. This attraction is under the famous Juvenile Bostonian management, and promises to be one of the treats of the season.

LIGHT VOTE BEING POLLED IN BOND ELECTION

The water bond election is bringing out fewer voters than anticipated and up to a late hour this afternoon the indications were that not more than half a normal vote would be cast. The judges and clerks of election had an easy job and spent a good part of the time loafing. There were no carriages on the streets for the accommodation of voters, as is usually the case, and this probably had something to do with the light vote. At this time it hard to predict the result, but it will doubtless be close.

Following is the vote polled in the several wards up to 3:30 o'clock this afternoon.
