

LANE COUNTY SAWMILL AND LUMBER NEWS

The Chas. K. Spaulding Co. of Newberg, have purchased a yard at Albany, formerly owned by P. W. Spink, and a new shed 24x100 feet is being erected, and preparations made for handling local business in good shape. This company is making a drive of twelve million feet, from the McKenzie river, of pulp and fir logs. About half of these logs will be delivered at Oregon City and the balance will be converted into lumber.

McKibben Bros., Cottage Grove, have installed a small sawmill, to replace the one recently burned, on the O. & S. E. The plant is about ready to operate. The power equipment consists of an 80 H. P. Kewanee boiler and 70-H. P. H. S. G. engine. Plenty of orders for mining timbers are booked.

A. E. Shiria, of the Shiria mill, Drain, has purchased the Mack Mill, near Drain and removed it to Glendale. The plant will be ready to operate in its new location about the middle of October.

Booth-Kelly Lumber Company, Eugene, will install an 8-inch Herlin resaw at their Wendling plant. New sorting table and transfers to and from the resaw will be installed. Trout sawmills is also being added to the equipment.

A. L. Woodard, Cottage Grove, has received a drive of 700,000 feet of logs down the Coast Fork. The plant is running steadily.

C. Inman, Waltherville, has installed a 16-54 Kewanee boiler and 12x14 H. S. & G. engine. The mill is running on local orders.

The Cera Gorda Lumber Company, Dorena, has installed a Seattle donkey in its camps. This plant is operating on a tie order.

Flacher Bros., Marcola, will resume about the 20th of October. Bert Andrus has commenced operations at his sawmill near Mountain Home.

Chambers Lumber Co., Cottage Grove, resumed operations October 1. Diston Lumber Company, Diston, will begin cutting about the first of October.

Brown Lumber Company, Cottage Grove, expects to resume operations November 1st.—Oregon Timberman.

NEW BOAT TO MAKE SUISSLAW PORT HEREAFTER

Monday afternoon the gasoline boat, Willamina, of North Bend, arrived at Florence, coming up the river with flags flying at her mast head and announcing her arrival by shrill blasts from her whistle.

The Willamina is a staunch little craft which was built for trade with the smaller harbors along the coast. Captain Ludwig Christensen, for several years master of the steamer Robars, is now master of the Willamina and he is well acquainted with the different harbors of Oregon's coast. The new craft carries both freight and passengers.

We inquired of Captain Christensen whether he expected to run in here frequently, and he replied that he was not quite certain but thought probably he would. Some of the people who have been wishing for an independent boat to trade here are hoping that arrangements of this kind will be made.

One thing that would serve to attract people to the Siuslaw country would be a fruit exhibit at some convenient place in Eugene where newcomers will have a chance to see it. The apples grown here are as fine as those produced anywhere in the state and if people looking for homes could see a few samples this would help to arouse interest in the locality and lead many to investigate further the opportunities and advantages it affords. At this season of the year it would be an easy matter to collect a nice exhibit of apples which would make a first class advertisement for the Siuslaw Valley and ought to draw a good many people to this part of Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Knowles of Mapleton returned home Monday afternoon spending a few days in Eugene. Mr. Knowles attended the annual reunion of Lane County veterans, held at J. C. Corsaw of Springfield—the youngest men of the 149 enrolled there who wore the blue during the civil war.

The schooner Mayflower went to sea last Friday and the Washalore and Coquille left Saturday. All were bound for San Francisco with cargoes of lumber from the Siuslaw Lumber Co.

A large quantity of coal oil for the light-house at Heceta was brought from Coos Bay on board the Willamina and unloaded at Kyle & Sons' wharf. It will be taken out to Heceta by team.

The schooner Oakland arrived in port Wednesday afternoon, having been towed up from Coos Bay by the steamer Roscoe. Some excitement was caused just when the vessel was tying up on account of the report started in some way that the boat had plague on board. There proved to be no foundation to the report. The schooner is now loading at the Oregon & California Lumber Co's mill.

Fred C. Bean of the Berger-Bean Hardware Co., of Eugene arrived here Saturday, having come down the beach from Newport. He left Monday on his way back to Eugene. Mr. Baker, a hotel-keeper of Springfield, was at Mapleton Wednesday on business. We understand he has rented the Mapleton hotel from R. H. Clow and will soon take possession.

Aubrey Bond came in from Heceta last Saturday having given up his work with the surveyors. He left Monday for Eugene to enter the state university for the present year.
