cause has just been discovered. While of course the lower prices are the result of heavy arrivals during the past few weeks, these heavy arrivals caused entirely by the high price of feed. With wheat for feed selling around $34 a ton, poultry raisers are not keeping as many hens as they formerly did. Because of the enormous grain price poultry shippers are forced to send the bulk of their supplies to market, for even though eggs are high the producer figures that it does not pay to feed chickens just to get them. Now that the rainy season has started and poultry keepers are forced to look more carefully after the health and wants of their fowls, they are inclined to the opinion that the load is a little heavier than they care to carry and for that reason local commission men have a deluged with requests for empty pens to go to the country to raise the fowls that will be required with a load of chickens. Small Supply of Fresh Eggs While egg supplies from local ranches are usually small at this time of the year the decrease in supplies is due to some other cause than usual. The fact that producers are shipping most of their supplies of poultry to market is one reason for the decreased arrivals here. Another reason is the lower prices in effect here at the moment than can be obtained elsewhere. Notes of Wholesale Market Owing to the rains farmers are not offering potatoes very freely. Price stiffer, with local selling prices about 5 cents higher. Butter market is firm but some of the outside makers of best creamery are not quoting city prices. Cheese is firm at an advance of 1 cent quoted yesterday. Grape supplies from the south are very liberal. Best tokays are selling no higher than $1. Peach market remains easy with nothing moving over 75 cents, and even select quality is sometimes hard to move at that figure. Reports from the lower Columbia indicate that the run of salmon is somewhat increased since the rains started. Dressed meat markets are holding firm with select veal especially in good call. First shipment of Eastern chestnuts arrived this morning by express and is quoted at 25 cents a pound. Lower price when regular shipments come forward. Portland Live Stock Market Portland Union stockyards, Oct. 15. Following a lower range of hog values in the East and a much weaker tone, both of which have been predicted of late, hog values locally are 15 to 25 cents over, with nothing selling over $6.85, and the general run of stuff hardly able to bring more than $6.75. Warm killers have been curtailed somewhat by the recent high values because hogs went beyond a good packing basis. Chicago is weaker and lower for hogs, says Lee M. Lacy, of Hunt & Lacy, "and this is the reason for today's drop in hog values locally. The interest in the Eastern and Western hog markets are so much alike at this time that when one hits by lower prices must of necessity cause a decline in other sections. Heifers Bring a Better Price With the improved demand for cows and heifers, both lines the bringing a better price in the local market. The general run of good cows is showing an advance of about 10 cents from the low point, although the high mark is as yet undisturbed. Heifers are selling as high as $3.50, but the general price for good stuff scarcely ranges above $2.25. Even this is an advance of about 25 cents over quotations ruling in the yards. Why, oh why will people of intelligence continue to suffer with dyspepsia or distressing stomach troubles, when Mi-o-na, the only scientific remedy, has a record of thousands of just such cures as the following: "I was near to death's door. The doctor said he had done all he could; that my stomach was old and worn out. I was so weak I could not walk. I took Mi-o-na tablets, and have been eating heartily ever since. I am able to work like a tiger. I wish I could go and thank you myself. I send you my picture, and you can thank you again." Mrs. Nelson Lucier, 112 Fisk St., Athol, Mass. Mi-o-na cures dyspepsia. There is not a particle of doubt about it; and if any of the readers of the Guard are suffering from stomach trouble of any kind, Hull's Drug store will sell you a box of Mi-o-na for 50 cents with an absolute guarantee of relief, or money back. In many cases one box will effect a permanent cure; in chronic conditions more is necessary. But one thing is certain: one box of Mi-o-na will make you feel so much better and brighter, so much more energetic, that you will not give it up till cured. Mi-o-na is not a digester. Digesters never cure dyspepsia, and never does Mi-o-na is a stomach strengthener that builds up the worn out body inside of the stomach, and makes the stomach strong enough to perfectly digest what you eat. Mi-o-na is a shrdl hrdl. Mrs. James Hubbard told Mrs. Jones that Jim never grows since she uses Filger's Golden Gate Coffee. Her grocer grinds it for her.
