EXPLOITS OF SPANISH IMPOSTOR EXCITE NATION

Madrid, Oct. 20.—All Spain is excited over the adventures of a handsome, visible young man, who, in the style of the competent showman, has carried out a remarkable imposture. The adventurer, Emilio S. Pedro, is now being tried for illegally wearing a military uniform and military decorations to which he was not entitled.

Pedro a year ago was living at Gibraltar, where he passed himself off as the son of a general who fought in Cuba. He became engaged to the daughter of one of the officers of the garrison, but before the marriage he was arrested on a charge of fraud and taken to Barcelona, but there the proceedings were dropped. Then Pedro turned up in London, where he posed as a son of a member of the Spanish cabinet, and was received in the highest society.

Coming to England he crossed the channel, accompanied by a man said to be an Englishman, and on landing in France he called himself the "Prince of Battenburg," and proudly announced himself as a brother of the Queen of Spain. Before leaving for Paris Pedro sent a telegram to the Spanish and British ambassadors in Paris, announcing that the Prince of Battenburg and his secretary would arrive in the French capital at a certain hour. When the train reached Paris the two adventurers found waiting to receive them representatives of the two embassies and the French government, and a guard of honor.

The pair left the day afterward for Spain, and they were next heard of at Saragossa. There they set up at a leading hotel and were entertained by the governor and the mayor. From Saragossa they traveled to Toledo, where they were equally successful in impressing on the authorities. In the course of a round of lectures given in their honor the "Prince" made the acquaintance of Cardinal Sarracina, the primate of Spain. As he was about to quit the city the "Prince" suddenly discovered that he was short of ready money, so he borrowed 5000 pesetas of the cardinal, but being of a generous disposition he handed back 1000 pesetas for the use of Toledo.

Pedro was finally arrested in this city, while passing himself as a captain of artillery. His downfall was due largely to his overpowering vanity. He purchased a number of Spanish decorations and placed them to his uniform. The first day he wore them the fraud was detected. Pedro was arrested, but by his police, which is one of the most efficient to be found in the police records of Continental Europe. After Pedro's arrest his companion disappeared and has not yet been found.

Then I tried Electric Bitters and they cured me. Now take them as a tonic, and they keep me strong and well." 50c at W. A. Kuykendall's drug store.

UNIVERSITY BRYAN AND KERN CLUB FORMED BY STUDENT VOTERS

Charles Galloway Will Speak Saturday Night At the University

The sixth Bryan and Kern club in Eugene was formed last night at the University by Organ, Bolton Hamble. Not only were democrats there, but republicans were present, and on that account the club determined to make the organization a strictly Bryan and Kern club, not a democratic organization and therefore relating to the November election only.

Le Roy Woods, the vice-president of the student body, was elected president; Earl F. Strong, vice-president and Wilson C. Nicholas, the debater, secretary. An executive committee, Chas. Mc Snow, Walter Mellyre and Vergil Cooper, was elected.

The club determined to invite Chas. Galloway, the well known University graduate and state land agent, to address the students next Saturday night. Announcement had been made that he would speak on Friday night, but on account of conflicts it was decided not to hold it then.

The matter of students to help canvass the county was taken up, volunteers being requested to turn their names in to the president or secretary.
