NAVIGATING THE AIR

A feat that has always been considered impossible is lifting one's self by one's bootstraps. But in the light of some of the present-day inventions for navigating the air one may, after all, literally do what heretofore has been considered among the impossible things, to-wit: defy the laws of gravitation.

Bangor, Maine, man has invented an airship that will sail through the air without the aid of either a motor or a gas bag. In other words, he has solved the problem, in his statements are to be believed, of maintaining in the air, for an indefinite period, a machine that is vastly heavier than air. This man is said to be an experienced aviator, and for years has been practicing on his invention that he declares has now reached a state of perfection. He will file a bid with the government for supplying the signal corps with a machine that will fill all the requirements of the department along this line and will be infinitely superior to the aeroplane perfected by the Wright brothers and which has been the wonder and admiration of the people of the entire world.

This man recently made a flight with his aeroplane to a height of 700 feet and maintained his position in the air, covering a distance of more than seven miles, and all this without the aid of a propelling power, other than the air itself. He sets up the claim that he can handle his machine without power, but is in a measure at the caprice of the winds. However, with a strong motor he can maintain his position as long as desired, and at no risk to the operator, for he does not depend entirely upon the motor for his equilibrium, but on the vanes of the aeroplane, which can be so manipulated that there is not the least danger of falling.

The Maine man has shipped a large working model of his machine to New York, where he makes exhibition flights for the benefit of the government officials and those interested in aeronautics. The invention is said to be attracting the attention of the entire scientific world.

The morning paper does not want the city to pay Engineer Kelsey for the work he has done. "Why not? There is nothing to indicate that he did not do his work well, and no reason why the city should not pay its bills just like an individual is required to. As one of the city's many bond elections the principal objection offered by the water company's paper was that the council had not gone ahead and prepared plans so that the people might know definitely what they were voting upon. This last time the suggestion was complied with and plans and specifications of the system were made in advance of the election, still the same paper is not satisfied. The Guard hopes the council will continue its efforts to secure to the people relief in some manner from present light and water conditions, even if it is necessary to spend some money in procuring plans and estimates from competent engineers.

The editor of a California exchange says newspapers that are hard up for news make a good deal out of unimportant details. They put balloon heads on pyramids of words, their work being to am on glasses of beer. Thus they fill their columns with nothingness and at trifling expense. They believe with Barnum, the king of deception, that the people like to be humbugged. If our journalistic brother will reflect, he will conclude that the newspapers are not alone in their deceit. The lawyers and doctors and preachers all work their petty deceptions on the public and all to the same end—to make the public think it is getting something, when in reality it is getting nothing.

Among the advocates of making the tariff revision upward in at least one thing—mohair—are the members of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association. Yet the late General Hancock, who is a candidate for president, was laughed at for saying "the tariff is a local issue."

It is useless for the trust magnates, through their organs, to be hoping for the end of the trust-busting era as long as they continue to put the screws on the consumers of their products. You can expect those who are daily held up to approve of highway robbery.

As politicians are in some respects like drummers, they naturally feature the issues that are most popular with in the locality visited. And, after all, they are only living up to the adage, "When in Rome do as the Romans do."

King Peter, of Serbia, couldn't even bring in that old gag about keeping your powder dry on his people—the troops had not thought to provide themselves with powder before demanding to be led into battle.

The O. C. has just issued a bulletin entitled "Why Eggs Are 50 Cents a Dozen." But after all, it's the price and not the reason for it that most of us are looking for.

Not denying that the actress who got a $10,000 automobile, a $25,000 life insurance policy, and a diamond ring, not to mention a few thousands in cash, just for promising to marry a man, has a head for business.

In extending the protection of the civil service rules over about 700 additional federal employes, the president was not necessarily thinking of the possible result of the election, whatever others may think.

Wise are they who know how to profit by a good tip. Whether the national political committees found themselves cramped for money they advertised for it, and got it promptly. See?

It is said that the peace of Europe is to be kept by the other powers buying off Turkey. If that plan is to be carried out, it's the one bet that John Bull will eventually get the lion's share of the purchase money.

KEEPING SUPREME COURT OUT OF ALL POLITICS

Washington, Oct. 20.—The supreme court of the United States today indicated its disapproval of the efforts to bring a court into politics by denying a motion to advance the hearing in the case of the Nobel State Bank of Oklahoma against Governor Haskell and others, involving the constitutionality of the Oklahoma bank deposit guarantee law.

"THIS IS MY 63RD BIRTHDAY" Will Carleton.

Will Carleton, the noted poet and lecturer, was born October 21, 1845, in Hudson, Michigan. He received his education in Hillsdale College and after his graduation from that institution in 1869 he did newspaper work in Detroit and Chicago. A few years later his ballads began to attract attention and in the early 90s New York society became interested in the poet and for a time his readings were the rage throughout the country. During these years he appeared with much success upon the lecture platform throughout the United States, Great Britain and continental Europe. In recent years he has been employed chiefly as a magazine editor. Of the many poems Mr. Carleton has written, by far the best known are "Betsy and I are Out," and "Over the Hill to the Poorhouse."

UNNECESSARY MISERY FROM INDIGESTION

FIVE MINUTES AFTER TAKING A LITTLE DIAPEPSIN ALL YOUR INDIGESTION IS GONE—WHY NOT PUT A SEND TO YOUR STOMACH TROUBLE NOW? NOT PUT AN END TO YOUR FAVORITE FOODS WITHOUT MISERY.

Why not start now—today, and forever rid yourself of Stomach trouble and indigestion? A dieted stomach gets the blues and grumbles. Give it a good eat, then take Pape's Diapepsin to start the digestive juices working. There will be no dyspepsia or belching of gas or eruptions of undigested food; no feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, or heartburn, sick headache and dizziness, and your food will not ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors. Pape's Diapepsin costs only 50 cents for a large case; at any drug store here, and will relieve the most obstinate case of indigestion and upset stomach in five minutes.

There is nothing else better to take gas from the stomach, and cleanse the stomach and intestine, and besides, one triangle will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all your food the same as a sound healthy stomach would do it. When Diapepsin work, your stomach rests—gets itself in order, cleans up—and then you feel like eating when you come to the table and what you eat will do you good. A whole relief from all stomach misery is waiting for you as soon as you decide to begin taking Diapepsin. Tell your druggist that you want Pape's Diapepsin, because you want to be thoroughly cured of indigestion.

FATHER O'FARRELL SPEAKS AT PORTLAND.

At a meeting of Division No. 1, Ancient Order of Hibernians, Monday night degrees were conferred upon 23 candidates, and an impressive address was made by the Rev. J. M. O'Farrell of Eugene, state chaplain of the order. A committee consisting of John O'Hare, D. W. Lane, E. H. Deery, P. J. Smith, James Foley and Edward Ryan was appointed to make arrangements for the observance of the forty-first anniversary of the deaths of the Manchester martyrs, Allen, Larkin and O'Brien. The exercises will be held on the evening of Sunday, November 23. Father O'Farrell has already been engaged as the principal speaker. Addresses will also be delivered by other prominent men, and a patriotic musical program will be arranged.—Oregonian.

LETTER FROM A FORTY-NINER.

Could Not Obtain Relief From Catarrh Until He Had Used Hyomei.

Here is a simple, interesting and sincere letter from a rugged pioneer of '49, who braved the dangers and hardships of the overland trail to California. Surely the sincerity of this letter should strongly appeal to those who desire to escape the bondage in which they are now held by that ruthless and most powerful wrecker of health and happiness: Catarrh.

Santa Rosa, Cal., May 5, 1908. Booth's Hyomei Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Dear Sirs:—Some years ago I was afflicted with catarrh, and tried a number of remedies, but received no relief. I was told by a friend who had been using your Hyomei, and thought I would receive a great benefit and perhaps a cure. I purchased an outfit, and before I had used the bottle, I noted a marked improvement.

I used it for a month or so, and stopped using it for a year or so. Thought I was getting catarrh again, and started using it again, and I keep it in the house and use it every morning once a day, and keep myself clear of catarrh. I consider it the best catarrh medicine that is used. I have often recommended it to my friends. I am 81 years old, I came to California in 1849, and of course, am not as vigorous as I was 28 years ago. My address is 841 4th St., Yuba, truly, W. Monk.

Hyomei (pronounced Huh-o-mei), is guaranteed by Hull's Red Cross is guaranteed by Hull's Red Cross for grip, coughs, colds, bronchitis, croup of infants, asthma and all diseases of the nose, throat and lungs. A complete outfit, including inhaler, costs $1.00; extra bottles of Hyomei, if afterwards needed, cost but 50 cents. Ask Hull's Red Cross Drug Store about them.

Had a Close Call

Mrs. Ada L. Croom, the widely known proprietor of the Croon Hotel, Yuba, Miss., said: "For several months I suffered with a severe cough, and consumption seemed to have its grip on me, when a friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery. I began taking it and three bottles effected a complete cure." The fame of this life-saving cough and cold remedy, and lung and throat healer is world wide. Sold at W. A. PORTLAND JEWELER, KILLED BY ROBBERS

Portland, Oct. 21.—H. T. Butterworth, a jeweler and prominent business man of St. Johns, a suburb north of this city, was snatched through the heart and instantly killed by a highwayman shortly after 9 o'clock last night. The murder was committed in Butterworth's front yard. The object was to steal a diamond ring valued at about $350, which Butterworth wore.

Butterworth had just entered his front gate after closing his store a few blocks distant. Mrs. Butterworth and her two little girls heard the gate shut and arose to meet her husband and father at the door. An instant later they heard Butterworth fall, though no shot was heard by them. Mrs. Butterworth opened the door and ran to the side of her prostrate husband to see what the matter was, and discovered that he had been shot. She summoned the neighbors and these called a physician. The services of the latter were useless as the victim was killed instantly.

GOVERNOR HASKELL SPEAKS IN TEXAS

Dallas, Oct. 21.—Governor Haskell, before a large crowd at the fair grounds, spoke in praise of Oklahoma and Texas, and criticized President Roosevelt, Judge Taft and Senator Beveridge. Once during his speech an enthusiastic spectator called out, "What about Hearst?" The governor replied, "There are some names which it would be wrong to mention where Henry W. Grady once spoke."

The United States army transport Buford, sailing from Manila, October 15, en route to San Francisco, has been detained at Nagasaki, Japan, on account of the death of a soldier on board from cholera.
