ENTHUSIASM OF JAP POPULACE REACHES CLIMAX

Fifty Thousand People Participate in Series of Luncheons and Balls

Tokio, Oct. 22.—Tonight the reception to the officers and men of the American fleet reached the climax. A spontaneous outburst of enthusiasm in which 50,000 of the populace participated crowned the unbroken series of luncheons, dinners, balls and garden parties which have marked the five days since the warships anchored in Yokohama harbor and the people of Tokio did honor to the American visitors. The demonstration has eclipsed any in the history of the city, not even excepting the celebration following the most signal success of the Japanese army and navy. Fifty thousand participated in a torchlight parade which was the feature of the day. Every individual of the vast multitude carried a lantern and Japanese and American flags, and was accompanied by a dozen bands of music. The scenic effect was wonderful.

THIRTY EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS IN SINGLE DAY IN SAXONY

Plauon, Saxony, Oct. 22.—Thirty earthquake shocks were experienced in the Sewickan region yesterday. They were accompanied by thunder-like reverberations causing the greatest alarm. Another severe shock was felt today but the damage was less. It is thought to be only an after shock.

TAFT SAYS BRYAN'S ELECTION WILL RETARD RETURN OF PROSPERITY

Milan, Oct. 22.—Indiana is the battle ground in which Taft will push the campaign for the remainder of the week. His itinerary calls for forty speeches, sixteen of which will be made today. Judge Taft had this to say of Bryan at the first stop:

"Mr. Bryan is a bit sensitive because the Republicans are prophesying, not only Republicans but Democrats, too, in a business way, that if he is elected it will retard business, and that if the Republican ticket is elected it will improve business. He says that it is offering bribery to workmen. It is not offering bribery, it is merely stating a fact, and it is a fact that working men ought to know as well as business men. Mr. Bryan's election will be a menace to prosperity.

"We may not, if he is elected, expect that business will be resumed with that flow and that current of prosperity which we have had in the last election years."

This was the keynote of many speeches made by Taft during today's tour.

BRYAN TALKS TO FARMERS

Ravenswood, W. Va., Oct. 22.—Wm. J. Bryan was up bright and early this morning to address a large gathering of farmers. He proceeded to puncture the Republican pretensions that the farmers owed their prosperity to the Republican party.

"The Republican party has nothing to do with the fertility of the soil, sunshine or rain, for if it did there would be a trust on sunshine and a meter upon the sun."

"He said that not a single thing the Republican party had done was good for the farmers.

"The farmers have been the real victim of every abuse that has grown up under Republican misrule. They have spent their time legislating in the interests of Wall street instead of listening to the plea of the farmers for the security of their bank deposits."

TIMMONS SAYS HE DID NOT CUT HIS OWN THROAT

Signs Confession Today in Which He Admits Murdering His Wife

SAYS HE AWOKE TO FIND THROAT SLASHED

Razor Was in Wife's Hand and He Cut Her Throat With It

Salem, Oct. 22.—G. Y. Timmons, who yesterday killed his wife by cutting her throat with a razor, and who is in the hospital about to die from the terrible injuries to his own throat, which were at first believed to have been self-inflicted, today subscribed to a confession as to the murder of his wife, but declared he did not know who cut his own throat. He saw a razor in his wife's hand and took it from her and cut her throat. He says a man named "Bob" had come between him and his wife and that "Bob" furnished money to her to secure a divorce.

In his tale he recites long weeks of alleged cruelty. He claims his wife had threatened to kill him; claims she had proven untrue, and that many times he had encountered this mysterious "Bob" in no pleasant manner. He claims that this unknown "Bob" had furnished his wife with $10 to pay an attorney for starting a divorce proceeding, but fails to account for his own presence with his wife at the attorney's office, and his acquiescence to the starting of divorce proceedings.

In his statement Timmons told of his marriage in Portland in May, 1907, thus clearing a disputed point. He states he has a brother living at Portland on East Clay street, between Eleventh and Twelfth streets. There on what seemed to be his death bed, when he believed angels were hovering over him, and the physician had told him that life was a question of uncertainty, the confessed murderer indulged in reminiscences, and talked in a rambling way of boyhood days when he and Sam Misner, a well-known Salem bricklayer, were children together.

All these things he told Dr. Morse, many of them so rambling and incoherent they were not included in his signed confession, which was delivered to Dr. Morse in the presence of two hospital nurses who declared themselves witnesses.

In his confession Timmons briefly outlines all the hate of a jealous disposition. He admits he feared his wife was paying attentions to another. He admits he asked no questions when he awoke in the middle of the night to find his throat cut, even if his story is true. He admits he immediately accused his wife in his own mind and retaliated by deliberate murder.

Every pressure was brought on Timmons to secure a truthful confession. In the silence of the sick room, with the nurses near like angels of death, with the physician's statement ringing in his ears, with the pain of his wound inflicting tortures upon him, with the belief that in a few hours he would be called before the judgment seat at the side of his wife to tell the story of the murder to a higher tribunal, dramatically Timmons swore he would utter no falsehood in his confession. Hoarsely and in a low voice, a voice gutteral from a windpipe lacerated by a self-inflicted wound, Timmons told his story and swore before the God he believed he would face in a few hours that what he told was true.

It is believed that Timmons will live to face the charge against him.

PHILIPPINES' STORM WAS MOST SERIOUS.

Manilla, Oct. 22.—Belated reports indicate that the storm of October 12 in the Cagayan Valley was the worst and most destructive within the memory of living inhabitants of the valley.

The official figures are not as yet available, as many places have not been heard from, but it seems certain that the number of dead will reach 300.

There was a heavy typhoon and torrential rains throughout the valley and in the mountains. The rivers were flooded and in many places rose to a height of 30 feet, sweeping everything before them in their rush to the sea. Hundreds of animals and houses were swept away by the waters.

At Aparri, which was almost completely under water, the American residents, headed by Lieutenant Treadway and Clark, Postmaster Foss and Engineer Clark, formed a rescue brigade, which rescued scores of natives, tking many off their homes, while floating down the river.

The Government has dispatched a coast guard cutter to investigate conditions and organize relief.

It is reported that cholera has broken out among the refugees.
