PAWNS PASTE DIAMOND RING FOR $2.50

How Stranger Flimflams Young Lady, But Sheriff Bown Makes Him Disgorge

A young man who did not give his name, but claimed to be a railroad man, flimflammed Miss Whitaker, whose mother keeps roomers at the corner of West Seventh and Olive streets, out of $2.50 last evening by pawing to her a worthless ring, claiming it to be a diamond, but later the sheriff made him give up the money and he has left town.
The fellow first appeared at Mrs. Mathews' boarding house on West Ninth street. He stated that he wanted a room and told Mrs. Mathews he had some baggage at the depot, in which was a check, but as he did not have access to the baggage he desired to secure a loan of $2.50, offering a ring, which he claimed was set with a diamond, as security for the money. Mrs. Mathews refused to give him the money, whereupon he left and tried the same game upon the proprietor of the Underwood house. Failing there, too, he went to Mrs. Whitaker's boarding house and succeeded in convincing one of Mrs. Whitaker's daughters that the stone was genuine, and she gave him the $2.50 asked for, stating that he would be back at 7 o'clock to redeem the ring. He failed to show up and the officers were notified. Sheriff Bown found the man at the Hotel Smeeds and advised him that he had better return the money or he would be placed under arrest. He did so and has not been seen since.
The ring is not worth more than 50 cents, but in the lamplight it had the appearance of being genuine.

MANY DELEGATES ATTEND ANNUAL W. C. T. U. MEETING

Denver, Oct. 23.—The thirty-fifth annual convention of the National Women's Temperance Union began in this city today, to remain in session until next Wednesday. The attendance is made up of about five hundred delegates who represent the 30,000 members of the Union scattered over every state and territory. The program for the present gathering is one of the best ever prepared for a convention of the organization. Many well-known clergymen and educators will join the delegates in addressing the convention.
The chief feature of today's program was the annual address of Mrs. William M. N. Stevens, of Portland, Mo., president of the organization. Mrs. Stevens has failed to attend only one convention in thirty-five years, and at that time was kept at home by illness. At the close of the present

CONVENTION Mrs. Stevens will start on a trip around the world in the interest of the W. C. T. U.

The convention will spend the greater part of the sessions tomorrow in the consideration of the annual reports of officers and committees. The program Sunday will be one of the most attractive of the entire convention. The annual convention sermon will be preached by Mrs. Margaret Dye Ellis and other speakers of prominence will be Mrs. Zillah Foster Stevens of Illinois, and Seaborn Wright, of Georgia.

WORK RESUMED ON MONROE RAILWAY

Had Been Held Up While Construction Gangs Built Branch Line to the Foothills

The citizens of Monroe are feeling better. For weeks they have been waiting the coming of the railroad, but work had been practically stopped on the line leading to that town. It has been resumed, however, and it is now only a question of a short time until the road will be completed into Monroe.

The construction gangs have not been idle while Monroe has been waiting. They have been building a branch from the main line to the foothills west of Monroe, a distance of about six miles. The work on this was practically completed last week and the grading gangs are back again on the line to Monroe.

This branch will be a good feeder, as it taps a rich timber country.—Harrisburg Bulletin.
