M'LEAN TELLS STRAIGHT STORY TO OFFICERS

Eugene Man Arrested At Vancouver as Murder Suspect May Be Released

HE IS FARMER RESIDING ON GOODPASTURE ISLAND

B. D. McLean, of Eugene, is the man who was arrested at Vancouver, Wash., yesterday and held as being suspected of the murder of Harry T. Butterworth at St Johns, a few evenings ago. The initials and the name given in the press dispatch to The Guard yesterday were wrong. McLean lives on a farm on the Goodpasture "island" north of the city. He left here for Seattle a few nights ago, intending to consult a physician for some ailment. He also announced that he would stop at Portland and Vancouver, intending to see a man at the latter place who used to work for him. C. F. Hawkins, who lives at 663 Patterson street, said last night:

"I loaned McLean my revolver and gave him six cartridges. The pistol was a 32 special Smith & Wesson and was almost new. The cartridges I took out of a box from which a few had been taken before. I am quite sure they were all the same kind. I never knew different kinds to come in the same box, and I think they were Winchester. But I am not absolutely certain about the kind. I did not load the gun but I gave McLean the cartridges to load it."

McLean was formerly connected with the meat market on East Thirteenth street, being associated with Ed Bushnell. He also peddled meat on the streets for some time several years ago. He is an ex-soldier, having served in one of the U. S. volunteer regiments in the Phillippines. It will also be remembered that four or five years ago he eloped with a girl residing in the vicinity of Hale and went to Astoria. At that place they boarded a tug boat, and went out beyond the bar and were married by the captain of the vessel on the high seas.

Will Probably Be Released.

The Oregonian this morning has the following.

Though unable thoroughly to satisfy the officers of his innocence and woefully perplexed in trying to give an account of his movements Tuesday night, B. D. McLean detained by the Vancouver police in connection with the murder of Harry T. Butterworth at St. John, told so straightforward and convincing a story that his release will likely be ordered immediately.

Many details of the story have been corroborated and in no detail of consequence has a discrepancy been discovered. As a result of the investigation of his movements and his statement, officers endeavoring to solve the mystery surrounding the killing of Butterworth are completely at sea.

McLean was arrested at Vancouver at an early hour yesterday morning. He was drinking with a number of soldiers in a Vancouver saloon and carelessly informed his newly-made companions that he was armed. The soldiers promptly removed a 32-calibre revolver from him and a police officer placed him under arrest. He is said to have been considerably under the influence of liquor at the time and stated to the officer that he had been in St. John Tuesday night. Accordingly he was confined in the Vancouver city jail pending an investigation.

Yesterday morning McLean made many conflicting statements and, apparently still under the influence of the liquor, was unable to explain his movements either lucidly or coherently. He had recovered somewhat in the afternoon however, and still shaking and distressed from the effects of two days' debauch, unflinchingly underwent a gruelling examination by Deputy District Attorney Fitzgerald, Sheriff Stevens, Chief Black of St. John and Chief Secrist, of Vancouver.

Was Going to Seattle.

"On the train when I boarded it at Eugene," McLean said, "were two men whom I knew who rode with me to Portland, and kept trying to sell me stock in a gold dredging company. We drank together and I saw them several times during the day in Portland and we had more drinks. I stayed around the Grand Central Hotel, though I did not register there, and stayed at a rooming-house Tuesday night."

McLean was unable to explain what he did between the hours of 6 and 8 o'clock Tuesday night. He visited many saloons, he said, but not being acquainted with the streets or buildings, was unable to name any particular place he had visited. He had never been to St. John in his life, he said, except once, a month ago, when he was in Portland and went to St. John to look up a friend.

Circumstances Against Prisoner.

A circumstance that was regarded as the strongest bit of evidence against the prisoner, was the fact that the weapon taken from him in the saloon was a .32 calibre, the same size as the weapon used in killing the St. John jeweler. Five of the six cartridges in the chamber contained soft-nosed, steel-jacketed bullets, while the sixth was of a different make and crimp. McLean was unable to explain the difference in the cartridges, but declared the weapon had been loaned him before leaving Eugene by C. F. Hawkins, a clerk in a grocery store at Eugene.

McLean denied having admitted to a Vancouver policeman that he had visited St. John Tuesday night. He was considerably muddled throughout the examination, but explained any discrepancies in his statements by the fact that he had been drinking. However, he told such an apparently stright story, many of the details of which have already been corroborated by the officers, that little importance is attached to the arrest.

Notice to Delinquent Taxpayers

Delinquent taxpayers will take notice that delinquent taxes will not be advertised as heretofore; under a law passed by the last legislature of this state taxes that are delinquent after the expiration of six months from the first date of such delinquency may be paid by any one demanding to pay same and a certificate of delinquency will be issued to such party.

Section 37 of said law, in part, reads:

"Any day after the expiration of six months after taxes charged against real property are delinquent the tax collector shall have the right, and it shall be his duty, upon demand and payment of the taxes, penalty and interest, to make out and issue a certificate or certificates of delinquency against such property," and section 38 in part reads: "Certificates of delinquency shall bear interest from the date of issuance until redeemed at the rate of 15 per cent per annum. * * *."

Delinquent taxpayers are therefore advised that if they have not paid at least one-half of their taxes on or before the first Monday in April that the same are delinquent and have been delinquent since said first Monday in April, and those who have paid one-half of their taxes as above the remaining one-half will become delinquent after the first Monday in October, and six months from such dates a certificate of delinquency bearing fifteen per cent interest per annum may be issued against your property.

To save further costs, penalties and interest you are earnestly requested to settle the same at once.

ANYONE CAN MIX RECIPE AT HOME

The following prescription for the cure of rheumatism and kidney and bladder troubles has no doubt been filled millions of times, viz: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. These simple, harmless ingredients can be obtained at any good prescription pharmacy at little cost and are mixed by shaking well in a bottle.

The dose for adults is a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime, drinking a full tumblerful of water after each dose. It is stated that this prescription is a positive remedy for kidney trouble and lame back, weak bladder and urinary difficulties, especially of the elderly people, and one of the best things to be used in rheumatic affliction, relieving the aches and pains and reducing swellings.

A well known authority states that this mixture acts directly upon the eliminative tissues of the kidneys; cleanses these spongelike organs and gives them power to sift and strain the poisonous waste mater and uric acid from the blood which is the cause of rheumatism.

If your back aches and you suspect your kidney trouble it would be wise to try this for a few days.

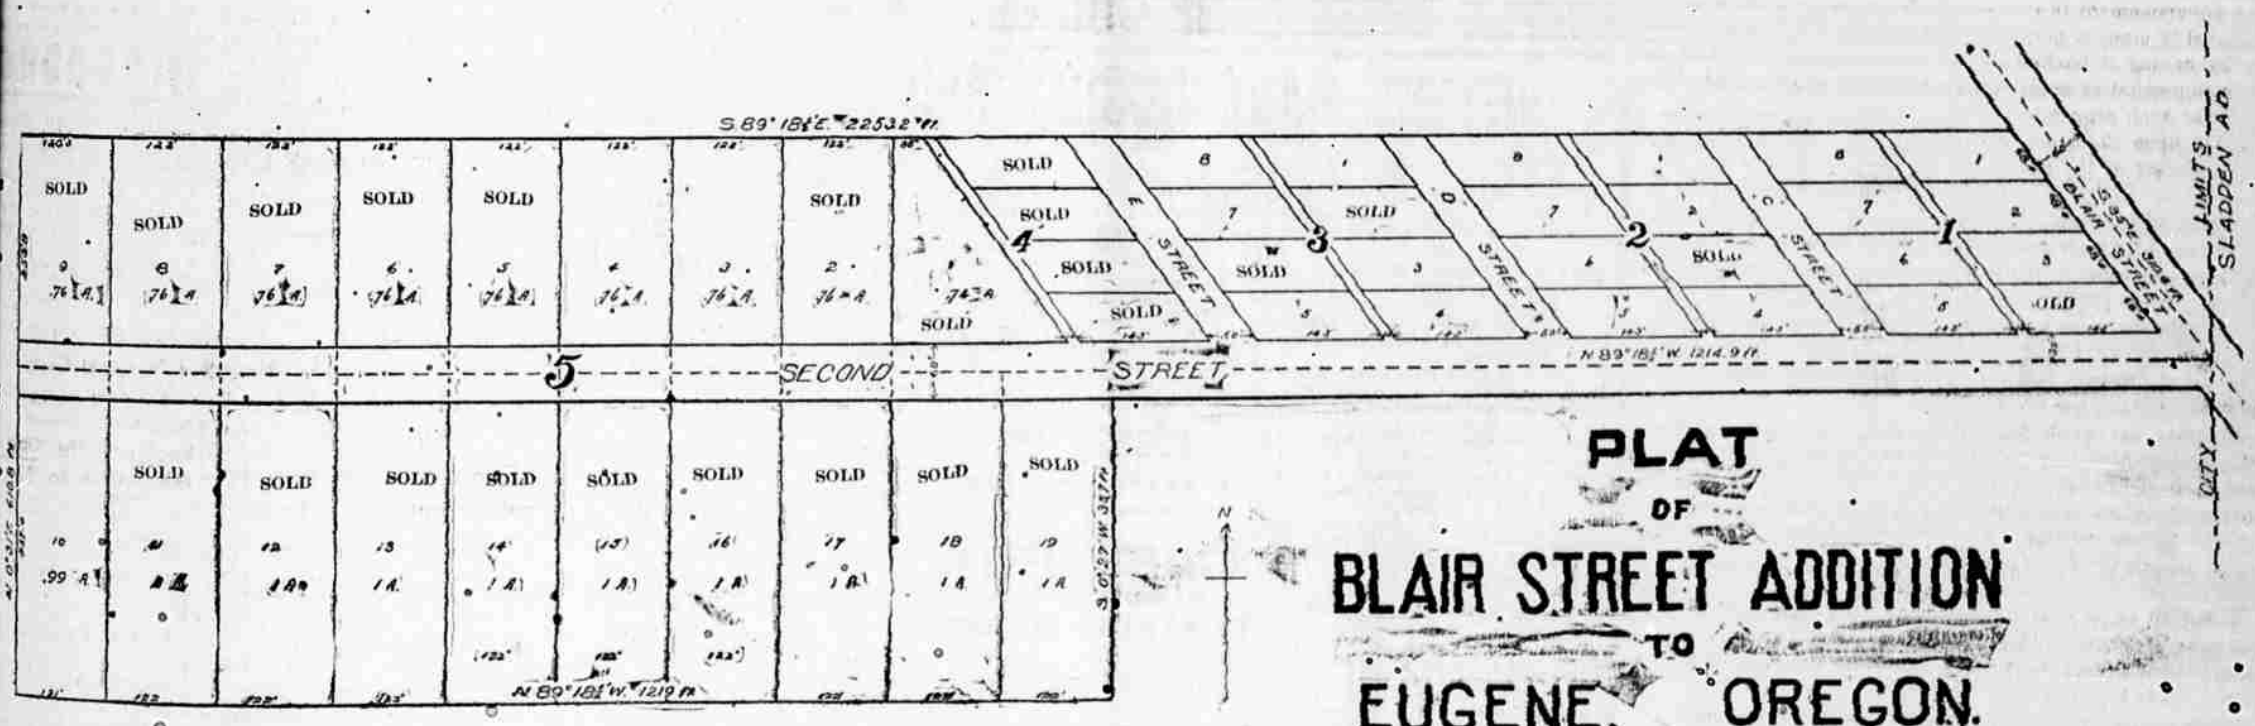
Blair Street Addition Now Nearly Sold Out



PLAT OF BLAIR STREET ADDITION TO EUGENE, OREGON.

Your opportunity to secure a lot or acre tract will soon be gone. If you want a site for a home or have a little money to invest there is no better opportunity in Eugene. Lots are priced reasonably and will be sold on easy monthly installments if desired.

You Make Your Own Terms

The best way to accumulate and save is to invest in real estate in a growing western city. Here is an opportunity for any wage earner. Eugene must grow down the valley where its business comes from. The county roads lead that way, and the electric roads from Portland have been located through Blair Street Addition. It is close to one of the city's largest public schools. STREETS ARE ALL NICELY GRADED.

The following real estate firms will be glad to show you this property.
