DRS. ATWOOD ARE BOUND OVER AT PORTLAND

Must Furnish Bonds of $1000 Each—May Be Charged With Manslaughter

Drs. C. H. T. and C. H. Atwood, father and son, charged with performing unlawful operations in a hospital conducted by them at Tremont station, were taken before Justice of the peace Olson yesterday afternoon for arraignment on a charge of "indecent and immoral acts which openly outrage public decency and are injurious to public morals." Both waived arraignment and were bound over to the grand jury under bonds of $1000 each, which they furnished, says today's Oregonian.

While held nominally under the "public nuisance" law, it is hoped by the District Attorney's office to launch a more serious charge within the next few days. The charge now pending is merely nominal. The authorities are firm in believeing that the Atwoods caused the death of Pearl Lamb, who died as the result of criminal malpractice. Evidence is also at hand to connect these men with the serious illness of a young woman who has been hovering between life and death for some considerable time.

An inquest into the death of Miss Lamb was to have been held yesterday by the Coroner, but was postponed to allow more time for the gathering of evidence. It will likely be held this morning. Deputy District Attorney Fitzgerald said yesterday that in the event the Coroner's jury connectin the Atwoods with the death of Miss Pearl Lamb, the charges against them will be changed to manslaughter.

Attorney J. A. Finch of the firm of Piggott &Finch, representing Drs. C. H. T. and C. H. Atwood, insist that their clients are conducting a thoroughly moral and indeed a beneficial institution. A number of the most prominent women of Portland have been their patients, they say.

"The Drs. Atwood conduct a maternity home, and try to avoid receiving such cases as that of the Lamb girl from Eugene. She secured admittance by false representation, and the doctors do not want such cases.

The statement that the Drs. Atwood are no licensed physicians is absolutely untrue, for they are graduates of medical schools and have licenses to practice as well as any other physicians in Portland. Among the patients they have treated at their hospital are the wives of bankers and various other prominent professional and business men. They would not object to the publication of the list of their patients if the patients themselves would not object. Their books and records are open to everyone."
