The ballot, though it fall,
As still as snowflake on the frozen soil,
Yet executes a freeman's will,
As lightning does the will of God.

WOOD PULP AND SAWMILL WASTE

To insure a pulp wood supply to meet adequately the future needs of the country seems one of the most important of the many forest problems of the United States. Statistics collected by government experts, however, show that there are possibilities in the field of invention for the relief of the drain on the country's remaining pulp wood forests by devising means of utilizing sawmill waste.

It is estimated that there are four and one-half million cords of slabs destroyed in refuse burners of the lumber mills of the country each year. The wood used for pulp last year amounted to four million cords, about a quarter of which had to be imported. The mill waste estimate is based on a recent canvass of some of the larger mills of the country, by the United States forest service, which established the interesting fact that mills having an aggregate cut of 5,440,000,000 board feet had a final waste of 1,870,000 cords of slabs after the best had been used for lath. Assuming these mills to be representative, it is seen that there is still considerable waste in forest products at the mill even after the earnest efforts of lumbermen during the last ten years to bring about a closer utilization of the whole tree.

These figures make it look as if American inventors, who are performing wonderful feats in other fields, should get down to the consideration of methods to make these waste slabs available for the pulp makers. Work along this line would also be likely to show the way for utilization of thousands of tons of sawdust which are now wasted each year.

It is true that some utilization is being made of mill waste at present, but in most cases it is only the larger and more modern plants that are even making any attempts in this line. Then, as it is, the plants which use the waste slabs, after laths are made, often waste the sawdust, and those which use the sawdust waste the slabs. The slab residue from the lumber cut of the country is estimated to amount to about 14,000,000 cords, of which about 6,000,000, with an average value of $1.40 a cord, is sold for fuel, 3,500,000 burned by the mills for fuel, and 4,500,000 sent to the refuse burners. This last figure shows the enormous quantity of forest product that is pure waste.

The iron furnace slag heaps have been seized upon by the brick maker, and the screening dump of the coal mines has become a valuable source of raw material for the briquette manufacturer. Experts say that it may prove possible to make just as good use of the waste heaps of the lumber mills if slabs and sawdust can be converted into pulp.

We are rather inclined to favor the new election law which was observed today for the first time. It insures a free expression of popular sentiment and does away with all the ridiculous pulling and hauling of voters about the polls. Intelligent American citizens ought to know how to vote and who to vote for, and if those who are not intelligent enough to exercise the franchise without assistance from partisan workers happen to lose their votes the country will profit by it. Voters, too, who are indifferent enough to stay away from the polls, unless hustled out by the paid workers, are really not worth the trouble they cause, viewed from the broader standpoint of the country's good. An election like that being held in Oregon today is of the safe and sane kind, and if the vote is a large one will tend to prove that the citizenship of Oregon is competent and willing to elect officials with the assistance of the ward workers.

The market craft "Defeat" will start on its trip up Salt River tonight in its accustomed promptness, and as is usual, all the boats will be fully occupied. From the present outlook the passenger list will be larger than usual this year, for there will be some six defeated presidential candidates aboard. At the first launch one and will accommodate all who can find room on the deck.

A Boston teacher announces that he will not marry congressmen, or men whose incomes are less than $12 per week. The first question for a layman, but we venture to say that the heads of good men, many of them highly successful, do not have more than an income of $12 a week, or less.

The National committee are fairly well supplied with money, says an expert political writer; "both National committees are bankrupt financially," writes another, which goes to show that the money is no more to be depended upon for political purposes.

"Lucky" saleritis out with off $50,000 to $40,000 that the horse race will be more betting at a race.

track illegal at its next session. Is that bluffing or lobbying, or a combination of both?

Hearst evidently has no compunction about hitting a man when he is down. McLaurin and Sibley have fessed up, but he continues to whack them with the Standard Oil club.

Speaking of log jumps, Charles W. Smith, who resigned the presidency of a Pennsylvania bank to become a Methodist bishop in Oregon, was going some.

There never was in the memory of the oldest inhabitant more activity in the vote-catching industry, nor wilder claims as to the catch made.

Well, it's all over but coming around to The Guard office tonight and reading the returns as they come in.

FOR SALE, EXCHANGE OR LEASE

Having concluded to retire from the lumber business I offer for sale, lease or will exchange for Eugene or Portland income property, my sawmill, sawmill site, boom, lumber sheds, office, planers, dry kilns and all tools connected with the business. Mill located at river bridge in the centre of Eugene city, east and west, and only three blocks from the S. P. R. R. This is a fine opportunity for some one to go into the lumber business, as there is always a big local demand for all slabwood, sawdust, shavings, cull lumber, as well as the better grades of lumber. Logs are cheap, labor cheap, lumber high. A good millman can make this property pay for itself in two years, and if he will operate day and night in one year. Greatest opportunity in this part of Oregon for a mill man; best located mill in the state. Capacity, 20,000 feet in ten hours. When you have this mill you are at the market. Planer and dry kiln—everything needed to make lots of lumber and a lot of money. Give this your early attention if interested in a lumber proposition. I am sure you cannot beat it in the state. The quicker you act the surer you are of making your fortune, for this is a chance in a lifetime.

INMATES OF SOLDIERS' HOME LOSE VOTES

Roseburg, Or., Nov. 2.—The new "corrupt practices act," if it is enforced here, will work a hardship on the veterans at the Oregon Soldier's Home near this city. Heretofore these old soldiers have always voted, being brought to the polls in this city in carriages, as they were not able to walk the distance. The veterans feel they are being cheated out of their constitutional rights as American citizens.

ITCHING ECZEMA FIFTY-FIVE YEARS

Suffered Torments from Birth—Boils Formed as Big as Walnuts—In Frightful Condition and Could Hardly Work—Tried All Kinds of Remedies to No Avail—At Last

WHOLLY CURED IN 8 MONTHS BY CUTICURA

"I had an itching, tormenting eczema ever since I came into the world, and I am now a man fifty-five years old. I tried all kinds of medicines I heard of, but found no relief. I was truly in a frightful condition. At last my blood was so bad that I broke out all over with red and white boils, which kept growing until they were as big as walnuts, causing great pain and misery. I thought they would take the skin off my whole body, but I kept from scratching as well as I could. I was so run down that I could hardly do my work. Mr. Nelson R. Burnett recommended the use of Cuticura Remedies, telling me he was confident they would benefit me, and in time, cure me. I used the Cuticura Soap, Ointment, Resolvent, and Pills for about eight months, and I can truthfully say I am cured. I cordially recommend Cuticura Remedies to all who are afflicted the same as I was, believing that, if they will use them according to directions, they will find them all they are represented to be. Any one doubting the truth of the above can write to Mr. Burnett, who will cheerfully vouch for my statements. "Hale Bordwell, R. F. D. 3, Cedar Corners, Tipton, Ia., Aug. 17, 1907."

"I cheerfully endorse the above testimonial. It is the truth. I know Mr. Bordwell and know the condition he was in. He never tires of praising the Cuticura Remedies. "Nelson R. Burnett, Tipton, Ia."
