SOME SURPRISES
IN ELECTION OF
HOUSE MEMBERS
 Several of the Republican
 Leaders Were Beaten

Washington, Nov. 4.—Republicans will be in command of all the legisla- tion enacted in the House of Rep- resentatives at the next session of Congress, although the majority which has been enjoyed during the last term has been cut down by Demo- cratic gains from 56 to 25.
 Complete returns are in from near- ly all the states on the Congressional vote. There are still a few more to be heard from, but it is not probable that these, when their final results are made known, will change to any degree the personal now figured out for the Lower House of Congress.
 In the face of the enormous pluri- alities received by Taft in nearly every state he carried, the Democratic Congressional gains, a number of which were supposed to be involun- tarily, come as a surprise to politi- cians of both parties.

Surprises Recored.
 Among the surprises already re- corded one of the most pronounced is the defeat of Representative Hepburn of the Eight Iowa District. Mr. Hepburn has occupied a seat in Con- gress for so long a period, during which time he has acted as chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commis- sion and been so prominent in po- litical affairs that he had become regarded as a permanent fixture in Washington.
 Next to his defeat comes the sur- prise sprung in Indiana in the retire- ment of Representatives Landis and Overstreet. Both are old-timers and both hold chairman assignments. For years they have been in active service and have supported Roose- velt's policies.
 Republicans generally are con- gratulating themselves over the gain of two members from the new state of Oklahoma. Elmer L. Fulton, Democrat and a brother of Charles W. Fulton, of Oregon, was defeated, as was also James S. Davenport, an- other Democratic representative. The change will give the Republicans three of the five members of the house from that state.
 Outside of the states mentioned, the Democrats have made sufficient gains to add 16 members to the total representation in the lower house, raising their delegation from 167 members to 183. With a load of 25, however, the Republicans command the situation, and Taft will, in con- sequence, have a strong backing in both the upper and lower branches of Congress.

OFFICIAL COUNT TO BE MADE TOMORROW
 The ballot boxes from all the pre- cincts in the county have not yet been received, but County Clerk Lee ex- pects them all to be in by tonight or in the morning. Just as soon as they arrive the official count of the ballots will be made and the complete vote in Lane county will be announced.
