PLAYS AND PLAYERS.

Ethel Barrymore will make her first appearance in "Lady Frederick" at the Hudson theatre, New York, next Friday.

William Collier will appear in London next May in "The Patriot," written by Jim and J. Hartley Manners, the dramatist.

Charles Frohman will produce before the end of the season a new comedy in three acts, entitled "The Marriage of the Star," by Alexander Blissen.

Gertie Millar, of "The Girls of Gottenberg" company, will return to London next March to create the leading part in a new play to be produced in the spring.

Vera McCord, a California girl, who has been the leading woman for Charles Hawtrey in England, but has never appeared in New York, will soon be seen on Broadway in the leading part of "Via Wireless."

James K. Hackett was obliged to close his engagement in New York recently on account of an injury to his foot, received in a stage duel. There is a rumor that he will soon appear in vaudeville.

E. H. Southern has returned to New York from England. He will open his season in Pittsburgh in "Macbeth" and will go to New York in February to appear in "Macbeth," "Hamlet," "Lord Dunsinore" and other plays.

The cast of "Gambler Kirby," in which Sam C. Goodwin is to appear in December will include Edward Harrigan, James Larkins, Miss Maude Fealey, Miss Ffolliott Pascoe, Wallace McCutcheon, Richard Pittman, Thomas Coleman and others.

"Paid in Full" was recently read by Professor W. G. Jones before a large audience of deaf mutes. Of course he used the finger language. Professor Jones is the son of the late Mrs. W. G. Jones, at one time an actress well known on Broadway.

Maxine Elliott seems to have abandoned the idea of producing Clyde Fitch's "The Social Guide" and is preparing to bring out "The Chapterone," a play by Marlon Fairfax, who is best recalled as the author of "The Builders." The first production will be given in Boston.

Miss Ada Rehan, the famous tragedienne, has returned to the United States and it is asserted that she intends to make her home in this country in the future. She is determined to live a quiet and restful life and has definitely refused all offers to return to the stage.

John R. Rogers has again become manager of Minnie Palmer and has secured for her use a playlet by J. M. Berrie, called "A Woman's Curiosity." The play was tried out in Philadelphia the other day and met with flattering success. Miss Allison Skipworth is in the cast of the play.

The Shuberts have just signed contracts with Jameson Lee Finney write in English and read: "I am these players will have important roles in the new version by Clyde Fitch of "The Blue Mouse," which is soon to be produced by the Shuberts. The exact date of the first production has not yet been fixed.

Miss Billie Burke recently received a post card from Armand Callavet, one of the authors of the original of "Love Watches." It was the French playwright's first attempt to write in English and read: "I am charm that you are so success with L'Amour Vielle. You must be a great actress, don't you?" She don't.

appeal to the Well-Informed in every walk of life and are essential to permanent success and creditable standing.
