SISTER DUG UP BODY OF HER MISSING BROTHER

Marengo, Ill., Nov. 11.—Haunted night and day by a presentiment that her brother had been brutally murdered and then buried—a fear that robbed her of her sleep for two weeks, and during her waking hours drove her to the verge of insanity, Arvilla Hoganson, took a shovel and frantically threw up the earth in a spot where her presentiment had taken her, and finally, exhausted, drove the blade into the body of her brother.

The girl made her gruesome discovery in the poultry yard on the John Bedford farm, which adjoins the Hoganson place. Hoganson disappeared two weeks ago. His sister immediately began making inquiries regarding his whereabouts but no trace of him could be found. Then it was a strange foreboding took possession of her. Night and day the vision of her brother lying cold in death beneath the earth haunted her.

Makes Horrible Discovery.

After three days of anxiety and fruitless worry, the girl's unaccountable presentiment took tangible shape and with a garden spade she hurried to the Bedford chicken yard. Alone and working with feverish haste, the girl dug into the soft earth. Three feet below the surface the sharp blade struck into the brother's body, and the girl, screaming with terror, dropped unconscious beside the grave. Here the neighbors found her. Officers were immediately notified and Hoganson's remains exhumed.

This occurred two days ago. Since then Bedford has been arrested in Nebraska and charged with murder. Today the sheriff and a force of workmen began digging in the chicken lot in search of further evidence against the man under arrest. It is the belief of the authorities that many bodies will be found buried on the Bedford farm and in the vicinity, and that a series of murders similar to the Guinness case will be brought to light.

We have now had one week of Rural Free Delivery and are much gratified with the improvement. Our carrier, Leslie Seals, is most courteous and obliging. However, we are sorry to notice that several of our neighbors on the route do not patronize it. If they could but realize that to become permanent the route must have a certain amount of patronage, and that when the patronage justifies, they would surely feel it their duty to help along a good thing by helping themselves.

EATON BINDERY ADDS NEW MACHINERY

Pratt, of Portland, is Foreman of His Up-to-date Shop

Allen Eaton, who established an up-to-date bindery here more than a year ago, has met with so much encouragement that he has installed a ruling machine and other equipment for the production of better work. Last summer he kept five employees at work on jobs of the most difficult nature.

In addition to the new machinery, Mr. Eaton has obtained the service of Mr. Harry Platt from Portland as foreman of the shop. He was for five years head finisher for Glass & Prudhomme, the well-known blank book makers of Portland. Some of the finest blank books in the court house and business houses here, were turned out by Mr. Pratt while he was in Portland. He is an expert with the ruling machine, and the print shops of Eugene, in co-operation with the bindery, can undertake anything in book-making.

The Eaton Book Bindery is now able to handle any kind of binding in any quantity, not only for Eugene, but for the whole section.
