HONORE PALMER BUYS ROGUE RIVER LAND

Chicago Millionaire Makes An Investment of $37,000 Near Medford

Medford, Nov. 12.—A land deal of considerable moment has been closed here by which Honore Palmer, son of the late Chicago millionaire, becomes owner of 1300 acres of land. This body of land is of the most productive kind in the county and lies on both sides of the Rogue river, twelve miles north of Medford. This particular section along the Rogue river is in the finest fishing grounds on the coast, and well-known to many famous fishermen from abroad. The price paid for the land is $37,000 cash. Mr. Palmer expects to divide the land into five and ten-acre tracts and place them on the market. Besides this investment, which he made on his recent trip here, he also bought copper mining property located near the well-known Blue Ledge Mine, about 30 miles southwest of Medford.

BROWNSVILLE HAS BUILDING GROWTH

Brownsville, Nov. 12.—Brownsville is assuming metropolitan proportions. Two new brick business blocks have been completed and fine residences are being erected during the past year than in any previous ten years.

Brownsville's most pressing need is train service. It takes passengers two days to make the trip to Portland and return, a distance of less than 200 miles.

The city and vicinity has recently established a market day system, which bids fair to be a good booster for this part of the valley.

MONACO'S RULER IS SIXTY YEARS OF AGE TODAY

Paris, Nov. 13.—A dispatch from Monte Carlo says that flags are everywhere displayed throughout Monaco today in celebration of the sixtieth birthday of Prince Albert, the reigning prince of the little Mediterranean principality which derives its entire revenue from the world-famous gambling casino at Monte Carlo.

Prince Albert at the present time is absent from his little domain on one of his scientific expeditions. His chief delight is marine dredging, and he has often told his friends that if the state of his finances did not depend upon the Monte Carlo tables he would have long since ordered their suppression.

The prince draws $250,000 a year from the syndicate which controls the gambling privileges. The heir to the throne is Prince Louis, a son of Prince Albert by his first wife, Lady Mary Hamilton, who was the sister of the Duke of Hamilton. He was divorced from her in 1880 and several years later married the widow of the Duke of Richelieu. She was originally Miss Alice Heine, of New Orleans, and her father was a wealthy Hebrew banker.

Prince Albert's one passion is the study of oceanography. He has published many volumes on this subject and in order to be better able to pursue his investigations he had built at enormous cost a vessel equipped with scientific apparatus and fitted with a glass bottom for observations of the ocean's bed.

YOUNG HUSBAND TURNED SAVAGE

Wealthy Pasadena Man Faces Serious Charges—Wife Asks for Divorce

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 12.—Sued for divorce by his wife, the daughter of a wealthy family, Thomas H. Nelmes, a young and rich business man of Pasadena, was charged in the superior court today with many acts of cruelty, principal of which was the allegation that he struck his wife in the mouth with a telephone receiver while she was trying to communicate with friends, advising them of his savage treatment.

Habitual intemperance and extreme cruelty are the grounds set forth in the complaint. The charges are a surprise to the friends of the Nelmes, who have always been extremely popular.

"My husband often urged me to drink," testified Mrs. Nelmes. "On one occasion when I declined he insisted that I should. Finally I yielded and drank just one glass of wine. Then he accused me of being drunk. When we reached home I endeavored to telephone a girl friend and he struck me in the mouth with the telephone receiver."
