Does not take into consideration the one essential to woman's happiness—womanly health. The woman who neglects her health is neglecting the very foundation of all good fortune. For without health love loses its lustre and gold is but dross. Womanly health when lost or impaired may generally be regained by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This Prescription has, for over 40 years, been curing delicate, weak, pain-wracked women, by the hundreds of thousands and this too in the privacy of their homes without their having to submit to indelicate questionings and offensively repugnant examinations.

NATIONAL ELECTIONS IN CUBA TOMORROW

Havana, Nov. 13.—Cuba is on the eve of its presidential and congressional elections which, according to the program arranged by the United States government, are to end the provisional interregnum, and once more place the island's governmental affairs in the hands of the Cubans. The elections will be held tomorrow and today the waves of political excitement throughout Cuba are running high. In the office of president only two candidates are in the field, General Jose Miguel Gomez, the coalition candidate of the two factions of the liberal party, and General Mario Garcia Moncal, nominated by the conservatives. The system of election closely resembles that employed in the United States at national and state elections. The number of electors to be voted for is 107, distributed among the various provinces as follows: Pinar del Rio, 14; Havana, 26; Mantanzas, 12; Santa Clara, 22; Camaguey, 9; Oriente, 22. In addition to the electors 33 alternates, also distributed among the provinces, are to be voted for. In accordance with the provisions of the constitution the electors chosen shall meet one hundred days after the election, when they will organize and cast their vote for president and vice president.

At tomorrow's election ninety-six senatorial electors shall be chosen, and these, with the forty-eight provincial councilmen now in office, will constitute the electoral board. The Cuban senate will consist of twenty-four senators, four from each province. They shall serve eight years and one-half shall be elected every four years. One half of the senatorial electors must belong to the class of the "largest taxpayers." There is little doubt in the mind of those well informed concerning the political situation in Cuba, that General Gomez, who is elected president, his running mate and former opponent, Dr. Alfredo Zayas y Alphonso, vice president. Both are men of great popularity and headed the two factions into which the liberal party was split. It is stated that Dr. Zayas consented to become the candidate for the vice presidency only with the condition that there would be no opposition to his nomination for the presidency four years hence.

Political conditions in Cuba are so peculiar that it is practically impossible to give a clear statement of the issues at stake in tomorrow's election. It may be said, however, that the question of American annexation is not one of the issues of the campaign. All parties are opposed to that, at least nominally. While many leading and progressive citizens believe the island may never enjoy its due measure of tranquility and prosperity while it remains independent, they also understand that it would mean political suicide and ostracism for any individual or party to attempt to make annexation a political issue. At the same time there is a tacit understanding in political circles that the path of the successful party and candidate and party will not be smooth, and there is every reason to believe that plots have already been arranged for uprisings and revolutionary propaganda, no matter which party may be victorious.

The principal issue of tomorrow's election is the question whether by the lowering of the tariff barriers closer commercial relations shall be established with the United States or not. Generally speaking, it may be said that the sugar planters favor the closest possible relations with the United States, for this is their chief market. They now enjoy a concession of twenty per cent from the regular tariff rates through the Cuban treaty, and would be only too glad to have the concession made larger or the duty abolished altogether. The sugar planters are closely identified with the conservative party, whose exponent at tomorrow's election is General Moncal, who is the manager of the Chaparra sugar estate, the largest in the world. He was born in Cuba, but educated in the United States, and is a graduate of Cornell and of the Maryland Agricultural College.

The tobacco growers, who in a large measure side with the liberal party, are opposed to the establishment of closer relations with the United States. They fear that, as in the case of Porto Rico, Cuba would be flooded with cheap American tobacco, which would be re-imported in the United States as the Cuban tobacco, to the detriment of the Cuban planters. Their candidate, General Gomez, was the candidate of the liberal party a year ago, but was defeated by Palma, the head of the conservative party, who resigned owing to a controversy over the elections. General Gomez was arrested when the revolution against Palma broke out in 1906, but was soon released. He was formerly governor of the province of Santa Clara.

FRATERNITY MEN AT BANQUET BOARD

New York, Nov. 13.—Nine hundred members of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity are to gather about the banquet board at the Waldorf-Astoria tonight as a fitting climax to the big convention of the society which had its beginning in New Haven last Wednesday and was continued to Hartford yesterday.

The banquet promises to be one of the most notable affairs of its kind that has taken place in the metropolis for some time. Charles P. Taft, of Cincinnati, brother of President-elect Taft, is to act as toastmaster and among the notable speakers will be Secretary of the Navy Metcalf, Senator Beveridge, of Indiana, Senator Brandegee of Connecticut, and ex-Governor Black, of New York. It is also expected that Hon. Cum Mon Yow, Yale '64, will attend and contribute to the toast. Cum, who recently arrived in this country as a special envoy with Prince Tuan Shanyi, was coxswain of the Yale '83 varsity boat, and is the only Chinaman in the world who can wear the Yale "Y." He has the distinction of being the only Chinese member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

EATON BINDERY ADDS NEW MACHINERY

Pratt, of Portland, is Foreman of His Up-to-date Shop

Allen Eaton, who established an up-to-date bindery here more than a year ago, has met with so much encouragement that he has installed a ruling machine and other equipment for the production of better work. Last summer he kept five employees at work on jobs of the most difficult nature.

In addition to the new machinery, Mr. Eaton has obtained the service of Mr. Harry Platt from Portland as foreman of the shop. He was for five years head finisher for Glass & Prudhomme, the well-known blank book makers of Portland. Some of the finest blank books in the court house and business houses here, were turned out by Mr. Platt while he was in Portland. He is an expert with the ruling machine, and the print shops of Eugene, in co-operation with the bindery, can undertake anything in book-making.

The Eaton Book Bindery is now able to handle any kind of binding in any quantity, not only for Eugene, but for the whole section.

DEMONSTRATION TRAIN STOPPED AT HARRISBURG

A Thousand People Greeted It. Other News of Harrisburg

(Special Correspondence.)

Harrisburg, Nov. 13.—The citizens of Harrisburg and the farmers of this section turned out in full force Saturday to see the things displayed and to hear what was to be said by the expert farmers conducting the exhibition aboard the Southern Pacific Company's demonstration train. The number in attendance was variously estimated, but can safely be placed at one thousand. Intense interest was manifested and the opportunity to benefit by the occasion was made the most of by the farmers. All present were enthusiastic in expressing their appreciation of the good work. J. C. Sabin had lined up along the side of the train nine head of his famous Galloway cattle, with the majestic leader clothed with blue ribbons in evidence of his superiority. This herd added greatly to the general interest. Even while the demonstration train was here doing such fruitful missionary work, pessimists dared to show its ugly head, misstatements being made to the effect that the expense of the train was a graft and paid for by taxing the producers, etc. If the Guard would show this up as it is, it would be greatly appreciated by its many readers hereabouts.

Dr. T. C. Mackey, of Salem, made a professional visit here Saturday night. Henry Heath and family, of Columbia, S. D., arrived here Sunday. They will occupy the Bemis property for the winter with a view of locating in Oregon.

Messrs. May & Senders have sold 31,000 pounds of wool to Eastern buyers who are grading and baling it for shipment. Morris Senders, of Albany, is superintending the work. The compress being used makes bales weighing 550 pounds, and will fit in a car as closely as brick work could.

Samuel May, of Portland, came up Saturday. His long residence here and his intimate connection with our social, fraternal and business life during that time always renders the event of his arrival more of a happy home coming than that of a mere visitor.

Mrs. Alice Belmont, of Portland, is here for a visit with relatives and friends. She was born and raised here, being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Lowe, deceased, pioneers of 1853. She is joyfully received by her host of friends.

MICHIGAN MEETS QUAKERS TOMORROW

Ann Arbor, Nov. 13.—It will be Michigan vs. Pennsylvania on Ferry field tomorrow, and the indications are that the game will be witnessed by the largest crowd that ever attended a football game here. Hotels, dormitories and fraternity houses are filled with visitors who have come to see the most important game of the season on Michigan's schedule. Several hundred enthusiastic rooters have come to town with the Pennsylvania eleven to cheer the red and blue to victory.

A feeling of confidence pervades the Michigan camp. The supporters of the Wolverine team figure that, although Pennsylvania probably has the best team it has had in years, it is no better than the Michigan squad, which was able to win over the Vanderbilt team by a score nearly as large as that by which Pennsylvania won over the Carnegie Institute, with all of her stars in the game.

The game tomorrow will be the third between the Pennsylvania and Michigan elevens. Both of the previous contests were won by Pennsylvania. Last year the score was 6 to 0 and in 1906 it was 17 to 0.

I am glad to announce to any who are interested that on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week there will be on display at the store a large number of original Japanese water colors, all of which show well the characteristics of the Japanese art. Many of these are the I have ever seen.
