

EUGENE NOW HAS MUNICIPAL WATER PLANT

Actual Transfer From Willamette Valley Company to City Made Today

DEED MADE OUT AND WILL BE RECORDED

Water Commission Will Probably Be Appointed and Then Elected

Eugene now has its long-coveted municipal water plant, the actual transfer of the Willamette Valley Company's system having been made this morning. A. Welch, general manager of the company, came up from Portland last night and met with the council this forenoon, at which time the deed was passed and it will at once be placed on the county records. The consideration is $140,000, the amount agreed upon some time ago between the officials of the water company and the city council.

The property transferred to the city by the company includes the Spencer butte property, on which the two reservoirs are located, the pumping station and ground upon which it is built, the tract of land across the river on which the much-talked-of and unused well is located, all the pipe lines, fixtures, tools, etc., connected with the plant.

City Gets Profits Since July 1
The date of the transfer of the property is put in the deed as July 1, as that was the date originally agreed upon, the transfer being postponed on account of the question arising as to the validity of the $300,000 bonds issued by the city for the purpose of paying for the plant, the matter having been taken to the supreme court for settlement. The city gets all the profits of the plant since July 1, and also pays for all the improvements made since that time.

Commission Will Handle Plant
The operation of the water plant will be in the hands of a commission. Mayor Mallock stated this afternoon that an ordinance creating a water commission is now being drawn by the city attorney and it will probably be presented at the meeting of the council next Monday night. He stated that it is probable that a commission will be appointed to act until such a time as an election can be held to choose a commission in that matter, as he is personally in favor of an elective commission and he thinks a majority of the members of the council are.

The bonds to pay the company for the plant were signed by the mayor and recorder today. They bear interest at 5 per cent per annum.

HENEY'S ENERGY MAY SAVE HIS LIFE

Jury, attracted by the shot, came bursting through its private entrance.

As the man who had fired the shot stepped back from the Assistant District Attorney with the smoking weapon in his hand, he kept his eyes on Mr. Heney, as if to see how effective his aim had been.

"Send for My Wife," Says Heney.
Mr. Heney arose out of his chair, put his hands to his head, the blood streaming through his fingers and reddening the table in front of him, leaned over a moment and was caught as he began to fall. He was laid on the floor, Charles Oliver and John Foley, two special detectives connected with the District Attorney's office, holding his head out of the pool of blood which flowed from a wound which appeared to be just below his right temple. He was conscious, and when the Associated Press representative dropped down at his side and spoke to him, his first words were:

"Send for my wife."

Thinks He Is Dying.
"I want to make a dying statement, I believe I am going to die. I was sitting at my table when I felt what I thought was a blow. I do not know who shot me. I was doing nothing to anyone."

Ruef and his two attorneys, who were out on the sidewalk, were startled by the report and started for the courtroom, but were forced down the steps by the crowd rushing frantically out.

"What has happened," shouted Ruef, to the Associated Press representative, as the latter ran out to the nearest telephone.

"Heney has been shot," was the reply.

"My God, who did that?" he asked.

Ruef Sends for Doctor.
Ruef's automobile stood in front of the building and he immediately ordered his chauffeur to get the nearest physician. The car returned a few minutes later with Dr. A. S. Tschler, of 704 Van Ness avenue.

Medical assistance was somewhat slow to arrive and Dr. Tschler was the first physician on the scene. Mr. Heney in the meantime lying on his side in the courtroom, with a piece of rug under his head. It is some time before the ambulance arrived, which conveyed Mr. Heney to the Central Emergency hospital, only four blocks away, whence he re-

Immense Angry Crowd.
The report of the attempted assassination spread throughout the city like wildfire and caused intense excitement and indignation. An immense crowd gathered around Carpenter's hall, to which Judge Lawlor had moved his court this week on account of the lack of room and facilities in the temporary criminal court building. Several hundred persons followed the ambulance from the hall to the Central Emergency hospital, and down town thousands gathered around bulletin boards.

Within a few minutes after the shooting Chief of Police W. J. Biggs, W. J. Burns, ex-United States Secret Service agent, who is at the head of the special detectives employed by the prosecution in the bribery-graft cases; Rudolph Spreckle, the capitalist who financed the prosecution; Captains of Police Gleason, Duke and Wright, and a large force of police, were on the scene.

Ruef Slips Away, but Returns.
There was no hostile demonstration by the big crowd in front of the building, but some threatening murmurs began to be heard. Ruef was surrounded by a large number of people and quietly slipped away, going with Dr. Tschler to the latter's office for a little while. This led to a report that the former political boss had disappeared, and Mr. Burns ceased some of his men for having allowed him to get away and Mr. Biggs immediately sent men to hunt for him. Ruef, however, appeared in front of the building a little later and sent in word that the officer at the door would not let him in. He was at once taken into the courtroom. Judge Lawlor at once ordered Ruef to jail, more to protect him from possible violence than for any other reason, it is believed.

"Heney Ruined Me," Says Haas.
"I am Morris Haas. Heney ruined me. I don't care what becomes of me now."

In another corner of the building Mr. Ach and Mr. Dozier, Ruef's counsel, were in the chambers of Judge Lawlor.

"My God," exclaimed Mr. Ach, "I wish I had never taken a criminal case in my life. I will never take another when I get out of this one. This is a dastardly outrage. I cannot express myself in strong enough terms. Mr. Heney did not denounce this man Haas, if he is the one who did the shooting. I purchased a duty he disclosed the fact, during the other trial of Mr. Ruef, that Haas was an ex-convict, as such had him discharged from the jury box. I sincerely hope that Mr. Heney will recover."

Motive of Haas's Crime.
Haas was convicted of embezzlement in San Bernardino county, and on May 25, 1888, was sentenced to three years in San Quentin. He served two years and eight months, having earned four months by good behavior, and was released January 25, 1890. Some years later he was married, and has a wife and four children. He lived with his family at 1848 McAllister street, and was engaged in the saloon business at the time he was drawn on the jury panel for the second trial of Ruef last May. After he had been passed by both sides, Mr. Heney learned that he was an ex-convict. He dramatically confronted Haas with his picture in convict stripes, closely-cropped hair and number across his breast. Haas was forced to admit his penitentiary record and was immediately discharged from the jury. From his statement it appears that he has been brooding over his exposure ever since that day, and has nursed a deep hatred of Mr. Heney.

"Will Live to Prosecute."
"I'll live to prosecute that man," declared Mr. Heney on the operating table at the Central Emergency hospital, while the surgeons were probing his wound. The wounded man was entirely conscious and grittily endured the ordeal. Mrs. Heney arrived at the hospital a few minutes after her husband had been taken there and later accompanied him to the Lane hospital, where she is at his bedside tonight.

Langdon's Tribute.
District Attorney Langdon received the news of the shooting at Fresno, and took the next train to San Francisco. He paid a high tribute to Heney, declaring him a "martyr to the public cause."

An English Author Wrote:
"No shade, no shine, no fruit, no flowers, no leaves—November." Many Americans would add no freedom from catarrh, which is so aggravated during the month that it becomes constantly troublesome. There is abundant proof that catarrh is a constitutional disease. It is related to scrofula and consumption, being one of the wasting diseases. Hood's Sarsaparilla has shown that what is capable of eradicating scrofula completely cures catarrh, and taken in this prevents consumption. We cannot see how any sufferer can get off taking this medicine, in view of the widely published record of its radical and permanent cure. It is undoubtedly America's greatest medicine for America's Greatest Disease—Catarrh.

FERMENTATION OF UNDIGESTED FOOD CAUSES MISERY

GET YOUR STOMACH IN GOOD ORDER AND REMOVE THE DREAD OF EATING SOMETHING WHICH WILL UPSET YOU—DIAPYPSIN WILL RELIEVE STOMACH MISERY IN FIVE MINUTES.

Some people think they have indigestion, others Catarrh of the Stomach, others Nervousness, Cancer or Dyspepsia, etc. Call it this if you will, but the real name for your trouble is Food Fermentation, with only partial digestion. Everything you eat turns to either Acid, Stomach gas or Stomach poison, which weakens the digestive organs, causing a lack of gastric juice. Your food sours, is only half digested, and you become affected with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, burning sensation, a feeling of vomiting, heartburn, water brash and tenderness in the pit of the stomach, bitter tongue, bad taste in the mouth, constipation, nausea, belching of gas, dizziness, sick headache, mental depression and many other common symptoms.

You can cure all this by not eating, by not putting any food in your stomach to ferment; but how about the nourishment needed to sustain your bodily strength? If you are a stomach sufferer, either man or woman, young or old, whether you call it indigestion or any other name, go to your druggist and give 50 cents for a case of Pape's Diapypsin. Every possible kind of Stomach trouble is readily cured by Diapypsin, which takes out hold of the food in your stomach and digests it there, without the help of the stomach, just as if the stomach wasn't there.

After a few days' use of Diapypsin your Stomach will again be in good working order, your meals will be thoroughly digested and your intestines will be clean and fresh, and you will have no use for laxatives or other purgatives.
