WORKING ON ALBANY'S ELECTRIC LINE

The work of laying the track for the new electric line leading from First and Washington streets to the depot is progressing with much dispatch. A big force of men are being employed and soon the horse car will be crowded off First street altogether. The men in charge of the construction claim that electric cars will be in operation in the city by the first of the year. The track as being laid gives every evidence of solidity and first-class workmanship. All Albany will rejoice when the new track is completed and cars are started on the new line.—Albany Democrat.

EVERYTHING IN READINESS FOR DISTRICT FAIR

Exhibition At Cottage Grove Opens Thursday and Ends Saturday

Two more days and another event in the history of Cottage Grove will have commenced, the first annual district fair. A corps of carpenters and electricians have been diligently working to have everything in readiness for the opening day. The main building is finished, and the stock pens are nearly finished. The high board fence around the grounds is being extended and the scene is teeming with industry. The buildings will be short a coat of paint this year, for workmen have been too scarce to have it done.

The delay in securing lumber has seriously handicapped the construction work. A quantity of lumber had been donated, we are informed, but difficulty was experienced in getting it hauled to the grounds. However, plenty to finish up is now on hand, and the association is preparing for three days of celebration. The buildings will all be electric lighted, and evening visitors will experience no difficulty in seeing the exhibits. A special transformer has been ordered, which will be here in time for the big event.

The farmers in this vicinity are taking hold of the proposition with a vim. Many have commenced already hauling their exhibits to town. The committee on exhibits wish to notify the exhibitors that there will positively be no exhibits entered after the opening morning, Thursday, November 19. The buildings must be in readiness when the gates are swung open. There will be no unfinished buildings or exhibits on the opening morning of the fair.

Awards of most of the exhibits consist of a blue ribbon, first prize; red ribbon, second prize, and where a third prize is awarded a white ribbon will be given. The ribbons will be an insignia which will be proudly displayed by every possessor of such. A monetary consideration would not remain in the mind of a successful exhibitor as long as the ribbons will, for in most cases pains are taken for their preservation.

Suitable programs are now being and the committee in charge special interest every "something of es- they have up their sleeve is not known, but we are informed there will be something which will prove interest to the attendance. The local band will furnish music during the three days, and while the committee has been disappointed in securing a carnival company for these dates, a substitution for one has been arranged.—Western Oregon.

ENORMOUS WESTWARD MOVEMENT IS DUE EARLY NEXT YEAR

That there will be a heavy westward movement next spring is confidently expected by William McMurray, general passenger agent for the O. R. & N. company, who has been here today with the general manager and his party, says the Pendleton East Oregonian.

"I look for many people to come westward from the Middle states next spring," said Mr. McMurray. "Just what rates will be offered to colonists we do not know yet, but the Harriman lines are always ready to assist in a movement to bring settlers this way. The special round-trip rates offered for those attending the Alaska-Yukon fair will also bring many homeseekers." While here Mr. McMurray also spoke interestingly of the publicity work of the Harriman people through the agency of the Sunset Company. Owing to the enormous amount of work being turned out the company has been delayed somewhat in getting the Umatilla county booklets ready for distribution.

However, this may prove of benefit rather than otherwise. Owing to conditions in the Middle and Eastern states there was comparatively little westward travel this fall. But the outlook for spring traffic is unusually good. In view of this fact immigration seeking literature may be of much more service now than it would have if it had been sent out earlier in the fall.

GENERAL NEWS OF THE DAY IN BRIEF

Charlottetown, P. E. I., Nov. 18.—General elections for members of the Prince Edward Island legislature are in progress today. A liberal victory is predicted, though possibly their majority may be cut.

Washington, Nov. 18.—The trustees of the Catholic University assembled today for their annual meeting. Included among the trustees are many of the archbishops and bishops of the Catholic church in the United States.

Walla Walla, Wash., Nov. 18.—Prominent guests from out of town are here for the wedding today of Miss Harriet Ankeny, daughter of United States senator and Mrs. Levi Ankeny, and Captain Francis H. Pope of the fourteenth Cavalry, U. S. A. Captain Pope is a West Point graduate and comes from a distinguished army family.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 18.—One of the best fights seen in Philadelphia for a long time is promised at the National A. C. tonight, when Packie McFarland, the Chicago lightweight, and Tommy Murphy, of New York, come together for a six-round bout. Both appear to be in the best condition possible for the contest.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 18.—The annual meeting of the New Jersey grand lodge of Odd Fellows began in this city today and will continue over tomorrow. One of the principal features of the session will be the laying of the corner stone of the addition to the Odd Fellows' Home near here.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 18.—From every part of the country delegates are arriving in Atlanta to attend the second annual convention of the National Association for the Promotion of Industrial Education. The sessions will begin tomorrow and continue through Thursday and Friday. Many prominent speakers will be heard.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 18.—Today's session of the National Prison Association convention was given over to the prison physicians. Among those having a prominent part in the discussion were Dr. Theodore Cook, Jr., of Baltimore, Dr. H. C. Sharpe, of Jeffersonville, Ind., Dr. Charles V. Carrington, of Richmond, and Dr. F. W. P. Butler, of Columbia, S. C. Governor Fort, of New Jersey, is to address the convention tonight.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18.—The board of food and drug inspection of the department of agriculture began a hearing today on the subject of bleaching flour, a subject that has begun to attract attention throughout the country. Leading millers who declare that the process is not in any way injurious and is done only to give the flour a uniform color.

Andersonville, Ga., Nov. 18.—The dedication of the Indiana monument here will take place tomorrow and will be attended by a large party of state officials and others from Indiana. The monument is of handsome design and was erected in honor of the Indiana soldier dead who are buried in the National cemetery here. The dedication will be accompanied by interesting ceremonies.

London, Nov. 18.—The king and queen of Sweden, who have been the guests of King Edward and Queen Alexandra at Windsor since Monday, today paid a state visit to the city of London and were received with all honors and ceremonies customary to the occasion. At Guildhall their majesties were formally received by the lord mayor and other municipal dignitaries, and were presented with an address in a gold casket. An elaborate procession headed by the city trumpeters conducted the royal guests between Paddington station and Guildhall. They were greeted enthusiastically by the crowds that filled the streets along the route.

ROCKWOOD EXHIBIT.
