The object of the conference, which was called together by Governor Guild, and which will remain in session two days, is the consideration and discussion of the various resources of the New England states and of the best means to preserve and develop them. The opening session was devoted to the consideration of tree planting, Gifford Pinchot, chief of the forestry service of the United States Department of Agriculture, spoke on the future of forest trees in New England. Professor John Craig, head of the department of horticulture at Cornell University and secretary of the American Pomological Society, discussed the subject of orchards in New England and the great opportunity for fruit culture in the New England states.

The morning session tomorrow, which will be opened with prayer by Archbishop O'Connell, will take up the subject of the preservation and cultivation of shellfish, now rapidly vanishing from the New England states. Professor Francis Hobard Herrick, of the department of biology at the Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio, will read a paper on lobster culture. Dr. George Wilton Field, chairman of the Massachusetts fish and game commission, will speak on the growth and preservation of oysters, clams, quahaugs and scallops.

The third session, which will be held tomorrow afternoon, will be devoted to the consideration of highways and their use. Harold Parker, chairman of the Massachusetts highway commission, James A. McDonald, highway commissioner of Connecticut, and ex-Governor Nahum J. Bachelder, of New Hampshire, master of the National grange, will read papers touching upon the subject.

COTTAGE GROVE NOTES

Cottage Grove, November 21.—J. M. Hamilton came down Saturday morning and went out to Diston on the "Slow and Easy" as the Oregon & Southern railway is called. He is after lumber to work up in the factory in which he lately bought an interest at Eugene.

L. E. Hard and wife came down from Eugene Saturday evening and took in the fair. Mr. Ward was at one time a resident of this locality, having owned and conducted a ranch two or three miles from this city on Row river.

The sawmills in this vicinity are running full time, giving employment to a large number of men.

The Western Oregon has a clubbing combination with the Eugene Daily and Weekly Guard and will push the combination to the limit among the farmers in this locality.

More building is in progress in Cottage Grove at the present time than for years past. Old General Prosperity seems to have established his headquarters at Cottage Grove.

MANY SENSATIONS IN LAMPHERE TRIAL

La Porte, Ind., Nov. 21.—The sensations in today's trial of the Lamphere case were the assertions of Daniel M. Hutzen and his daughters, Evelyn, aged 11, and Eldera, aged 9, that they saw Mrs. Guinness and a strange man on July 9, though they were unable to distinguish her features because of the thick veil she wore. They are positive they could not be mistaken. Hutzen declared he tried to follow the couple, but they got ahead of him and he was not likely to follow too closely for fear of "getting a chunk of lead."

John Anderson testified that he saw Mrs. Guinness Saturday before the fire with a strange woman. This is the woman the defense contends must have been murdered by Mrs. Guinness and whose body was the adult body found in the fire ruins. Fred R. Ryckman testified to having worked for Mrs. Guinness and said one afternoon he had been ordered to dig a hole five feet deep and five feet long. Two men arrived while Mrs. Guinness was in town but upon instructions he gave them a key. They went into the house and did some drinking. Before Ryckman left, one of the men gave him some of the wine and on the way home he became unconscious and did not know anything until the next day.

TRIAL OF WOMAN WHO KILLED DOCTOR OPENS IN NEW YORK

New York, Nov. 23.—Considerable public interest is manifested in the case of Sarah Koten, which was called for trial today in the criminal branch of the supreme court. The young woman, a Russian Jewess who has been in America but a few years, is charged with having murdered Dr. M. W. Auspitz last spring. The victim was a man of family and a physician of high standing in his profession.

Dr. Auspitz maintained a private sanitarium and Sarah Koten was employed by him as a nurse. According to the young woman, she was wronged by the physician and then cast out. When an effort to obtain justice in the courts failed her she determined to wreak personal vengeance upon her alleged betrayer.

On the night of the tragedy she telephoned to Dr. Auspitz at his home in East Ninety-Third street. In the guise of a patient she summoned the physician to make a professional call at an apartment house in West 135th street. When the physician arrived at the house the young woman, heavily veiled, met him in the vestibule and without a word shot and killed him instantly.

After the killing Miss Koten collapsed and for a few days her life was despaired of. Because of her condition she was removed from the Tombs to the city hospital on Blackwell's island. There, on September 26 last, she gave birth to a child. The circumstances surrounding the case aroused much public sympathy in behalf of the unfortunate and friendless young woman. This sympathy was increased when it became known that charges similar to those made by the young Jewess had previously been preferred against Dr. Auspitz by another woman who had been in his employ. Through the efforts of charitable disposed persons able counsel has been engaged to conduct the defense of Miss Koten.

TO LOVERS OF GOOD COFFEE

All coffee mills however will only crush the berry, the minute oil cells, allowing the oil to evaporate, thus losing the strength and flavor.

By this new process the cells remain unbroken, the oil (food product), cannot run out and the coffee retains its full aromatic flavor in its full strength.

This is one reason why our coffee cut in this mill will last ten to fifteen cups more than strength coffee that is ground in the old way.

The good coffee made by this method never loses its flavor in the ordinary way as is the case with the old method. Another feature about this coffee is that you may use it as often as you wish and still be practically free from dust which is produced by the method of grinding. You will, therefore, always have a clear coffee instead of a muddy result of using the old style mill.

Royal Cut Coffee is a new one for percolators or French pots.

Try a pound of our coffee cut on a royal mill and we know you will be pleased with the results.
