

UNVEILING OF PHIL. SHERIDAN MONUMENT

STATUE IN MEMORY OF AMERICA'S GREATEST CAVALRYMAN.

The picture shows the fine equestrian statue erected in Washington in honor of General Phil Sheridan, the famous cavalry leader of the civil war. It was designed by Gutson Borglum, the sculptor who is furnishing so many colossal statues for the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York.

Nov. 25.—With military splendor, an heroic general Philip Henry Sheridan was unveiled in this city President of the United States of the cabinet, members of the United States army and of the regular army and of the United States bluejackets from the assembled as a tribute to the soldier of the Civil War. The statue was displayed for the first time in the work of Gutson Borglum, who represents General Sheridan, his steed being in a position of action standing placidly as if so many of the equestrian of this city.

The military parade was headed by General J. Franklin Bell, chief of Staff of the Army, with General P. Duval, as his chief aide. The 13th Cavalry, the 4th Battery of Field Artillery, the 17th, 44th, 45th and 104th Coast Artillery, Companies E and H, of the United States Engineers, Batteries D and E of the 3rd Field Artillery, the 15th Cavalry, 4

FOUR THOUSAND DOLLARS MORE MUST BE RAISED

With all large subscriptions raised, the Y. M. C. A. fund at the noon report today had reached the total sum of $45,830. No reserves were left on the hands of any of the sub-committees. I. B. Rhodes stated that this entire sum would have to be raised by "hard bucking" through the small subscriptions. With this much raised, there is to be gathered in during this afternoon and evening, up to 10 o'clock, $4170.

While the workers at the noon luncheon were jubilant at the success so far, it was duly impressed upon them that the hardest effort is required to complete the full $50,000 by 10 o'clock tonight.

For this reason any who may have held off until the last hours of the campaign are requested to telephone their pledges to headquarters. Telegrams are being sent to different places today by the enthusiastic captains and their workers. One was sent to California, and a response is expected this evening. Many are also expected to increase their original pledges.

For today's work the city was divided into four sections by East Eleventh and West Eighth streets and Willamette street, which run through the whole breadth and width of the city. The northwest district is in charge of Captains Wetherbee, Griffin and Wheeler, the southeast is in charge of Captains Dixon, Spencer, Straub, Dunn and Eaton, the northeast is in charge of Captains Bingham, Howe and DeNeffe, and the southwest is in charge of Captains Hull, Shelley and Hug.

Later reports this afternoon indicate that during this evening about $2000 will have to be raised. At 8 o'clock there will be the second meeting of the day for the captains and their teams. If the sum is not raised by that time, work will be continued until 10 o'clock. Reports of teams on today's work were as follows:

No. 1, $330; No. 2, $1000; No. 3, $252; No. 4, $105; No. 5, $286.25; No. 6, $330; No. 7, $255; No. 8, $428; No. 10, $253; No. 11, $140; No. 12, $107.80; No. 13, $20; No. 14, $15; No. 15, $40; No. 16, $50; No. 17, $66; No. 19, $40.62; No. 20, $58; executive committee, $2528; total, $6310.42.

OVER HUNDRED LIVES LOST WITH STEAMSHIP

Valetta Island, Malta, Nov. 25.—Nearly 200 passengers and crew of the Ellerman line steamer Sardinia are believed to have perished today when the steamer was destroyed by fire just after it had sailed for Alexandria, Egypt. The Sardinia was scarcely a mile off Grand Harbor when the first sign of fire appeared, but with a strong wind fanning the flames the whole ship was soon ablaze and the passengers and crew had but little chance to save themselves. There were wild scenes on board as the flames drove the passengers to the rails. Many of the excited ones jumped into the sea before the boats were lowered. Others were trapped by the flames and roasted or smothered to death without a chance for their lives.

Several tugs and other small vessels went to the assistance of the doomed steamer, but owing to the heavy sea and gale it was impossible for them to approach and they could do very little in the way of aid.

The Sardinia left Liverpool November 14 with a cargo of general merchandise for Mediterranean ports and a crew of 44, with twenty first-class and six second-class passengers. Most of the other passengers who were taken on here were Levantines, Maltese and Egyptians.

The flames originated in the forehold, where a quantity of naphtha was stored.

The captain and crew stood nobly at their posts serving out life belts and doing everything possible to help the panic-stricken passengers, most of whom were Arab pilgrims. There were only eleven Europeans on board in a total passenger list of 151.

Up to 3 o'clock this afternoon fifty bodies had been brought ashore.

Seventy persons were rescued. The dead include 100 Arabs, five European passengers and eighteen of the crew. It is not impossible that others may be saved, as it is believed some are drifting about at sea, and a large fleet of small vessels is patrolling the vicinity.

SCHMITZ BONDSMAN

FAILS TO APPEAR

San Francisco, Nov. 25.—William J. Dingee, one of the bondsmen for former Mayor Schmitz, did not appear in court today for examination as to his qualifications to receive the bond for $400,000, given jointly by him and Thomas H. Williams to secure the release of Schmitz. The subpoena could not be served, and he was given until Monday to appear. It is thought that Dingee will be replaced on the bond.

Mr. and Mrs. George Barger went to Portland today.

The mayor is chairman and member of the board ex-officio and the remainder of the board consists of one man from each ward. After the passage of the ordinance the councilmen from each ward named their choice for members of the board and the mayor made the appointments accordingly. Those appointed were as follows: P. D. The mayor and city recorder at once signed the ordinance and it became effective at that time, as it contained an emergency clause.

Offers a Substitute.

Before the ordinance came up for its final passage, Councilman Williams offered a substitute which provided for the appointment of the board at the present time, all the members to hold office until the city election next spring, when the terms of each should expire, and the people should elect the board at that time. The substitute was voted down. The ordinance that was passed provides for the appointment of a board by the mayor, one member's term to expire next April, his successor to be elected at that time, and the term of one member to expire at each succeeding annual election.
