WASHINGTON
WINS NORTHWEST
CHAMPIONSHIP
Administers Crushing Defeat to Oregon Agricultural Eleven

The University of Wash-ton holds undisputed title to the football championship of the Pacific Northwest. The Washington State College team might dispute Washington's claim because of having played the Seattle team a tie game were it not for the fact that Pullman is hardly entitled to consideration in view of its performances against the other Northwestern colleges. Pullman had a hard time scoring 4 points against Whitman yesterday, and her previous experience against Idaho practically annuls whatever claim the Washington Aggies might have put forth. The showing made by the University of Oregon entitled Coach Forbes' players to second place. The intercollegiate football season in the Northwest ended yesterday.

Seattle, Nov. 26.—Before the biggest crowd that has witnessed a football game in Seattle this year, the University of Washington cleared its title to the Northwest championship today by defeating the Oregon Agricultural College team by a score of 32 to 9.
While the score may be too large to indicate accurately the comparative strength of the two teams, Washington was clearly entitled to every point she made, and, as a matter of fact, came within a hair of scoring two more touchdowns, Oregon holding on her one-yard line.

The day and field were ideal. The grandstand and bleachers were filled half an hour before the kick-off, and something like 100 automobiles were standing at the end of the field.
Denny Field, on which the game was played, was always dry, and the ground was lightning fast, eminently suited for open play. As a consequence, long runs were much in evidence.
Washington Shows Better.
Washington showed superiority at all stages of the game. Hahn had the advantage over Wolf in punning by a few yards on each kick. In addition, Hahn got his kicks higher, giving his ends plenty of time to get down. The Washington ends nailed the recipient of a punt in his tracks time after time, while Oregon's punts were always returned from 5 to 15 yards. Washington was stronger, both on offense and defense, than the visitors. There was a finish to her open plays that did not show with the Oregonians. Washington handled the forward pass beautifully, although she did not use it a great deal.

For 20 minutes in the first half Oregon was unable to do anything at all at carrying the ball.
Later, however, the visitors made better headway against the Washington defense and at the close of the half had carried the ball about 100 yards to Washington's 325.

OREGON WINS
FROM MULTNOMAH
IN HARD GAME

Portland, Nov. 27.—Outgeneraled in the first half, outplayed toward the end of the second half, and outkicked throughout the game by the clever and agile football eleven of the University of Oregon, the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club team went down to defeat for the third successive time on Multnomah Field in the annual Thanksgiving Day game yesterday afternoon. The final score of 10 to 9 was made possible by the splendid punting of Dudley Clark, the accuracy of Fred Moulten's good kicking, and the quickness of Lester Means, the freshman center of the University of Oregon team.
The game was the occasion for the gathering of a large crowd, and, while the attendance was not so large as at the Oregon-A. C. game last Saturday, the enthusiasm was almost as great and the game much more spectacular. This was so because of the practically dry field, the many punts and running returns.

Club Men Are Tired Out.
The varsity went into the game with its usual spirit, and, while it did not expect to win so easily, nevertheless the players used all their ingenuity in carrying out the different formations. The boys had been coached to hold Multnomah down and not to extend themselves in the first half. In this manner they hoped to tire the clubmen out and eventually succeeded in doing so, for after showing a flash of speed early in the second half, the heavyweights of Multnomah lost ground steadily until Oregon was rewarded by a touchdown and a goal from the field.
Multnomah apparently outplayed the collegians in the earlier part of the game, but it afterwards developed that the Oregon men had simply saved themselves for the second half. Little Earl Latourette, who was afterward knocked out and had to be carried from the field, was the star in the first half. He ran back punts in the most effective manner, often eluding the Multnomah tacklers. His many friends will be glad to know that his injuries are merely superficial and that he is able to be about.

Washington Put Off Field.
The game was an unfortunate incident whereby Pilkington, one of Multnomah's most reliable players, was ruled off the field for alleged rough work. The play which resulted in the injury was an unavoidable accident. Pilkington had received a punt and was charging down the field toward the Oregon goal, when Louis Pinkham, the Oregon tackler, blocked his progress. Instead of running at Pilkington, and tackling him low, as is usually Pinkham's custom, he stood in his tracks with arms outspread. Pilkington, who is a heavy man, hit Pinkham hard, and, according to the ruling of Field Judge Hahn, Pilkington's tactics were unclean for. Despite the ruling of the officials, their decision in ordering Pilkington out of the game was too severe, for it seems hardly possible that as conscientious a player as he would deliberately try to cripple an opponent.

Coach Forbes and the Oregon men upheld the decision of Hahn, while President McMillan and the Multnomah men are equally positive that the offense, if such was committed, was not intentional. In the opinion of the writer, Pinkham made a very poor tackle, something that he can scarcely be charged with. Aside from this unpleasant incident, the game was free from dispute and petty squabbling, so frequently seen on the sidelines in games where the rivalry is as intense as was noticeable yesterday.

Dodson's Work Is Feature.
Aside from the punting of Clark and the place-kicking of Moulten, the phenomenal work of Dodson, the Baker City boy playing left end for Oregon, was the feature of the game.
Time after time this gritty little player succeeded in breaking up the plays of the heavy Multnomah backs, and his work in running down punts was one of the finest performances seen on Multnomah Field this year.
He seems to be the only Oregon man able to stop the clever and agile Stott on the latter's returns of punts.
The work of Stott was his finest exhibition in many seasons, for the clever Multnomah captain repeatedly dodged five and six Oregon players in his returns. Between Dodson and Stott the honors are about even, for both proved themselves valuable men both on offense and defense. The younger naturally comes in for the greater praise, as this is his first year on the Oregon team.

TELLS PEOPLE
HOW TO MAKE
MIXTURE

"The people here do not drink enough water to keep healthy," exclaimed a well-known authority.
"The numerous cases of kidney and bladder diseases and rheumatism are mainly due to the fact that the drinking of water, nature's greatest medicine, has been neglected.
Stop loading your system with medicines and cure-alls; but get on the water wagon. If you are really sick, why of course, take the proper medicines—plain common, vegetable treatment, which will not shatter the nerves or ruin the stomach." To cure Rheumatism you must make the kidneys do their work; they are filters of the blood. They must be made to strain out of the blood the waste matter and acids that cause rheumatism; the urine must be neutralized, so it will no longer be a source of irritation to the bladder, and most of all, you must keep these acids from forming in the stomach. This is the cause of stomach trouble and poor digestion.
For these conditions you can do no better than take the following prescription: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Mix by shaking well in bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime, but don't forget the water.
Drink plenty and often.
This valuable information and simple prescription should be posted up in each household and used at the first sign of an attack of rheumatism, backache or urinary trouble, no matter how slight.
