THE ARTIST TRIO IN EUGENE TONIGHT

Miss Agnes Doyle, the "Colleen Bawn" of the Lyceum

Making up a first-class concert company with few people is always one of the hardest tasks that we have to do. This season we feel we have really organized the best trio that we have ever presented to the public. Miss Doyle is not only a reader, but is "something different" in the line of entertainment. Her "Mr. Dooley" sketches and other programs have been received by all audiences with great signs of approval. Professor P. M. Pearson, editor of "Talent," says of Miss Doyle:

"I am happy to say I know her art very well and am happy to commend it. Miss Doyle is an interpreter of literature, not a reciter of verses nor a diletant model. When I call her an interpreter of literature, I do not mean to say that she tries to rest the etymology of a word into every inflection of her voice. Her reading throbs with pulsating life, whether it be the emotions of sorrow, joy, patriotism or laughter. I have never heard her equal in presenting the best Irish stories. There is no suggestion of the melodramatic Irishman that we see on the stage; her characters are simply sincere, genuine, and presented with consummate art. Besides her dramatic sense, skill and artistic finish, Miss Doyle has a charming personality, a strength, ease and winsomeness that is as indescribable as it is delightful. There is no young reader of my acquaintance whom I can recommend more unreservedly."

In company with Miss Doyle we have placed Miss Flora McGill, contralto and pianist, soloist in one of the leading churches in Chicago, a lady of splendid personality, beautiful voice and unusual musicianship. The third member of the company is Miss Blanche Deering, who is today noted among America's most finished artists, both on the piano and the violin. Notwithstanding the almost universal opinion of musicians that two such difficult instruments as piano and violin made a combination so rarely attempted as to be almost unknown among soloists, Miss Deering determined to show no favor to either instrument until she had placed them on an equality that could not be denied by the most skeptical. That she has done so her many testimonials will testify. The program played by the trio of artists will be unusual, including readings, contralto solos, violin solos, piano solos and duets, and contralto solos with violin obligato. These three charming girls will tour from coast to coast the coming season, and we are sure will be given a welcome such as few companies have had. They will be prepared to give a number of different kinds of programs, one of which will feature Irish literature in song and story.

This is the second number of the Buccell course, and the entertainment will be given at the Central Presbyterian church tonight.

OFFICERS GOT WRONG MAN FOR THEORIN

Albany, Or., Nov. 26.—A report reached this city last evening that Theorin, the supposed murderer, was at a farm in Benton county, nine miles west of Albany, and officers made a hurried trip only to find that Deputy Sheriff Hucksby, of Portland, and ex-Sheriff I. A. Munkers, of Albany, who has been engaged to search with the Portland officers, hastened to the place and captured the man suspected. He failed to answer the description of Theorin in many ways and was at once released.

BURGLARS OPERATE AT HARRISBURG

Harrisburg, Or., Nov. 26.—Jake Marguth's blacksmith shop was entered last night and several tools were stolen. The postoffice was also entered. Postmaster Morris says he has missed nothing except a third of a box of cigars which were in a show case close to the front window. Scott & Jones' place was also entered, $5 in cash being secured. It is thought to be the work of hoboes.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS

Cecelia Loftus is making a great hit in vaudeville in London.

Amelia Bingham is winning laurels in presenting "Big Moments From Big Plays"

Fuji-Ko, the Japanese pantomimic dancer, playing in New York, is about to publish a book on the folk lore of Japan.

William Jerome and Jean Schwartz the song writers, have gone on the stage in a vaudeville skit entitled, "Words and Music," which is meeting with success.

Manager Augustus Pitou has postponed the opening of Chauncey O'cott's annual engagement in New York to Easter Monday, April 12. The comedian will be seen in his new play, "Ragged Robin."

Fanny Ward and part of her company who are to play "Fannie and the Servant Problem," are on their way to the United States and will open their engagement in New York during the holidays.

Charles Frohman, who is now in Paris, has called his New York office that he has obtained the English speaking stage-rights to "Israel," Henri Bernstein's latest drama, which has created a sensation in Europe.

"Yosemite," a new romantic psychic problem drama drawn by Charles A. Taylor, has been put in rehearsal by the Shuberts and will shortly go on tour, playing in the principal Shubert theatres throughout the country.

Maude Odell, the winner of the Sandow gold medal for the most perfect form in Europe began her New York engagement recently and met with great success. The principal feature of her acting consists in the liberal display of her charms.

"The Raven," founded on Edgar Allan Poe's poem of the same name, will soon be produced, with Henry Ludlowe in the leading role. The play was written by George C. Hazelton, who wrote "Mistress Nell," Julia Ashton will play the leading woman's part.

Sir Charles Wyndham, the celebrated English actor, is appearing in London at present in a new play entitled "Bellamy the Magnificent," which is meeting with unusual success. There is some probability that the play will soon be presented in the United States.

"Sergeant Devil McCaro," is the name of Andrew Mack's new play. He is seen as Sergeant O'Brien of the Can. Clan mounted police, a dashing and picturesque character, that strongly appeals to the audience. Mr. Mack is still on the road, but will soon present his play in New York.

"The World and His Wife," in which William Faversham is now playing, is taken from the Spanish. It is built around the story that one can stop a railroad train or change the current of a stream, but that one cannot stop a woman's tongue. This feature is the basis of the complications of the play.

Henrietta Crossman has signed a contract to play in vaudeville under the management of Percy G. Williams. Miss Crossman has selected a new one-act play, in which she plays the star part, peculiarly well adapted to her style of acting. She will soon make her first appearance at the Colonial, New York.

De Wolf Hopper, completely recovered from his recent injuries and will appear soon in "The Pied Piper," the musical comedy by Austin Strong and R. H. Barnside, at the Majestic Theatre, New York. The cast includes, in addition to Mr. Hopper, a number of clever actors and singers, among them William and Grace Cameron.

THE IRVING GRANGE IN SPLENDID SHAPE

New Members Being Taken in At Every Meeting—Many Pioneers Belong

(Special Correspondence.)

Irving, Nov. 25.—Irving grange was organized March 10, 1908, with 45 charter members. C. J. Hurd was elected worthy master; E. A. Bond, secretary; A. Ward, overseer; W. R. Wing, lecturer; Ed Zumwalt, chaplain; Mrs. Edward Zumwalt, treasurer; Paul Zumwalt, steward; Mrs. Ed Bond, assistant steward. The grange now numbers about eighty. Many of these grangers are among the oldest pioneers of Oregon. We will mention a few of them. A. J. Zumwalt, I. N. Hembree, Isaac Bond and L. Lemmon. Mr. Lemmon is a pioneer of 1845 and we doubt if any other grange in the state has an earlier pioneer than this.

The grange meets twice each month—the second Friday evening and the last Saturday of each month. The Saturday meeting is usually an all-day meeting, beginning at 10 a. m. Nearly every regular meeting has been crowded with the work of taking in new members, to the exclusion of most other work. At the last meeting, Friday evening, October 11, several new members were initiated and during recess an oyster supper was given the new members and uncle Jack Zumwalt entertained the grange with an instrumental solo.

One of the strong features of the Saturday meetings is the dinner given by the ladies of the grange.

The Irving grange expects to take up quite a number of subjects to study and discuss during the winter. At the October meeting (Saturday) the good roads problem came up for discussion. The subject was assigned to J. M. Day, followed by A. J. Zumwalt, Mr. Wing, Mr. Lemmon and others. The subject of drainage and irrigation was assigned to Ed Zumwalt.

Miss Mary Day read a paper on "How to Beautify and Make Attractive the School House and Grounds." Mrs. Ed Bond read a paper on "Select Reading." At the next Saturday meeting A. J. Zumwalt will tell us something about "The Origin and Meaning of Thanksgiving Day," and Miss Nida Wing will give a select reading. Lynn Zumwalt will have charge of the music. Worthy Master Hurd will give a talk on matters of interest to the grange.

ENDORSES SMELTER FOR GOLD CREEK

Albany, Or., Nov. 26.—The Albany Commercial Club last evening enthusiastically endorsed the proposition of the Wilson-Gadsden Company, of Portland, to erect a big smelter in the Gold Creek mining district in the North Santiam country. The matter has been presented to the club by Paul T. Gadsden, of Portland, and a committee appointed to investigate the matter submitted a report of strong endorsement last evening, which was adopted.

TRAIN STRUCK BY BARN IN TORNADO

Stevens Point, Wis., Nov. 26.—A two-minute tornado which struck this place last night, did damage to the extent of about $30,000.

A passenger train was struck by a barn which the wind had carried through the air. The engine cab was demolished and the fireman severely cut. Many persons were cut and bruised.
